Britons Greet Arms Party

Secretary Stimson Closeted With MacDonald Soon After Arrival

Official Welcome at Plymouth Followed by Quick Trip to Parley City

LONDON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Cordially welcomed to England at Plymouth at dawn today, Secretary of State Stimson hastened to London by fast train with the American delegation to the naval disarmament conference and went at once to No. 10 Downing street, official residence of Prime Minister MacDonald.

For more than three hours Col. Stimson remained closeted with the British Prime Minister, but he was silent about the significance of their talk.

Beyond saying that the talk was "pleasant" and not interrupted except by "a nice cup of the Prime Minister's tea," he offered no information about it and successfully parried the efforts of journalists of all nations, whom he received tonight, to find out what really passed over the teacups between America's chief delegate to the five-power conference and the head of the British government. It was the longest preconference meeting yet held in London.

MEETING TODAY

At noon tomorrow Secretary Stimson will lead the American delegation to pay its formal respects to Mr. MacDonald at Downing street. Then he hopes to rest at his country place in Middlesex county, near London.

Tentative arrangements have been made for him to meet Premier Tardieu of France and Foreign Minister Grandi of Italy on Sunday, but unless the Japanese take the initiative, Secretary Stimson will not meet them again before the conference, considering that the conversations in Washington were complete and satisfactory until the delegations are actually assembled around the conference table.

HISTORIC SPOT

It was a long and tiresome, but [illegible] day for Secretary Stimson and his party of nearly 200, who disembarked in the rosy dawn of an unusually mild winter morning in Plymouth Harbor, close by the spot whence the pilgrim ship Mayflower sailed for America.

After a brief welcoming ceremony on the quay, where the Mayor of Plymouth, in scarlet robes and attended by mace-bearers, greeted them, the Americans boarded one of the finest trains of salon cars England could assemble, and sped to London through the green English countryside. Over Dartmoor and into the heart of Devon, the wheels rolled past a never-ending succession of hedges, green lanes

Will Rogers Remarks:

"LONDON, Jan. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Say, this sinking conference is already a success. The American delegation arrived this afternoon and went into conference at once at the American bar and sunk a fleet of schooners without warning. They brought eighteen young typewriters with 'em, that's four and a half blonds to the delegate, and I can write in long hand left-handed, everything that will be done here in the next month. But say, the blonds cleaned up. Nobody looked at a delegate. They even brought some marines on the boat to show it was a peace conference. Tomorrow I lunch at the embassy with Mr. Dawes and we will see if we can dig out some information and see if Joe Robinson can get in.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

DEAD CHICK, STILL ALIVE, CELEBRATES

Tissue Cut from Heart of Fowl Eighteen Years Ago Continues to Grow

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (Exclusive) A bit of chicken tissue cut from the heart of a chicken embryo by Dr. Carrell in 1912, survived its eighteenth birthday at the Rockefeller Institute today. The tissue is still alive, it was said at the institute this afternoon, and the experiment is still going on. Since the process of cellular subdivision takes place every two days, the cells now present in the tissue trace their ancestry back through 3276 generations to the original cells.

Because of the notoriety which became attached to the experiment and of the annual celebration in the newspapers of the birthday of the tissue, it is becoming increasingly retiring with advancing age and details of its progress now are being reported only to its intimate friends, the readers of the Journal of Medicine.

Court Upheld in Procedure

Lessors Need Not be Party to Suits With Operators, High Tribunal Says

Superior Bench Authorized to Try Cases Involving Oil Production

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—Efforts to stop waste of natural gas in Southern California oil fields received support from the State Supreme Court today in a decision authorizing the Superior Court of Los Angeles county to proceed with suits to restrain operators of oil wells from wasting gas.

The action was brought in the lower court by the Ambassador Petroleum Company and a group of other operators, but was stopped when the defendants sought to have their lessors made parties to the suit. The lower court refused the plea and an appeal was taken to the State high court on the ground the Superior Court exceeded its jurisdiction in assuming to proceed without bringing in the lessors.

WRIT DENIED

The appeal also sought a writ of prohibition preventing the lower court from hearing the cases. This writ was denied in today's ruling.

The contention was made by the operators that if they obey regulations regarding the conservation of natural gas they will be subjected to lawsuits brought by their lessors to cancel leases on the ground the lessees are not producing oil and gas with due diligence.

In reply the court said the leases contain the implied convenant the lessees shall use the property lawfully.

LESSORS NOT ACCUSED

"When the purpose and effect of the gas conservation statute of this State are considered," the Supreme Court held, "we are unable to say that the presence of the lessors in the pending action is necessary to a complete determination of the controversy. They are not charged with any violation of the law. The lessees have possession of the property and complete control of production operations and when coercive obedience to the State's program of conservation is enjoined upon them by appropriate court action the controversy would seem to be fully determined.

"There is nothing in the record to convince us the issues tendered and joined in the pending action may not as effectually be determined in the absence of the lessors as in their presence and without legal prejudice to them."

Constitutionality of the statute on conservation has not yet been tested, but the court said that factor is not an issue in the case ruled upon.

ONE-TIME ENEMIES IN PEACE PLEA

Envoys of World War's Victors and Vanquished Blend Voices in Meet

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Two women, representing victor and vanquished in the World War, told 500 delegates at the closing session of the cause and cure of war conference today how French and German teachers are co-operating on textbooks which emphasize peace instead of war.

"Young people of 20 in France, even those who lost parents in the conflict, have almost forgotten the war," Mme. Marie-Louise Puech said. "We must educate them along peace lines instead of war.

"Fortunately French teachers can reject textbooks they do not like, so books that invest war with too much glamour do not find their way into the schools."

Mme. Puech said that 90 per cent of the French people now favor peace.

Frau Dorothee Von Velsen of Germany made a plea for better understanding of the German people, and said it had been hard to keep up their courage in the face of the heavy reparations demanded.

Resolutions tonight pledged the 12,000,000 women represented by the 500 delegates to the conference to work for demobilization of the war system with the idea of replacing it with peace machinery.

Cantonese Navy Drives Rebels Out of Hoihow

CANTON, Jan. 18. (Saturday) (AP) The Cantonese navy has driven the anti-Nanking forces from Hoihow, chief post of the Island of Hainan, and has occupied the city. The British sloop Magnolia reported by radio that all is quiet and that there has been no interference with foreigners.

The rebels, described in some dispatches as Communists, captured the city on the 15th inst., and were reported to have looted and slain in a manner that caused much disorder. The American destroyer Macleish made a quick run from Swatow to protect the fifteen Americans living in Hoihow.

Drys Ready for Show-down

Senate Prohibition Leaders Answer Blaine Call for Vote on Repeal

Move Given Commendation as Courageous Way to Meet Problem

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Suddenly uniting, Senate drys served notice today that they are ready for a vote on the challenge of Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

The prohibitionists, who have given scant heed to attacks on the law by the wets since the Eighteenth Amendment went into effect ten years ago, accepted Blaine's proposition as meeting the issue. They are fully confident of having the votes to win.

"I am ready to vote," said Senator Borah of Idaho, "and I think it might be well to have Congress go on record and make it clear that this amendment is there to stay."

READY FOR POLL

There seems to be little likelihood of a vote before the tariff contest is ended some time next month, however.

One after another the Senate drys revealed they are ready to vote on Senator Blaine's proposition. He in turn said he will call up his proposal whenever the involved Senate tariff debate permits.

The resolution for repeal is now with the Judiciary Committee. Chairman Norris said he is willing to have it taken up by his committee whenever the Wisconsin member desires.

Senator Blaine said he has no delusions about the Senate situation and accepts the predictions of the drys that his resolution will be voted down.

"But I want Congress on record," he said. "If they want this amendment to stay on the books, then let them enforce it."

PROPOSAL COMMENDED

Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, the administration dry spokesman, said Blaine's proposition is "the courageous way to meet this issue and I am ready to vote on it."

Senator Sheppard, Democrat, Texas, asserted "nothing so represents the hopelessness of the wet cause as the prospect in Congress for this amendment."

Meanwhile, over in the House the organized wet group was seeking to centralize its efforts in behalf of a campaign for modification of the dry law. Representative Sirovich, Democrat, New York, hammered away for modification on the floor.

Sirovich, a member of the American College of Surgeons, demanded the substitution of emetics for poison in industrial alcohol, and called also for a Congressional inquiry of administration of the dry law in New York. He estimates 100,000 speakeasies are running there.

Referring to the recent plea of Bishop Cannon of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for $200,000,000 for dry enforcement, the New Yorker said: "If that is the toll to enforce prohibition, I would rather use it to pension every father and mother who has grown old in labor in this country when the curtain of life is about to fall."

WEARY OF SOB STUFF

Chairman Wood of the Appropriations Committee, said in the House that he is "tired of all this maudlin sympathy" for rum-runners who are shot down while violating the law.

Replying to Representative Schafer, Republican, Wisconsin, who expressed the opinion that more attention should be given to the "life-saving" functions of the Coast Guard than to its "life-taking" activities, Wood asserted that more lives were saved last year by the Coast Guard than ever before.

The exchange came during debate on the Treasury-Postoffice supply bill which would provide $32,000,000 for the Coast Guard.

By unanimous consent on the request of Representative La Guardia, Republican wet of New York, the House agreed today to defer action on the $15,000,000 section of the Treasury-Postoffice Department annual supply bill for prohibition enforcement.

PILOTS GET BLAME FOR AIR CRASHES

Human Element Reported Greatest Accident Cause in Federal Flying Survey

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—The human element again has been found to be the greatest cause of aircraft accidents.

Clarence M. Young, assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aeronautics, in making public today the Federal accident report on civil aviation for the first six months of 1929 said that 59.04 per cent of accidents were laid to personnel.

Maj. Young noted a marked increase in the number of miles flown for each accident in civil aeronautics. In the six-month period for all classes of civil flying there was one fatal accident for every 442,430 miles flown. For the like period in 1928 there was one fatal accident for each 169,944 miles flown. Accidents decreased in percentage in face of the fact that a total of 56,201,338 miles was flown by civil aircraft, more than three times as much as during the first six months of 1928.

In scheduled air transport operations, in which aircraft carry passengers, mail or express on scheduled service over regularly established routes, there was only one fatal accident for each 1,022,371 miles flown, where, in 1928, only 896,822 miles were flown for each fatal accident.

Power plant failures cause 18.08 per cent of accidents. Airplane structural failures contributed 8.80 per cent and miscellaneous, including weather and darkness, 9.35 per cent.

Taft Declines to be Invalid

ASHEVILLE (N. C.) Jan. 17. (AP)—William Howard Taft, Chief Justice of the United States and its twenty-seventh President, declines to consider himself a sick man, although sent here by his physician for rest and recuperation.

The Chief Justice made this clear today as he abandoned his prescribed routine of absolute quiet, broken only by automobile rides, to take a short walk about the countryside.

CHURCH CURBS BRIDAL AIRS

Bay City Archbishop Bars Secular Songs Long Identified With Hymeneal Ceremonies

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—Elimination of the melodies "Oh, Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly," among others, from all Catholic Church wedding ceremonies in the San Francisco diocese is contained in a mandate sent to the churches by Archbishop Hanna prior to his departure for Rome to make his quinquennial report to Pope Pius XI, it became known today.

The notice calls attention to a desire on the part of the church to return to the religious melodies of history, steadily being supplanted by the more modern trend. A committee was appointed to consider the situation, the notice avers, and as a result of the recommendations "we direct our clergy to carry into effect the proscriptions contained therein that the ancient music, too long, unhappily, ousted by modern and unworthy substitutes, may again take its place in the public worship of our church in our archdiocese."

The edict specifically mentions the melodies named above as objectionable.

Archbishop Hanna is en route to Rome. In addition to making his regular report to the Pope he will ordain his nephew, Clark Hanna of Rochester, N. Y. Reports that the archbishop will be elevated to the Cardinalate while in Rome were said by his secretary to be without foundation.

Fighting Plane Excels in Speed and Climbing

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—Boeing System officials today announced perfection of an airplane which can cruise at 200 miles an hour and attain an altitude of six miles, described as the world's fastest fighting plane.

The ship is known as Model 100 and is said to be twenty-five miles an hour faster than any other ship produced in quantity and is capable of engaging in tactical maneuvers at 25,000 feet, or two miles higher than the bulk of the World War aerial battles. Final tests now are under way on two ships of the same model at San Diego and Seattle.

Hawks Wrecks Ship in Take-Off

WEST PALM BEACH (Fla.) Jan. 17. (AP)—Capt. Frank Hawks, aviator and holder of the coast-to-coast nonstop flight record, wrecked his record-making plane and badly damaged three other ships at Roosevelt Field here today in attempting to take off for New York.

Hawks was not injured, but two occupants of the machine were. Hal P. Henning of Houston, Tex., received a broken arm, and P. J. Calusen of New York, mechanic, had several ribs broken.

Hawks came here from the all-American air meet at Miami yesterday. He said he was flying "blind" when the accident occurred.

'OLD SOAK' DISGRACES HIMSELF

Stimson's Parrot Gets Shut Up in Basement for Unseemly Language

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—"The Old Soak," Secretary Stimson's parrot, has gone into retirement and disgrace, not that he has psittacosis, or "parrot's fever," but because he talked too much.

The Old Soak was moved to the pleasant patio of the Pan-American Building when Mr. Stimson departed for the London conference. Already a linquist of parts, speaking Chinese and Spanish, the widely known parrot picked up English rapidly and began to yell affably to visitors, "Good morning!" For a few days he was a special attraction, but gradually fell from public favor.

Instead of talking less, he talked more, and it is rumored that he began to use liberally profanity he picked up during his days in the Philippines. Guides complained that the Old Soak's ranting drowned out their voices as they ushered tourists through the building.

The Old Soak was moved today to the basement.

Ishbel Helps Launch Vessel

BIRKENHEAD (Eng.) Jan. 17. (AP) Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of the Prime Minister, saying "I christen you Prince Henry and wish you and the Canadian National Railways all good luck," today successfully launched the first of three new Canadian National steamships that will go into the Pacific Coast service this summer.

The Prince Henry will ply between Vancouver and Prince Rupert and the Alaskan ports. The other two steamers, the Prince David and the Prince Robert, for the Vancouver-Victoria and Seattle service, will be launched in the near future.

STORM TOLL INCREASES

Wyoming Fears for Missing

Numerous Persons Known to be Killed or Marooned in Ice-covered Areas

Temperatures Slide Down to 55 Below at Some Places in General Blizzard

CASPER (Wyo.) Jan. 17. (AP)—More than a score of persons are unaccounted for late today, all of them believed to be lost along Wyoming's highways in the severest winter the State has experienced in the last quarter century.

Because of paralyzed communication facilities fears are held that many others, among them sheep herders employed by Wyoming's vast ranches, may have become lost with their flocks. Aside from communication with the more populous centers Casper is out of touch with the rest of the State.

A party of six men, among them Martin Cahill, president of the United Mine Workers' Union of Wyoming, are unaccounted for somewhere between Rock Springs and Superior. They left Superior last night.

An interstate bus, operating between Salt Lake City and Wyoming points, is unreported, while two other busses, lost for a time in the raging blasts that overtook the State last night and early today, have been found and their occupants taken to safety.

A twelve-inch snowfall is general over Wyoming and motor travel has been virtually tied up by drifts.

Reports here late today indicated that temperatures in some sections of Wyoming had dropped so low that recording instruments were broken or failed to function. A few points recorded 42 deg. below zero, at which time the machines ran off the chart.

From Rock Springs came a report that seven sheep herders are known to be lost in the Red Desert country.

Overheated stoves caused fires to break out in some towns and brought death to two persons today. At Sunrise a mother and her 4-year-old daughter died of burns suffered when their home was damaged by a fire that started from an overheated stove. Another daughter, 10, is in the Wheatland Hospital severely burned. It is believed she cannot live. Another fire occurred at Dayton, twenty miles from Sheridan, where children were marched safely out of a burning schoolhouse, and the other at Edgerton, forty-five miles north of Casper, where overheated oil exploded.

The body of an unidentified man, who had been frozen to death, was found today near a ranch on the Anaconda - Phillipsburg highway in Montana. The body was found by Peter Schmidt, a ranch hand.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN AREA HIT BY BLIZZARD

DENVER, Jan. 17. (AP)—Extreme low temperatures rode into the Rocky Mountain West last night on a howling blizzard and little relief was forecast tonight by the Weather Bureau. Snow was predicted tonight for New Mexico and Northeastern Arizona, and a severe cold wave is clamping icy fingers on Colorado, New Mexico and half of Arizona.

Temperature records of twenty-five and thirty years' standing were broken in Colorado, and the gale at times attained a velocity of seventy miles an hour. New Mexico experienced temperatures at some places of 18 deg. below zero, a figure almost unprecedented for the State. Stockmen have been warned to guard against continued cold.

LARGE SECTION SUFFERS IN COLD WAVE

CHICAGO, Jan. 17. (Exclusive) Winter was out smashing records for severity today and a large part of the United States suffered in the process. Arctic temperatures prevailed from the Continental Divide across the great plains region to the Mississippi Valley. With the mercury at 40 deg. below zero a blizzard struck the mountain States.

COLD WEATHER RECORD SET

Pacific Northwest Factories and Schools Close as Mercury Goes Lowest Ever Known There

SEATTLE, Jan. 17. (AP)—With the water supply cut off by freezing in at least three towns, schools closed because of inadequate heat in different localities and industries tied up on the Columbia, Willamette and Cowlitz rivers and in the Gray's Harbor area because of ice, new cold weather records for all time were reported today from various points in the Pacific Northwest. The cold wave is blamed for three deaths near Spokane.

Slight relief was forecast today by the Weather Bureau from the cold and freezing gales which reached a velocity of seventy-two miles an hour through the Strait of Juan de Fuca and fifty-five miles an hour over Gray's Harbor.

Miss Virginia Holcomb, 21 years of age, was killed when she walked in the path of a Great Northern train near Mead in a snowstorm, and Charles E. Campbell, engineer, and Louis Erickson, brakeman, were killed when a freight train was derailed near Lookout Mountain.

Frozen pipe lines have almost entirely cut off Everett's water supply and auxiliary pumps are being installed on the Pilchuck River. All mills are shut down but one in Everett and all but one school is closed. Schools also are closed at Woodland and at Davenport.

Frozen pipes cut off water in the town of Carbonado and residents were carrying water in pails today. The supply at Toledo is threatened by the freezing of springs and Kent is facing a water shortage.

The Willamette River was frozen over for the first time in a decade at Portland and the Columbia was frozen over for the first time on record at Stella and Oak Point. The Cowlitz was frozen over for a mile at its mouth near Kelso, halting all shipping.

A temperature of 20 deg. below zero was reported from Dayton, 25 below at Dryden, sixteen miles north of Wenatchee, and subzero weather is general in the eastern section. Five below in the south-

PRAIRIE MAIDEN IN OPERA DEBUT

Chicago Audience Applauds Kathleen Kersting

Critics Lavish in Praise of Wichita Girl

Her Studies Financed by Business Men

CHICAGO, Jan. 17. (AP)—Seventeen dolls arranged in neat little rows in a modest home of the Kansas prairie—one very little girl singing them songs of her own.

Then, and not so many years between—

Chicago's magnificent Opera House, many wide rows of real people and boxes for society's purple—the same but not quite so little girl in the dress of Marzellina pouring out her sadly misplaced love for the masquerading Fidelio.

And thus, the sweet strains of Beethoven ushered a voice from Kansas into the firmament of "names" tonight—Kathleen Kersting, Wichita.

The "subscription night" crowd—the Blue Book of Chicago's opera devotees—showered the young artist with applause and she was forced to take numerous curtain calls as the thunderous ovation continued. Critics were lavish in their applause.

At 10 years of age, Kathleen Kersting was singing in the choir of a church. At 13 she gave a concert at a theater.

STUDIES FINANCED

The great Calve appeared on a concert tour and was persuaded to hear the city's prodigy. A year later the child's mother took her to Paris and returned alone. Emma Calve began the task of molding a voice.

After three years the teacher announced she had taught Kathleen all she knew. The next training would have to be in languages and musical background.

But back in Wichita the Kersting family had reached the end of the savings that had supported Kathleen's studies. Instead of travels in Germany, Italy and the countries of musical training, Kathleen must return, unless—

The "unless" happened. Civic pride stirred a group of Wichita business men. The Rotary Club adopted Kathleen, career and all, and financed the remaining studies to make possible tonight's debut as a lyrico-spinto soprano with the Chicago Civic Opera Company.

For two years she studied with Italian voice teachers and mastered French, Italian, German and pronunciation of Russian. For dramatic art she received the instruction of a master at La Scala.

When Kathleen next returned to Wichita she was in time to catch the Chicago Opera Company on tour—several years ago. After an audition with Herbert M. Johnson, business manager, and Giorgio Polacco, musical director, she was encouraged to seek further training and return.

She returned from Berlin in 1929. A contract awaited her.

Kathleen's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kersting, were in the audience tonight. Richard Gray, Wichita hotel owner, who contributed much of his personal fortune toward the young singer's training—and who also hoped to hear her on the day of her success in America—died a year ago in California.

meter sank to 1 above zero at 7 p.m. and a further drop of eight or ten degrees is in prospect for tomorrow morning. In comparison with conditions down-State and beyond the Mississippi Chicago weather is mild.

The severest cold of the winter gripped Central and Southern Illinois. At Pana the mercury showed 6 below zero and a blinding snowstorm raged all day.

Subzero weather was the lot of all parts of Wisconsin. It was 4 below at Madison, 2 below at Milwaukee and 16 below at Eau Claire.

Heavy snowfalls occurred in Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas. Three inches was dumped on the foot of snow which has covered Kansas City for the last week. Heavy snow fell in St. Louis but that vicinity escaped the numbing cold which was prevalent elsewhere in the State.

Temperature records fell everywhere in the West, the extremity being reported at Basin, Mont., with a reading of 55 below zero. The mercury dropped to 10 below in the Texas Panhandle, 12 below in Oklahoma, 20 below in Kansas and 7 below in Missouri. In Oklahoma City the State Capitol was thrown open last night as a shelter for the homeless.

At Senator, S. D., the water supply of the State tubercular sanatorium was threatened when spring water stopped flowing as the temperature sank to 46 deg. below. A record of 42 below was reported at International Falls, Minn., on the Canadian boundary. It was 17 below in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

MAROONED GROUP IN ARIZONA NOW SAFE

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Jan. 17. (AP)—Seventeen persons who have been marooned for five days in a small shack sixteen miles north of here, were reported safe tonight by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hildreth, members of the snowbound party, who battled their way through drifts to reach here tonight.

Only a small sack of beans and a sack of flour were between the group and starvation, Hildreth said.

The sun shone for the first time today, Hildreth said, and those marooned were enabled to make their way to safety. Other travelers who were marooned on the road were straggling into Flagstaff tonight in twos and threes, many of them suffering from exposure and hunger, after battling their way through drifts varying in depth from five to ten feet.

SOUTH BATTLES FLOOD MENACE

St. Francis River Breaks Dikes in Arkansas

Fifty Families Forced to Seek Higher Ground

Mississippi's Levees Will Hold, Experts Report

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) Jan. 17. (AP)—The fight against high water in the Lower Mississippi Valley concentrated tonight on the St. Francis River, which flows through Southeast Missouri and Eastern Arkansas.

Already the stream has pushed four gaps in one stretch of its levee and workers are bolstering other embankments against a new rise in the upper reaches of the river.

Breaks occurred today in the dike which protected about 10,000 acres of farm and timber land in Greene county, Arkansas. The breaks occurred north of the town of Bertig and forced about fifty families to higher ground.

WORK IN SNOW

To the north levee crews worked in a snow storm to tie together stretches of old and new embankments near Holcomb, Mo., to combat a second rise in the river due to reach that section Sunday.

Meanwhile water pouring through a crevass in Big Lake in Northeast Arkansas is spreading over an area estimated at 170,000 acres into drainage ditches and subsidiary streams, eventually to find an outlet through the St. Francis, below Marked Tree, Ark.

At another focal point along Jackson's Bayou, near DeVall's Bluff, Ark., a government dredge and a crew of levee workers have before them the task of building up the embankment two feet to care for an anticipated stage of thirty-two feet. Along other streams in the Mid-South the situation tonight is reported improved with all dikes holding.

HELD WITHIN BANKS

In Mississippi the Cold Water river, which topped its levee at several places in Quitman county yesterday, is holding within its banks.

A crest of forty-five feet—flood stage—was forecast for Cairo, Ill., the junction-point of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. At New Madrid, the Mississippi was expected to go to thirty-six feet, two feet above flood stage. The peak of the high water is expected to reach Cairo by Monday.

United States Army engineers with supervision over Mississippi River levees declared all dikes capable of easily withstanding all of the water to come on the present rise.

BOATS USED TO RESCUE FLOOD-MAROONED HOOSIERS

VINCENNES (Ind.) Jan. 17. (AP)—Rescue parties with boats started from here this afternoon for Decker Chapel, a village fifteen miles to the southwest, which was reported to have been inundated by the breaking of a levee on White River.

There are twenty-five families in the village and fifteen had taken refuge on the second floor of a school building. The others were marooned in the upper floors of dwellings.

Breaking of the levee released a six-foot wall of water which swept over all of Decker township, in which the village of Decker Chapel is located. No loss of life is reported.

WIND HALTS RESCUE OF MAROONED FARMERS

DECKER (Ind.) Jan. 17. (AP)—A sharp north wind late tonight made a choppy sea of the area flooded by a levee break south of here today, and all efforts to rescue marooned farmers and their families were discontinued until tomorrow.

VOLCANO ASH SIFTS DOWN ON PORTLAND

PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 17. (AP)—Driven by a relentless east wind from the Cascade Range, volcanic ash as fine as talcum powder swept over Portland today, turned a white eighth-inch blanket of snow into a dusky hue and sifted through windows and door casings in volume most disconcerting to housewives.

At times the rain of lava dust assumed the proportions of a fall of discolored snow. Unless snow falls tomorrow Edward L. Wells, government meteorologist, said the dust will continue.

Reports received here indicate the dust blanket deposited east of the Cascades by the wind was thicker than west of the range. The dust originated, the Weather Bureau said, somewhere in the interior of the State.

and villages of thatched-roofed cottages. Where the tracks ran close to the seashore the waves not only broke into the picture, but over the train itself, splashing the windows of the cars.

When the special train arrived at Paddington at 2:15 p.m. the welcoming ceremonies were carried out by Foreign Secretary Henderson and First Lord of the Admiralty Alexander.

HENDERSON'S WELCOME

"Welcome to London," said Mr. Henderson in greeting to Secretary Stimson. "I hope your visit will be a very successful one."

The American Secretary of State barely waited to see his companion delegates leave for their hotels before he entered another automobile alone and rushed off to Downing street, where Premier MacDonald awaited him.

The London newspapers today seemed to get more thrills from the numerous American girls included in the delegation staff than from the naval problems confronting Great Britain and America. Their good looks and smartness of dress gained almost as much publicity as was devoted to the delegates themselves.

RETURNING PILGRIMS

Urged tonight to express his preconference viewpoint of the coming five-power sessions, Mr. Stimson repeated his reply to the Plymouth welcome that "we are Pilgrims returning to Plymouth with high hopes and earnest endeavor to make the conference a success."

It was evident the American delegation will do much listening and little talking until the conference begins.

"We understand the American delegation stands for principles of faith, hope and parity," said one interviewer.

"We are primed with all three," Secretary Stimson replied.

"And the greatest of these is parity," suggested another.

"Parity covers a multitude of sins," chirped a third.

Stimson laughingly surrendered before the avalanche of paraphrase and pleaded to be allowed to have his dinner and go to bed for a much-needed rest.

ITALY TO BE GUIDED BY ATTITUDE OF FRANCE

ROME, Jan. 17. (AP)—The Italian delegation to the London disarmament conference goes to England, as Foreign Minister Grandi has said, "with an open mind," but also with some fundamental bases for discussion.

The direction Italy's open mind will take will be to a large extent determined by the attitude of France. Except in some collateral conceptions of disarmament, in which Italy will support the United States, she will watch for France to move and then act accordingly.

Since the preliminary conference to which Italy had invited France did not take place, the disarmament differences of the two countries must be clarified at London.

Italy wants disarmament by land, sea and air.

Italy will support the United States on three points:

She heartily approves of President Hoover's idea of putting food ships in wartime in the same category as hospital ships, immune from attack.

She will agree to a postponement of battleship building programs. She does not want battleships and has not built any since 1912.

She will incline toward the abolition of submarines.

Italy has asked for parity of naval strength with France, not merely parity in the Mediterranean but total parity. She will insist on theoretical equality, although she may not build ships up to that mark, for financial or other reasons.

She wants this balance for two reasons, one geographic and the other commercial. As to the geographical reason Italy has 5000 miles of coastline to defend as against France's 1781 miles—not counting, of course, France's colonies. Italy's large cities are on the coast and she needs a fleet to protect them.

Commercially, Italy is greatly dependent on importations. Official figures are cited to show that Italy depends twice as much as France on maritime communications for the necessaries of life.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—Representative Crail of Los Angeles appeared before the House Committee on Military Affairs today to urge passage of his bills providing for a new wing to the hospital and woman's dormitory at Sawtelle.

The hospital measure provides for an additional 300 beds housed in a wing to be built on the present building. The estimated cost is $750,000. No action was taken on this item but the committee apparently was favorable to the project.

In accordance with an ancient custom regulating imperial marriages, Prince Takamatsu sent his prospective bride ceremonial court garments, a wooden fan, two casks of rice wine and a quantity of choice fish. The Tokugawa family, following the same custom, also sent wine and fish.

The wedding date has not yet been decided upon but probably will be some time in February. The imperial couple expect to leave Japan in April on a round-the-world wedding journey which will include a state visit to England. They plan to return by way of America, probably early in 1931.

Lindsey was to have appeared to defend his right to practice law in California. He was disbarred in Colorado when the Supreme Court found him guilty of violation of a law which prohibits a judge of a Court of Record from the practice of law. FAIR, COOL AND RISING STATIC

That's What Forecasts May Sound Like in Future

Radio Predictions Planned With Weather Bulletins

Pranks of Magnetic Storms Would Provide Data

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Static, that bane of dial twisters the world over, may be forecast.

Predictions, just like those for the weather, which would tell the radio listener what kind of reception to expect within a certain period, are now planned.

Prevalence of magnetic storms, which produce more or less serious static conditions, would be the basis for the forecasts.

DAILY REPORT PLANNED

A proposal that reports of daily magnetic disturbances be transmitted on short waves along with the weather forecasts and seismic activities is to be made next August at the Stockholm meeting of the section of terrestrial magnetism and electricity of the International Geodetic and Geophysical Society.

Dr. D. L. Hazard, assistant chief of the Division of Terrestrial Magnetism and Seismology of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, so announced today.

Magnetic storms differ from rain, snow and windstorms which make themselves known physically. They rage as terrifically, but their presence is not apparent to man until he either turns on his radio or uses other devices which detect their presence. The fact that magnetic storms have had a serious effect on radio reception has long been known. Careful studies will affect signals differently or different wave lengths.

STUDIES UNDER WAY

Researchers have concluded that fairly accurate forecasts can be made of such storms, accompanied by predictions of the kind of radio reception to be expected within certain periods. Investigations of the relationship between magnetic disturbances and reception have been undertaken by the Bureau of Standards, the Naval Research Laboratory, the General Electric Company and Dr. G. W. Packard of Newton Center, Mass., research associate of the Department of Terrestial Magnetism of the Carnegie Institute of Washington.

Dr. Hazard expressed the opinion that the first broadcasts of reception forecast will be on short waves.

Dr. Hazard pointed out that comparison of radio reception generally in the light of magnetic storms will give science a guide for radio receiver improvements to bring about better reception under all conditions.

Army, Navy and Marine Corps' Planes Order on Search for Lost Air-mail Flyer

Birdmen of the nation's three military forces—the Army, Marine Corps—today will combine their aid with commercial and ground crews in the most intensive search ducted for a single pilot and plane, Maurice Graham Boeing biplane, lost somewhere in the snow-mantled wastes Vegas, Nev., and Salt Lake City, Utah.

Ships ordered to Las Vegas yesterday will swell the number of scouting planes to thirty-six—all bent on picking out the spot where Graham landed or crashed on his regular mail run a week ago.

They will scan particularly the country around Meadow, Utah, where it was reported yesterday that lights resembling signal flares had been sighted for the last four nights on a mountainside above the settlement.

Ground crews made up of 300 Union Pacific system workers, cowboys, ranchers and sheepmen, will continue their task on foot—penetrating the canyons and valleys of the territory bordering the lighted air-mail route northward from Las Vegas.

Jimmie James and Ray Doty, airmail buddies of Graham, landed at the Bristol mine, Utah, last night, announcing that they will make a search on foot of the immediate vicinity today.

Nineteen service ships are expected in Las Vegas, Nev., this morning to join the seventeen of Western Air Express and private owners already scouting the vast territory in which Graham could have crashed or landed safely.

Maj. M. F. Harmon, commanding officer at March Field, Riverside, was ordered yesterday by Maj.-Gen. James E. Fechet, chief of the Army Air Corps, to co-operate in the far-flung search.

As a result Maj. Harmon detailed three pursuit ships to the scene, while Maj. Carl Spatz sent six army pursuit ships and one Fokker transport from Rockwell Field, San Diego. The San Diego contingent comprises eight officer pilots and five enlisted mechanics under command of H. M. Elmendors.

The Navy ordered six observation planes from San Diego Marine Corps contributed con observation ships.

Besides these, local have announced they will company planes, as well care of fuel details at planned to be established.

SUGAR BOUNTY PLAN REJECTED

Senate on Record Against Howell Amendment

Tariff Increase Advocates Will Continue Drive

Smoot to Renew Effort for Cuban Duty Boost

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—After being notified that advocates of a higher sugar tariff will carry on their drive despite yesterday's defeat, the Senate went on record today by a vote of 54 to 22 against granting a direct Federal bounty to domestic sugar growers and manufacturers.

Chairman Smoot of the Finance Committee revealed at the outset of the day's proceedings that before the tariff bill is finally passed upon by the Senate, he will propose an increase to 2 cents from the existing levy of 1.76 cents a pound on Cuban raw sugar. The present duty was approved yesterday by a vote of 48 to 38 in preference to 2 cents as recommended by the Finance Committee and 2.40 cents carried in the House measure.

The bounty amendment, proposed by Senator Howell, Republican, Nebraska, gained the support of only sixteen western Republicans, five southern and western Democrats, and the one Farmer-Labor

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—After being notified that advocates of a higher sugar tariff will carry on their drive despite yesterday's defeat, the Senate went on record today by a vote of 54 to 22 against granting a direct Federal bounty to domestic sugar growers and manufacturers.

Chairman Smoot of the Finance Committee revealed at the outset of the day's proceedings that before the tariff bill is finally passed upon by the Senate, he will propose an increase to 2 cents from the existing levy of 1.76 cents a pound on Cuban raw sugar. The bounty amendment, proposed by Senator Howell, Republican, Nebraska, gained the support of only sixteen western Republicans, the southern and western Democrats, and the one Farmer-Labor Senator, Shipstead, of Minnesota. Thirty Republicans and twenty-four Democrats voted against it.

The Howell proposal would have provided a bounty of .44 of a cent a pound to growers and refiners in continental United States with 90 per cent going to the grower. The estimated cost to the government was $100,600,000 a year.

M'CORMICK'S CARE ALTERED

Two Psychoanalysts Ordered Removed and Board of Guardians Raised to Five by Court

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 17. (AP)—The Superior Court today ordered the halt of psychoanalytical treatment being administered to Stanley McCormick, incompetent multimillionaire, and provided for the appointment of two more persons to his present board of three guardians.

The ruling was made as the climax to the differences between Mrs. Katherine McCormick, wife of the invalid, and his relatives, Harold McCormick, a brother, and Anita McCormick Blaine, a sister, which brought them into a lengthy court hearing last November and December.

ONE PETITION GRANTED

The legal battle which was precipitated by Mrs. McCormick, one of the guardians, gave her satisfaction of one of her petitions for removal of the present physicians, Dr. Edward J. Kempf of New York, who is being employed at a salary of $120,000 a year, and Dr. William A. White of Washington.

A second petition, however, which sought removal of the brother and sister, the coguardians, was denied and the court recommended selection of a professional man and a layman of "superior judgment" to augment the board.

In the decision, which was handed down by Superior Judge Dehy, the guardians were instructed to obtain other medical treatment by February 1, if it is possible. Mrs. McCormick asserted at the hearing that the psychoanalytical treatments were a waste of her husband's fortune, which is estimated at $50,000,000, alienated his affection for her and failed to improve his mental condition.

GUARDIANS "SINCERE"

Judge Dehy said he believes the differences were the result of "honest opinions" and that the guardians have been "sincere" in all their efforts. His opinion went into a voluminous review of the case since McCormick was adjudged incompetent in 1906.

The guardians, who were in the courtroom at the time, refused to comment and the defense made no appeal from the decision.

Chicago Seeks Karpen's Return

CHICAGO, Jan. 17. (AP)—A fugitive warrant for Benjamin Karpen, son of the late Isaac Karpen, wealthy furniture manufacturer, was issued by Municipal Judge Ehler today after Mrs. Edna Marie Thomas, Karpen's divorced wife, had charged child abandonment. Karpen is under arrest in Los Angeles, charged with passing a worthless check.

A detective was sent to Los Angeles to arrange for Karpen's return. Counsel for Mrs. Thomas charged he is several hundred dollars in arrears in payments for the support of his son Robert, 6 years of age.

Loiterers Flee as Bullets Fly

SCRANTON (Pa.) Jan. 17. (AP)—Police today exchanged shots with two men found loitering around the homes of a judge and prosecutor. The men escaped.

Guards at the home of Judge Newcomb, who is conducting an investigation into the activities of a local slot-machine syndicate, attempted to question the men who ran as the police approached. The police then opened fire which was returned by the men.

A short time later at the home of Dist.-Atty. Levy, special prosecutor in the slot-machine investigation, a similar episode occurred.

ANCIENT RITES HELD IN APPLE ORCHARDS

CARHAMPTON, SOMERSET (Eng.) Jan. 17. (AP)—The picturesque ceremony of "wassailing" the apple trees was carried out today in many of the orchards in this famous apple-growing region. The whole village of Carhampton took part in this curious ancient custom consisting of placing a piece of toast in a fork of the orchards' biggest tree with great ceremony. Ostensibly the toast is for the robins, but really, as some of the older folk have it, to propitiate the spirits who watch over apple trees and thus to insure a good crop. As the party stood around the tree an old wassail song invoking a full crop was sung.

I.C.C. DENIES PLEAS FOR NEW RAIL LINES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission refused today to order the construction of a new railroad line from Lewiston, Idaho, to Holmstead, Or., or from Lewiston to Clarkston, Wash.

Farm Board to Make Survey of Co-operatives

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—For the purpose of determining the type of business conducted by numerous scattered organizations as a basis for the establishment of sound regional co-operatives, the Federal Farm Board will make a study of local farmers' co-operative associations in twelve northeastern States.

The survey will be started not later than July 1 in the following States: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and West Virginia.

It is planned that findings in all twelve States will be available early next winter, and by July 1, 1931, at the latest, the Federal board will furnish a general supervisor and men to do the field work.

Four of Army Polar Patrol Reach Spokane

SPOKANE, Jan. 17. (AP)—Four planes of the Army "Polar Patrol" flipped their ailerons defiantly at King Winter and flew safely into sunny skies today over Spokane, completing their trip from Selfridge Field, Mich.

Soaring across the icy Continental Divide, three pursuit ships and one transport landed on the ice at Newman Lake. They had hopped from Kalispell, Mont.

Maj. Ralph Royce, commanding, and his thirteen other planes waited at Great Falls, Mont., for a moderation of subzero weather.

BOOTLEGGER NEMESIS FACING SAME CHARGE

LANSING (Mich.) Jan. 17. (AP)—Frank Eastman, former detective and one of the officers who obtained evidence against Fred Palm and Mrs. Etta Mae Miller, two of the State's "liquor lifers" whose sentences recently were commuted by Gov. Green, has been arrested on a liquor charge. Eastman is asserted to have sold liquor to Robert Zimmerman, a laborer. The officer recently was discharged from the department as the result of bribery charges made by a man convicted of a violation of the liquor law. He now is proprietor of a restaurant.

RADIO COMBINE TOLD TO SENATE

Committee Hears Victim of "Trust" on Matter

Millions in Tribute Levied by Big Four, He Says

Gross Receipts Percentage Declared Ruinous

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Forging ahead with hearings on the Couzens communications bill, the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee heard testimony today that the patent situation in the radio industry was becoming intolerable.

The witness was P. J. Grigsby, president of the Chicago concern of Grigsby-Grunow Company, which manufactures radio sets. He said a radio combine is seeking to dominate the industry and create a monopoly.

NAMES "TRUST"

Grigsby named the Radio Corporation of America, the General Electric Company, the Westinghouse Company and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company as members of what he said was sometimes called the radio trust.

He contended that his company had been compelled to pay royalties of more than $5,000,000, which he said represented an ultimate cost to the consumer of $15,000,000, by virtue of the fact that he had been obliged to take out patent licenses from the Radio Corporation. He added that his bankers would not finance his concern unless it had the licenses.

Grigsby also told the committee his company had paid royalties of 7½ per cent on gross receipts, which included radio apparatus, cabinets and packing cases, but that the royalties on cabinets had been discontinued by the Radio Corporation.

RUIN AHEAD

"Even with this reduction," he continued, "no industry can long pay 7½ per cent royalty to its competitor. The combine could sell its products and make a profit of 7½ per cent at a price that would represent our cost, and, therefore, eventually bankrupt us. If there were merit in any of the company's patents we would have no objection to dealing with the individual companies that owned these patents, but we do protest that it is a violation of the antimonopoly laws to compel us to deal with all of them as one group, and to take all of their patents and to pay a royalty, not on the merit of a patent, but solely on the power of the combination to destroy us unless we surrender."

INFRINGEMENT SUITS FILED BY COMBINE

WILMINGTON (Del.) Jan. 17. (AP) An action was begun in the United States District Court here today by the Radio Corporation of America and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company against the Universal Wireless Communications Company, Inc., and the DeForest Radio Company, in which infringements of two patents having to do with the improvement of radio and wireless communication are charged.

The patents involved are based on inventions asserted to have been made by Lee DeForest prior to 1914.

The bill states that the Radio Corporation of America has exclusive rights under each of the patents.

The bill asks that the plaintiffs be awarded damages and that an injunction be granted forbidding the defendants from using or profiting from the asserted infringement of the patents.

Owning Liquor Not Unlawful

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Jan. 17. (AP) Mere possession of intoxicating liquor does not constitute a violation of the national prohibition law, Federal Judge Louis Fitzhenry declared in the Federal Court today in discussing the sufficiency of indictments returned by the grand jury.

"The Eighteenth Amendment was not directed against possession of liquor," Judge Fitzhenry declared. "The liquor must be possessed for some particular purpose in violation of the amendment."

Judge Fitzhenry added, however, that no purpose need be shown in charging manufacture, sale, transportation or importation of liquor.

Mrs. Owen's Vote Called Invalid

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Argument in the election contest brought by William C. Lawson, Republican, against Representative Ruth Bryan Owen, Democrat, from the Fourth Florida District, was begun today before a House Elections Committee with Noah C. Bainum of St. Petersburg charging that all the votes cast for Mrs. Owen were not valid. Bainum is counsel for Lawson.

He said that Mrs. Owen, through her marriage in 1910 to Reginald A. Owen, a British army officer, lost her citizenship and that she had not lived in this country the required seven years after the death of her husband.

PATH ALL CLEAR FOR YOUNG PLAN

Last Obstacle Removed by The Hague Action

French and Germans Agree on Reparations

First Bonds on Market Will be $300,000,000

THE HAGUE, Jan. 17. (AP)—The last obstacle to adoption of the Young plan for reparations by the chief creditors of Germany was overcome tonight, when the French and Germans agreed on the conditions under which the first slice of reparations bonds shall be put on the market.

In order to furnish Germany the money required for railroads and other internal needs it was decided to increase the first issue from $200,000,000 to $300,000,000, with the amount of increase assigned to Germany. The bonds will be issued to bear from 5 to 6 per cent interest.

The Germans agreed to abstain from seeking other loans in foreign markets until next October, at which time it is supposed the first issue of the reparation bonds will have been floated. If they have not been, then the Germans have agreed not to seek money abroad before a year from next April.

AMERICA TO GET OFFER

It is understood that 20 per cent, or $60,000,000, of these bonds will be offered American subscribers. France will take 40 per cent and Germany and Great Britain each 20 per cent. The countries subscribing have the right to place part of their allotments in other countries.

The German share in the proceeds of $100,000,000 will replace a loan already contracted for in connection with the Kruger match concession. This may change the proportions of allotments to different countries since if the match loan had been floated in the United States it would have amounted to more than the 20 per cent of the reparation bonds, which figured as the American allotment in all calculations.

PROTOCOL SIGNING MONDAY

The Germans had resisted the French demand that Germany promise not tto seek credit abroad until the reparations bond issue was safely out of the way. The plan agreed upon is therefore a compromise.

There now remains only the necessity of obtaining settlement of the eastern reparations problem between Austria, Bulgaria and Hungary and their creditors to take the reparations question completely off the diplomatic hooks.

Under the prodding of British Chancellor of the Exchequer Snowden, the countries concerned in the eastern problem buckled down tonight to a persistent attempt to find a solution. Whether or not they succeed by Monday morning the protocol of adoption will be signed in a formal session of the conference at the Binnenhof Monday morning.

SKYHOOKS

"TO be safe, an engineering structure requires an adequate foundation, materials to withstand all stresses, and proper designs to make effective use of materials and foundation. Lacking any of these, the engineer must rely upon skyhooks to save his structure from failure. Skyhooks have never worked well, and an engineer who relies upon them is discredited. . . . Skyhooks are our cheerful hopes that Providence will interrupt the natural sequence of cause and effect to save us from the harmful results of our actions." (Antioch Notes.)

Religion has relied too much on "skyhooks." Humanism avoids this defect. You are invited to hear E. Burdette Backus speak on "The Foundations of Humanism" Sunday at 10:50 a.m., First Unitarian Church, West 8th street, just east of Vermont.

ORPHEUM THEATRE SERVES BEN-HUR DRIP COFFEE TO ITS PATRONS

You are missing a delicious cup of coffee and a fine show if you fail to see "Hit the Deck"—the rollicking musical comedy picture now showing at the Los Angeles Orpheum theatre. The story of the picture is built around Looloo's Coffee Shop—Looloo being played by charming Polly Walker, former prima donna of Ziegfeld's Follies and popularly known as "the sweetheart of the New York stage." The accompanying picture shows Miss Walker preparing coffee in her Hollywood apartment, in a Ben-Hur healthful coffee-maker. Jack Oakie's smile clearly shows what he thought of Looloo's coffee during the shooting of the picture on the RKO lot.

And to bring the atmosphere of Looloo's Coffee Shop into the theatre, the Orpheum theatre has been serving Ben-Hur Drip Coffee to its patrons from 4 to 9 p.m. every day since the picture opened its record-breaking run on Christmas Day. Every afternoon and evening, in the lounge of the theatre, many hundreds of patrons are served with delicious Ben-Hur Drip Coffee made the Ben-Hur healthful way.

urning Public Lands Over to States Backed arm Board Member Tells of Cattle Outlook

DENVER, Jan. 17. (AP)—The aid of Western States in behalf of President Hoover's plan to turn the public lands over to the States was solicited today by Joseph M. Dixon, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, before the American National Live Stock Association.

Mr. Dixon, former United States Senator and Governor of Montana, told the live-stock men that unless the West is able to get together on some general plan of action the administration proposal is doomed to disappointment.

METHOD EXPLAINED

All reclamation work by the Federal government would have to stop, Mr. Dixon said, if the government were to be deprived of revenues from oil, gas and minerals derived from the subsurface of the public lands.

"Under the present system of distribution," the assistant Secretary said, "10 per cent of the oil, gas, coal and all other royalties from subsurface minerals is reserved by the government for administration, 7 1-2 per cent is paid back to the State from which the royalty arises, and the remaining 52 1-2 per cent is turned into the reclamation fund for the further development of western irrigation projects."

LIVE-STOCK OUTLOOK

A. C. Williams, member of the Federal Farm Board, told the convention that the stock market crash of last November has not subjected the live-stock industry to general withdrawals of credit and enforced liquidation, such as accompanied other periods of credit stingency.

He said he views the lack of unnecessary expansion in the live-stock business as an encouraging feature, pointing to the absence of speculative enthusiasm, such as that developed in the feeder-cattle market in the summer of 1928.

ALL MEXICO NOW GOES TO SCHOOL

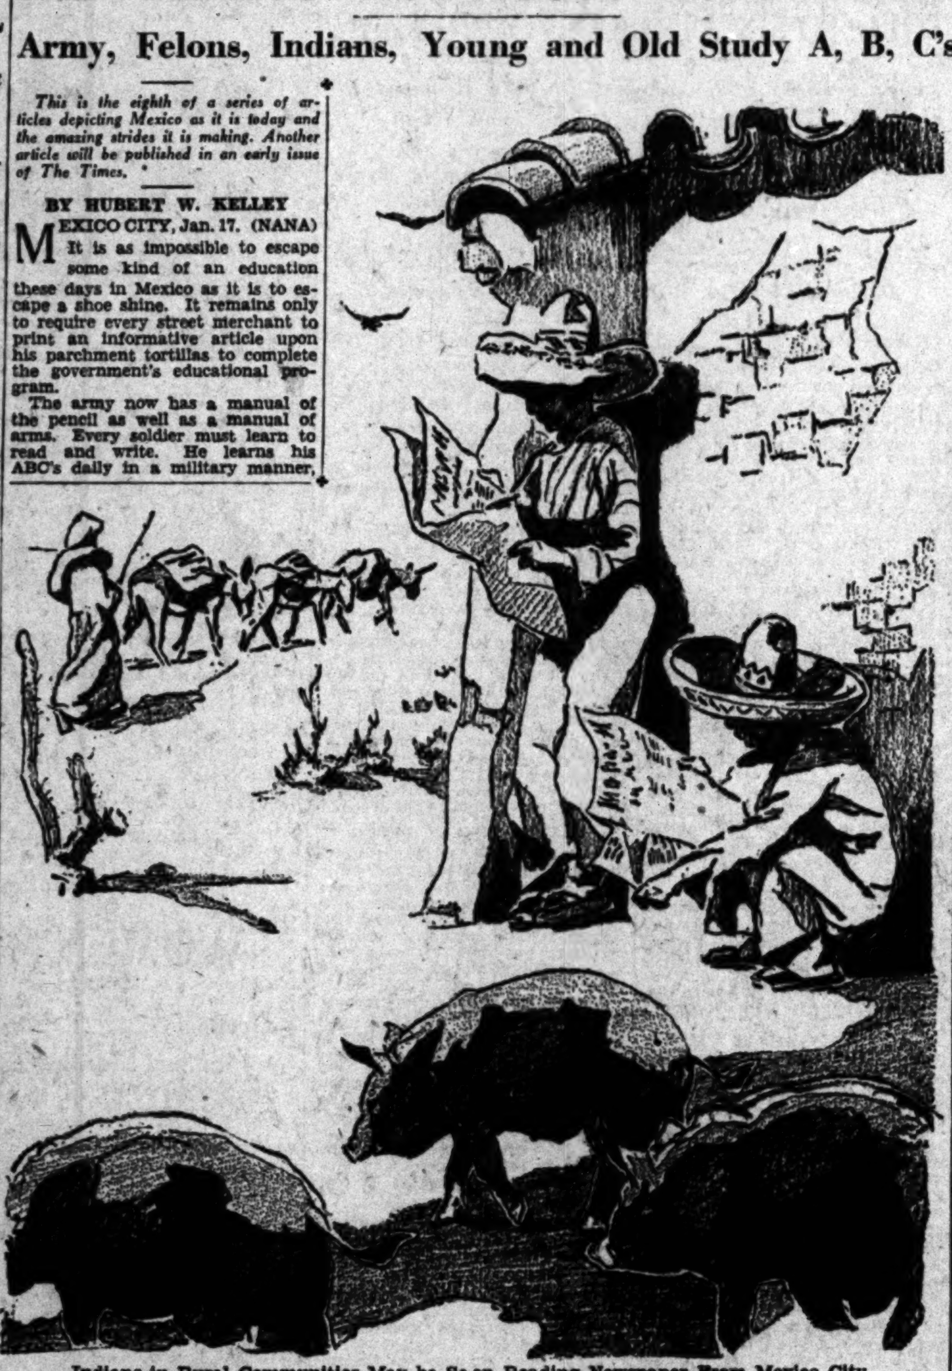
Army, Felons, Indians, Young and Old Study A, B, C's

This is the eighth of a series of articles depicting Mexico as it is today and the amazing strides it is making. Another article will be published in an early issue of The Times.

BY HUBERT W. KELLEY

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 17. (NANA) It is as impossible to escape some kind of an education these days in Mexico as it is to escape a shoe shine. It remains only to require every street merchant to print an informative article upon his parchment tortillas to complete the government's educational program.

The army now has a manual of the pencil as well as a manual of arms. Every soldier must learn to read and write. He learns his ABC's daily in a military manner,



Indians in Rural Communities May be Seen Reading Newspaper From Mexico City

The man in jail must go to school, even if a firing squad is to complete his education next week.

SCHOOLS GROW

And throughout the nation more than 13,000 schools of one kind or another are seeking to teach children and adults the rudiments of reading, writing and arithmetic, but chiefly the fundamentals of civilization, hygiene, cooking, agriculture and the elements of road building, bridge building and construction of lines of communication.

Eight years ago there was not a school in the rural districts of Mexico worthy of the name. The burden of education fell upon the States by law, but they could not fulfill their obligations. Revolutions despoiled the land; Federal taxes drained the revenues.

Then, in 1922, an amendment to the constitution threw the burden of education upon the Federal government and the government accepted it gladly. Obregon was the first to realize that the hope of Mexico lay in education.

PROGRAM EXPANDS

Last year, just ended, the government's educational program, even though the budget was small, was more expansive and productive than in any year in the nation's history.

The government is operating 4000 rural schools with a staff of 5500 teachers. These schools, the cultural centers of small primitive communities, are striving first to lift the standard of living of the children and adults who attend them. Education is compulsory where there are schools, but the utmost freedom is granted the pupils. The government must first make friends; too rigid discipline would excite animosity.

The States already maintained 7000 rural schools, many of which have been improved through government propaganda, distributed principally by posters, magazines and teams of experts who travel from one center to another, instructing the State teachers in intensive courses lasting one month.

SEVEN ON TEAM

Each team consists of seven experts, an educator, a social worker, a physical director, an agronomist, a teacher of manual industries, a music teacher and an artist. The list conveys pretty well the kind of instruction given the teachers.

This traveling teachers' college selects a central community as a base of operations, using the town as a laboratory. Forty or fifty teachers from surrounding towns declare a vacation and attend. The headquarters town is the laboratory. The citizens are subjects for demonstration.

Where is your bridge, Mr. Mayor? We have none, Senor. Then let's build one. The class of teachers, the men and children of the town, are taken to the stream or arroya. The teacher of small industries, assisted by the other experts, prepares plans for the bridge, the simplest, most rudimentary plans for crude masonry construction. With everybody co-operating the bridge is merrily built in a few days. No theory of construction was introduced. The teachers and the townsmen learned to build a bridge by imitation.

FILTH CLEANED UP

Why, Mr. Mayor, does your town smell so vilely? Why are so many persons ill? Why do so many of your babies die? The social worker and the physical expert take charge of the problem. Filth means disease. Clean up. The town cleans up and the citizens and teachers are taught to keep it clean. No Theory of hygiene is taught except the single precept.

Why haven't you telephones, Mr. Mayor? With your co-operation the public utilities will install them. The town turns out to string wire.

Your children have malnutrition, Mr. Mayor. Your diet is very bad. You need more and richer milk, green things, fresh meat. Contests are instituted for the peasant farmers and the good housewives. Small prizes are offered for the best gardens and the best cooking.

When the teachers return to their communities after a month of such training they can teach higher standards of living from the practical demonstrations given by the traveling teacher's college.

STATE SCHOOLS AIDED

The government has joined hands, too, with 2118 State schools, schools so impoverished they could not survive on their own revenues. These schools, for the most part, are in central communities, where they can serve as laboratories for more primitive schools in their regions.

To every school each month goes the government magazine, the Sower, with its revolutionary cover by Rivera or other great propaganda artists. It contains plans for simple construction projects, articles on hygiene, domestic science and other civilizing subjects, and messages from the Ministry of Education and the President. Posters on subjects relating to improved standards of living also are broadcast to the schools for posting in public places by the teachers.

On one of these posters are plans for an open-air theater, one of the newest projects promulgated by the Ministry of Education. More than 500 open-air theaters were built last year by the rural communities under the supervision of school masters. The work is a fiesta, like a "bee" in the United States. The project is simple, consisting of a platform of masonry against a hill or grove, and long curved seats of masonry for 200 or 300 persons, depending upon the size of the community.

LIVES DRAMATIZED

In these theaters are dramatized the lives of the peasants and the spirit of the revolution.

"It is essential that we make the people conscious of their freedom," says Moses Saenz, Undersecretary of Education. "They have been oppressed so long it is difficult for them to realize they are free men. The dramatization of the revolution enlightens them."

Seldom a month passes that the Minister of Education or one of his assistants does not motor into the rural districts to attend the festive opening of a new theater. Roads are strewn with branches and flowers; trees are garlanded. Tables in the plaza are heaped with fruits and little cakes.

It is an actual thing, this educational revolution. Indians in rural communities may be seen reading newspapers from the City of Mexico. In the plazas of the capital ragged men, once peons, sit in pale sunshine and pore over Mexican and English books. It is very easy if one is not on his guard, to be run down by a pedestrian reader.

INDIANS CIVILIZED

From the utterly uncivilized districts of Mexico Indian boys are brought to the capital for a four-year intensive course in a government school. In the four years these boys are converted from savages to fairly well-educated boys. The contour of their faces and the light of their eyes change. Sometimes it takes several months to put them at ease, but eventually they lose their self-consciousness and enter the program with zest. One boy—he can now shake hands like a gentleman—stood on a street corner every day for five weeks before he would associate with other boys and the master.

These boys learn American games, printing, gardening, stock-raising, cheese-making, hygiene and simple academics before they are returned to their tribes as teachers. About 200 boys are in the school now; several hundred have been returned to tribes as instructors in the last three years.

GEM IN MOSAIC COMPLETE

Plant at Vatican Finishes Copy of Mufillo Work for Catholic University at Washington

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 17. (AP)—The Vatican Mosaic Works, one of the most unusual manufacturing plants in the world, are ready to consign to the Catholic University at Washington their latest production, a copy of Murillo's "Immaculate Conception," valued at $25,000.

Very few American tourists making the rounds of the Vatican galleries and St. Peter's know of the existence of the mosaic works almost beneath their noses. Yet the shop is one of the oldest in Rome and one of the best known in the art groups of Europe.

Established by Pope Sixtus V, 300 years ago, the mosaic works have done much to beautify Rome. There are many mosaics in St. Peter's, 356 portraits of the popes in the Church of St. Paul-Outside-the-Walls, scenes wrought in mosaic in the Pope's private studio, and in scores of churches, all from this one plant. Few large cities in Europe are without one or two Vatican mosaics.

A visit to the plant is an education. One sees master craftsmen whose skill has been passed on to them through generations of fathers and grandfathers who were artists in mosaic before them. They are men of infinite patience in addition to skill, for a mosaic may take from two to ten years to complete.

The mosaic for Washington required two years, although it is only eight and a half by six feet. It was done by three men, Prof. Ludovico Lucietto, dean of Vatican mosaicists, and his assistants, Luigi Chiaserotti and Romolo Sellini.

When the visitor is told that there are actually 27,000 different colors or shades of color from which mosaicists must choose, and also when he is told that thousands of small pieces of material, first heated to an intense degree, are later inserted one by one into a special form, each one being chosen meticulously for its shade of color, he will begin to understand why one mosaic has been known to require twenty years for completion.

Federal Agents to Seize Capone

CHICAGO, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—Al Capone, notorious Chicago gangster chief, will be seized by government agents from Chicago as soon as he is through serving a year's sentence in Philadelphia. Capone is expected to be released in about two weeks.

Federal authorities announced today that detectives will be on hand at the gates of the penitentiary to arrest Capone. They will bring him back to Chicago to fulfill a former summons to testify on gang-graft conditions before the Federal grand jury and if he balks again as he did before he will be thrown into jail on a contempt-of-court charge now pending against him.

Party Headed by Richardson Pleased by Journey

Hospitality Shown Along Route Wins Praise

Side Trips to Many Points of Interest Planned

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—The special train bearing the 136 members of the party headed by ex-Gov. Friend W. Richardson on the forty-second annual excursion of the California Press Association, arrived here this morning for a five-day stay after what members of the party declared was a most enjoyable trip down the west coast of Mexico.

While it is distinctly and primarily a sightseeing excursion, stripped of all formal functions, at such larger way points on the road between Nogales and Mexico City as Hermosillo, Mazatlan and Guadalajara, the visitors were greeted with a round of impromptu entertainments that, they declare, left a lasting impression on them. The return journey will be made also over the Southern Pacific via the same route, as the most direct that links the interior of Mexico with California.

POLITICS SHUNNED

Ex-Gov. Richardson, who stated he is "out to have a good time," declined to be burdened with any statement or discussion of politics or "home matters." He did say that "I and all members of the party feel only the deepest appreciation for the many courtesies shown us during our trip down the west coast which we did not expect. We are here to see the sights as friendly visitors who hope only that the existing amicable relations between Mexico and California will be long lasting."

This is Richardson's second trip to Mexico City. He was at the head of a similar party twenty-four years ago, of which eight members form part of the present group. That party visited Mexico City, but was called back when news was received of the San Francisco earthquake and fire.

"This city has grown proportionally," one of this group said. "It is hardly recognizable."

HOPE FOR HIGHWAY

Members of the party could not but express the hope that a continuation of the great Pacific highway that now links California with Canada would be undertaken, pointing to the benefits such a road would bring not only to Mexico, but to California.

Their first day here the visitors spent sightseeing and buying Mexican souvenirs, with which the baggage car on the special train promises to be overtaxed on its return journey. During their visit side trips will be made to such special points of interest as the "American Egypt" or the pyramids of San Juan Teotihuacan as the near-by remnants of the great Toltec and Aztec reigns are known.

They will visit Cuernavaca, the playground of Mexico City, and the floral wealth of the floating gardens of Xochimilco, the National Museum, the cathedral and other points of interest. Of the 136 members sixty-eight are men and sixty-eight their wives or members of their families.

HEAVY GALE DAMAGES TACOMA WATER FRONT

Several lumber mills here have been forced to close.

PATHS OF TWO EXPLORERS JOIN

Riiser-Larsen and Mawson Meet in Antarctic

Misunderstanding Ironed Out in Pleasant Chat

Rival Expeditions Exchange Cheers of Respect

BY CAPT. RIISER-LARSEN
Commander of Norwegian Antarctic Expedition

[Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

ABOARD STEAMER NORVEGIA IN THE ANTARCTIC (Via Oslo) Jan. 27.—I have just stopped at the frozen tip of the world to straighten out a little misunderstanding in a pleasant chat with a rival explorer who happened to be passing. And when we parted there was an exchange of cheers marking our respect for each other.

Most unexpected, this happy meeting with Sir Douglas Mawson, who commands the British, Australian and New Zealand Antarctic research expedition, was a break in our daily monotony.

SUBJECT OF CHAT

Our sturdy Norvegia, carrying Norway's research expedition, was plugging stout-heartedly along at latitude 66 deg., 30 min., longitude 49 deg., 21 min., with land in sight, when Mawson's ship, the Discovery, rolled up on the skyline, steaming west.

And there, at this jumping-off place of the universe, we saluted and stopped and hailed each other. I went aboard the Discovery and Mawson and I began chinning right away. We had a friendly discussion of the comments made in the British press on the Norvegia expedition and Sir Douglas said he thought no difficulties would follow our planting of Norway's flag on the land we discovered last month. This land, you will recall from my previous dispatches, lies east of Weddell Sea, near the Enderby Quadrant.

AERIAL MAPS MADE

Mawson received me with the utmost courtesy and friendliness and no misunderstanding existed when we parted. Sir Douglas told me he was in some difficulty in pursuing his westward course, owing to a scarcity of bunker coal. I offered to try to get a supply for him from one of the Norwegian whaling outfits fishing in King Haakon VII Sea.

Capt. Lutzow-Holm and I have made several flights in the last few days and have continued surveying the land and taking photographs from the air. So far we have charted a steep, curved coastline extending about 220 miles between longitudes 55 deg. east and 43 east. At longitude 50 deg. east the deep sea stretched as far south as latitude 66.

From Capt. Riiser-Larsen's dispatch it appears that Sir Douglas Mawson, who received quite recently wireless instructions to proceed westward, must suddenly have changed his original plan to explore the waters to the east, and not west Kemp Land and Enderby Land.

Therefore it would seem that the Discovery will explore the waters between Enderby Land and Coats Land simultaneously with the Norvegia. If that is the case, both expeditions will search this season for new land between Enderby and Coats Lands, and neither will attempt to cover the unexplored field in the so-called Australian quadrant.

CORONADO COMPANY GETS FERRY PERMIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. (AP)—The State Railroad Commission, with Commissioners Decoto and Louttit dissenting, today authorized the Automobile Ferry Company of Coronado to operate a ferry service for the transportation of automobiles and other vehicles. The commission specified that the utility commence operation of its vessels within one year. The company was authorized to issue $399,500 of common capital stock on or before June 30, 1930. An application to issue $200,000 of 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock was denied.

CONVICT PLEADS FOR NOOSE

Stewart, Prison Riot Informant, Begs End of Delay; Crosby, Fifth on Doomed List, Hanged

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17. (AP)—Albert M. Stewart, "the squealer" of the six convicts sentenced to hang for the murder-riot of 1927 in Folsom prison, now pleads that the courts end the "wrackings of suspense" he suffers in his dungeon cell and send him to the gallows where the five companions he betrayed have died.

On three consecutive Fridays, today being the third, Stewart has heard cell doors open and the measured steps of five strapped men made into memory.

He has heard Anthony Brown, Walter Burke, James Gregg, Roy Stokes and Eugene Crosby being led to the gallows to pay the penalty for murdering George Baker during the 1927 outbreak, in which eleven men were slain. Today a letter from his pen was received by Superior Judge Glenn, Sacramento, in whose court the six were sentenced after Stewart testified against his companions. His appeal still is pending in the State Supreme court.

"It is the hell that Milton describes with such horrible accuracy, in its hot and cold regions," he told the judge. "The anxious soul is alternately tossed from ardors of hope to the petrifying rigors of doubt and dread. Such is my position, and any wish to prolong it would be the height of folly.

"I would request that no further action be taken to consummate my appeal. I am content, Mr. Glenn, to accept the verdict as it now stands (death) without further parley.

"I believe it is customary in resentencing a man under death sentence to set the date between sixty and ninety days; but if this is not compulsory, I would ask that it be omitted in this instance in view of the already unnecessary delay. I in no way need sixty, thirty or even fifteen days, and humbly request that the court extend me the courtesy of having matters enacted with the least possible delay."

JUDGE GLENN'S REPLY

Glenn replied, advising him to retain an attorney to represent him in the Supreme Court when his appeal comes up for consideration on March 4, next. He told Stewart that he probably could have the appeal dismissed. Glenn said that Stewart's letter is "the most remarkable document" he ever received.

Eugene Crosby today went to the gallows smiling, bidding guards and Barnett Huse, Warden Smith's secretary, "good-by."

He was pronounced dead fourteen minutes after the trap was sprung, and his body was taken to San Francisco for burial by the Veterans' Welfare Bureau in the Presidio Cemetery.

Brown and Stokes were hanged on the 3rd inst., Burke and Gregg on the 10th inst.

WEBB PETITIONS FOR APPEAL DISMISSAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—Atty.-Gen. Webb filed a petition with the State Supreme Court today asking for dismissal of an appeal on behalf of Albert M Stewart, only survivor of six condemned Folsom riot leaders, because it has not been perfected and the time limit has expired.

Webb's motion will come up for discussion at the next sitting of the Supreme Court in Los Angeles, March 4, next.

What do the words "A High School Education" mean? They mean a thorough grounding in those essentials of modern knowledge which enable a person to be the most efficient in the everyday activities of his work and of his contact with others. When it is required that a person have a High School Education, it is meant that such a person must be equipped with a substantial background of English, History, General Literature, some Languages, Commercial Subjects (Business and Economics), Mathematics, Science and the Arts. It is expected that such a person will have his intelligence alert and trained to enable him to learn new things readily, to know where to look for facts not already in his possession; in short, to be a man or a woman aware of those fundamentals which form the basis of every education and of all culture.

Probably you have often felt the lack of knowledge you really ought to have at your command. Perhaps you did not get the most out of your school days, or possibly you were obliged to leave school before you had completed your education. Or your High School training has slipped into the past, and you are "rusty" on many subjects. Whatever the reason for the lack, you feel that the void is there—and you want to fill in the gaps! This 60-volume HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATIONAL COURSE is just the thing for you—it is comprehensive, easily understandable, thoroughly reliable and authentic, and absolutely up to date.

Whether you wish to study High School Subjects for the first time, or whether you merely wish to review your High School Education, you will find these 60 books exactly what you need. Read the list of titles carefully as listed at the right—and, remember, all you pay for all 60 of these splendid books is two dollars and ninety-eight cents!

A word about this astonishing low cost—the price of $2.98 for all 60 of these books is possible, has been possible, because of mass production. These books have been bought by more than 250,000 people. The popularity of these books is irrefutable indication that they are filling a widespread need. Indeed, the price is so low that many people get the set just to have the books handy for reference. At such a price no one can afford to be without these books. In usual library form they would cost perhaps $25; in the new 2-volume cloth edition they will cost $10—but you can get the same material, word for word, in 60 pocket-sized volumes, for only $2.98 postpaid! But remember—10,000 sets are all we have. You must not delay a moment! Grab this chance NOW!

The actual size of the type used in these books (except the reference dictionaries) is 8-point; this is approximately the size type used in your daily newspaper. It is easy to read. Many of the books have illustrations and diagrams to make the text clearer. The books are uniformly bound in stiff covers; they are substantial and neat in appearance. The paper is good white book paper. Each book contains, as a rule, about 15,000 words, or 64 pages.

Variety of Subjects

CONSIDER for a moment the wide scope of these sixty books—think just how comprehensive they are! There are 825,000 words in these sixty volumes. They include a wonderful variety of subjects, from history and economics and literature to mathematics, foreign languages and the arts. Even commercial subjects, such as geography and typewriting, are included. You get a substantial foundation in the arts, and an insight into the great world of science. Then there are the handy reference volumes, the alphabetical dictionaries, which give you concise information just when you need it and exactly as you want it.

Four foreign languages—the languages which most English-speaking people desire to learn—are given in this set. These foreign languages are self-teaching in these handy volumes. They may be readily grasped with the aid of these books.

Everything you need is here—this series is compact and complete in itself. There are two volumes of questions and answers (quizzes) with which you may test your knowledge from time to time. There is that excellent general treatise on "How to Study"—this work alone is really worth the entire price of the set in the valuable hints it gives and in the manner in which it enables the average person to study in such a way that he will get the most possible good out of his efforts.

You will find it invaluable to have at hand many of these books which you may not use at first. Though some of the subjects may seem to you apart from your present interests, they will sooner or later come in handy. Everyone, today, should have a representative library of reference to which he can turn in search of facts when he requires them. In our modern civilization, with the miracles of modern printing, knowledge is within everyone's reach. There is no longer any excuse for any individual to remain in ignorance. Lack of knowledge is not tolerated. Today you must be progressively alert—keep abreast of the times—and maintain a standard of education that is on a par with the knowledge of your fellows.

A Complete List of Titles in the 60-Volume Educational Course

IMPORTANT NOTE: These volumes are original, copyright works, available only in this series and prepared especially for the series of which they are a part. The 60 books must be ordered as a set—the individual titles should not be ordered separately.

Five Cents Per Subject Until January 31, 1930

You get 60 books for $2.98 as long as these 10,000 remaining sets last! This is slightly less than five cents per book—can you imagine any book treating, in a text of 15,000 words (the total words in each of these books, on the average,) a subject like Grammar or Economics or U. S. History, that is not worth five cents? This High School Educational Course, in this 60-volume handy edition, is a bargain of bargains. There is nothing like it anywhere. It is unique in the field of popular education.

The authors of these sixty educational volumes were especially chosen to prepare these works so that the average person may readily assimilate their contents. In spite of the sensationally low cost of these books, they have been written by authorities in their various fields. Some of the writers who have helped to make this High School Educational Course possible are:

Professor Carrol Lane Fenton, of the University of Cincinnati; John Cowper Powys, famous lecturer and critic; Joseph McCabe, world-famous scholar and author of 180 books; Lawrence A. Barrett, High School instructor of Mathematics; John S. Gambs, High School teacher; Maynard Shipley, President of the Science League of America; Lloyd E. Smith, former college English assistant; Hereward Carrington, New York scientist; J. George Frederick, commercial expert; Dr. Isaac Goldberg, well-known critic; Murray Sheehan, educator and novelist; Leo Markun, research student; Nelson Antrim Crawford, well-known writer; Clarence Darrow, famous lawyer, etc., etc.

Thus, it is certain that every one of these books is of outstanding excellence. As a reading course this set cannot be surpassed—for the price of $2.98 you get 825,000 words of text, nearly a million words! The general editorship has been under the direction of E. Haldeman-Julius, famous for his campaign of popular education and providing good reading at a price within the reach of everyone's pocketbook.

Amazing as it sounds it is quite true that $2.98 is full and final payment for all 60 of the books in this High School Educational Course. There are no strings attached to this offer—$2.98 is all you pay. Think how expensive a High School education usually is in comparison—here you get 60 books for no more than one average text book costs in school. And you dispense with the instructor altogether, you become your own teacher, learning as you read.

We pay the postage to your address on this 60-volume set. The price of $2.98 includes all charges except the small C.O.D. fee (exactly seven cents,) which goes to the U.S. postoffice. All packing and carriage charges are otherwise fully paid. You can avoid any possible delay or inconvenience (C. O. D. packages sometimes move slower than regular parcel post, and if you are not home when the package is first delivered it may cause you a little inconvenience) by remitting $2.98 with your order. Satisfied customers everywhere guarantee the value of this set of books. You are assured of satisfaction—when you see the books you will be convinced that they are worth the bargain price of $2.98.

However, send no money with the order unless you wish to. We shall be glad to send the books C.O.D. if you prefer. Just mail the blank and pay the postman on delivery. Prompt service guaranteed.

Ten Extra Volumes

During our campaign for self-education, with our 60-volume HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATIONAL COURSE we are including 10 additional volumes with each set—the set originally contained only 50 volumes—at no extra cost to the public. This is an indication of our intention to give every purchaser of this course full value for the money he invests in these books. Now 60 volumes make up this complete course, as listed at the extreme right of this advertisement. Notice how thoroughly comprehensive they are, and what a surprising variety of subject matter they cover. Yet the price is only $2.98 for all sixty books—surely this is a bargain if there ever was one. Understand this clearly—$2.98 is all you pay; there are no monthly installments, no further payments whatever. When you pay $2.98 this set of books becomes yours, fully paid for. All you have to do is use the blank before our small supply of 10,000 sets is exhausted. We strongly urge you to act at once—otherwise, you may be disappointed. You have no time to lose. Mail the blank today.

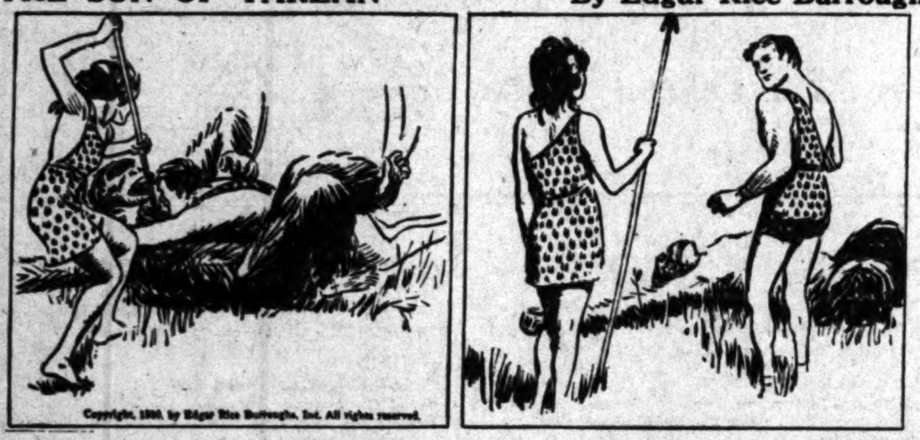
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

THE SON OF TARZAN

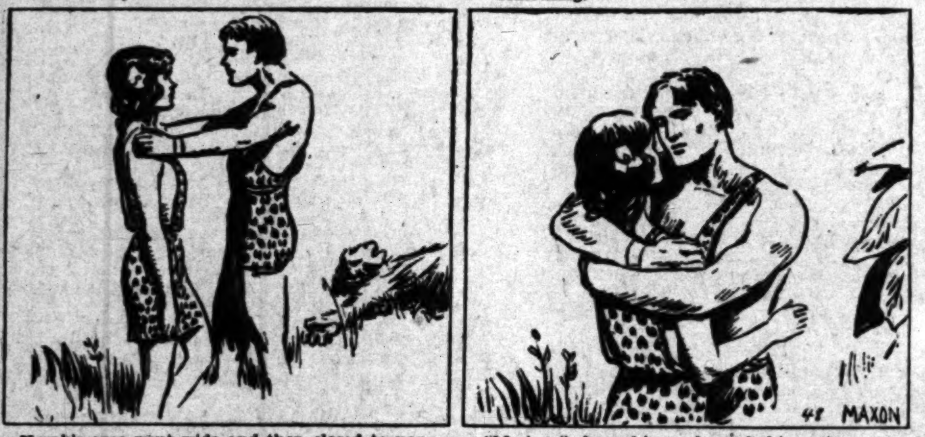
By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Copyright, 1930, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

With flashing eyes, as she recognized Korak, the girl arose. Near by lay the Killer's spear—forgotten. Meriem saw and snatched it up. No faintness overcame her in face of this primeval battle. She was excited, but cool and unafraid. Was not her Korak fighting a Mangani that would have stolen her? Deep into the great ape's savage heart she plunged the sharp spear. Korak needed not this help, but smiled his approval of her bravery.

He seemed to be looking at Meriem through new eyes. Had she changed so suddenly within the few hours of his absence? How tall and fine she was! How long it had been since he had found her in her father's village, a little Arab girl, he did not know. Time does not matter in the jungle and he kept no trace of the passing days. His gaze wandered from Meriem to to the dead ape. Suddenly he realized something.



Korak's eyes went wide and then closed to narrow slits as they glared down at the abysmal brute at his feet. When next his glance rose to Meriem's face, a slow flush suffused his own. Now, indeed, was he looking at her through new eyes—the eyes of a man looking at a maid! He came close to her, the love-light in his face; but she did not understand it, not realizing how close they both were to maturity.

"Meriem," he whispered, and his voice was husky. "Meriem!" Suddenly he crushed her to him. She looked up into his face laughing, and then he bent and kissed her. Even then she did not understand. She could not recall ever being kissed before. It was very nice. She thought it was Korak's way of showing how glad he was. Korak wanted to say something, wanted to tell her how he loved her, but emotion choked him.

DRAINAGE BOND DEAL APPROVED

Supreme Court Upholds Purchase of Warrants by Finance Department

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. (AP)—The State Supreme Court today held that purchase of warrants for bonds of the Sacramento and San Joaquin Drainage District for retirement by the Department of Finance does not constitute a gift of public money and is, therefore, constitutional.

The court issued a peremptory writ of mandate commanding State Comptroller Ray L. Riley to issue his official warrant for $3661.93 as the purchase price of a drainage district warrant the Department of Finance had purchased for retirement with the consent of the State Reclamation Board.

Riley had contended that retirement of the warrants for bonds with money from a $4,000,000 fund appropriated last March by Congress constituted a gift of public money. The court held this contention without merit.

Petitioners for the writ of mandate were the State Reclamation Board and the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. (AP)—The State Railroad Commission today ordered the Great Western Power Company to appear before Commissioner Seavey on the 28th inst. to show cause why the commission should not establish immediately reduced interim rates for that company comparable to those fixed for the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's order of the 15th inst.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. (AP)—Charging that her husband, William Ernest Rilly, program manager of KOL, Seattle, divorced her fraudulently, Mrs. Louise E. Rilly of Los Angeles today moved to set aside the decree in Superior Court here. Mrs. Rilly alleged that Rilly in obtaining an interlocutory decree June 13, last, testified he could not locate her, when, as a matter of fact, he had sent her home to her parents. The divorce, she said, "came as a surprise."

GRAIN CORPORATION WIDENS BUYING SCOPE

CHICAGO, Jan. 18. (AP) — The Farmers' National Grain Corporation, through its general manager, William G. Kellogg, today broadened the scope of its wheat buying, extending it to include all the major terminals, bids in these terminals being based on the wheat values established by the Federal board as a basis for loans. These prices and the corporation's proposed activities involve cash grain. Wheat will be purchased at Chicago at $1.18 a bushel; in Minneapolis at $1.25, and in St. Louis at $1.25.

Members of the Commonwealth Club were apprised of this opinion today by R. B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California.

ALCOHOL LEAK FIGURES GIVEN

Doran Says Diversions Small and Growing Less

Amount Now Fifth as Much as Three Years Ago

Anti-Saloon League Assured Dry Law Will Stay

DETROIT, Jan. 17. (AP)—Diversion of industrial alcohol furnishes but a small portion of the intoxicating beverages sold by American bootleggers, Dr. James M. Doran, prohibition commissioner, said today in an address before the Anti-Saloon League national convention.

While asserting that the present diversion is one-fifth that of three years ago and is continuing to be reduced, Dr. Doran warned the dry crusaders that too much stress should not be placed on this phase of enforcement.

CORN-SUGAR RACKET

"Crippling of our scientific and educational institutions, our medical arts and our commercial organizations dependent on the efficient and rapid movement of, and procurement of essential alcohol supplies is too big a price to pay for extreme national prohibition," he said.

The commissioner estimated that not more than 2,750,000 gallons of industrial alcohol went into the bootleg market last year, while at least seven or eight times that amount of high-proof alcohol was manufactured illicitly from corn sugar. "The corn-sugar liquor racket now surpasses all others in the field of operation of the bootlegger," he said.

AS TO COAST GUARD

Asserting the Eighteenth Amendment "never will be repealed," Dr. Doran declared the Coast Guard and other enforcement agencies," will "continue to use arms when it is necessary for self-defense or to carry out their duties under the law."

To dry workers, Dr. Doran councelled less "tinkering with the top of prohibition and more work with the foundation—the people." It is preposterous, he said, to set up a standard of 100 per cent for prohibition enforcement when no one will apply that standard to any other law. For the present work of his department, he said, he had "no bucks to pass, no apologies to offer and no alibies to bring forward." The men of the bureau, he said, are exerting themselves to the limit.

MORE POWER FOR COMMISSIONER SOUGHT

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—Representative Barbour, Republican, of Fresno today introduced a bill giving United States commissioners authority to try misdemeanor cases.

The Barbour bill, based on the ideas of the late Judge Oscar A. Trippet of Los Angeles, and originally introduced in 1921, goes a step further than the recommendations of the Hoover Law Enforcement Commission. The commission, as a relief to the congested Federal courts, recommended the United States commissioners be given the authority to try misdemeanor cases where the plea is "guilty" and report the hearings to the district court for judgment and sentence on the case.

The measure introduced today provides for hearing of all misdemeanor cases by United States commissioners appointed by the United States district courts. The hearings, as provided in the bill, will be on both "guilty" and "not guilty" pleas and in accordance with rules laid down by the courts.

BYRD'S TEST KITES FOUND

Meteorograph and Valuable Records Undamaged; Crew Turns Yearning Eyes Homeward

BY RUSSELL OWEN

[Copyright, 1930, by the Los Angeles Times, New York Times and St. Louis Post-Dispatch. All rights for publication reserved throughout the world.]

LITTLE AMERICA, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—The meteorological kites which broke loose a few days ago and disappeared in the south have been found at the bottom of the bay about two miles soutwest of Cape Manhead. They were found by Dr. Goman, who has been helping in making a survey of the bay to check up with the aerial servey. The kites were apparently uninjured although they were half buried in the snow which has drifted over them in the strong wind since they were lost.

The meteorograph which records temperature, humidity and pressure was brought back. The meteorologists were delighted to recover it for it is their best instrument and is the one that was carried on the plane during the polar flight.

Much to their astonishment they found that the kite holding the meteorograph had flown for at least twenty-four hours after the wire snapped. The lower kite must have caught on the snow surface and held, the upper one flying until it was brought down by snow or rime forming on it or by the wind dropping.

It hit the surface of the frozen bay with a bang which showed on the revolving record sheet but the instrument was not injured. The kites can now be recovered although it is doubtful if they will be flown much more, as our stay here, we hope, is now only a matter of a little more than three weeks.

The New York was 444 miles north of Scott Island yesterday and should reach the pack in a few days. What she will find then and whether she will be able to get through is the most frequent topic of conversation in camp. The unusually heavy ice pack this year has made us doubt many times whether the ships can penetrate it and everything depends on the rapidity with which the pack disintegrates in the next few days.

Coast Guards Suspected of Liquor Bribe

BUFFALO (N. Y.) Jan. 17. (AP)—Four Coast Guardsmen, three of whom are under arrest here, are said to have been involved in the payment of a bribe by a Toledo bootlegger, it was disclosed tonight at the office of Lieut. M. W. Rasmussen, commander of the Coast Guard district. The amount said to have been distributed among the men, stationed at Port Clinton, was $2500.

Three of the guardsmen now in jail here will be tried next week, Rasmussen said. They are Joseph Libby, Atlantic City; W. E. Wynder, surfman, and W. J. Blakeslee, coxswain. A fourth guardsman who is said to have received $1000 of the bribe money has not been caught.

FOX'S PROGRAM WINS SUPPORT

Group of Theater Owners Approves Finance Plan

Issue of $35,000,000 in Securities Favored

Corporation Files Denial to Trust Accusation

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (AP)—A group of sixteen theater owners, representing 233 motion-picture theaters in twelve States, today met with William Fox and issued a statement indorsing his program for solving the financial problems of Fox Film Corporation and Fox Theaters Corporation.

The group examined records of the corporations and said in its statement it is convinced "of the correctness and propriety of the $35,000,000 issue of Fox Securities Corporation 7 per cent gold notes." These notes, the statement said, can take care of all outstanding liabilities.

INVESTMENT PROMISED

The exhibitors decided to "make substantial subscriptions" to the note issue, the statement said, "and will help organize regional meetings throughout the United States to bring the information given to us to the immediate attention of other theater owners."

The statement concluded with the declaration that "We feel that we cannot afford to stand by and see Fox Film Corporation or any other important producing organization hampered in its efforts to supply worth-while entertainment for the amusement-going public of the world."

TRUST CHARGE DENIED

Earlier in the day, answers were filed in Federal Court by the Fox Theaters Corporation, the Fox Film Corporation, and William Fox to a government suit charging violation of the antitrust laws. The answer denies that the defendants violated any laws of the United States in the affiliation of Fox and Loew interests through the purchase of 660,900 shares of Loew's, Inc., by the Fox companies.

The defendant Fox Film Corporation, the answer says, "avers that its purchase of stock in Loew's, Inc., did not and will not unduly lessen any competition or unduly obstruct any course of trade between the Fox group companies and Loew's, Inc., or Loew's group."

"LADDIE" SANFORD COMING

Polo's Best Mounted Player Due in Los Angeles Next Wednesday for Games at Midwick

BY FRANK ROCHE

Stephen (Laddie) Sanford, polo's best mounted player, is on his way to Los Angeles. Sanford is scheduled to arrive here Wednesday evening. He will take part in the coming Pacific high goal open championships which will be staged at Midwick from the 26th inst. to February 9. Sanford will captain his famous Hurricane four in the mallet classic on the Purple Field, near Alhambra.

LADDIE SANFORD

Sanford's ponies were shipped here early in the month and are now being conditioned at Midwick. Among the mounts shipped here by Laddie is Jupiter, a $22,000 pony, which is about tops for polo ponies. Sanford has a number of other mounts here that are rated with the fastest in the world.

Although the personnel of the Hurricane four has not been definitely announced it is almost a sure bet that Gerald Balding, English internationalist, will play with Sanford. Balding arrived here two weeks ago.

Argentine's crack twenty-four-goal team composed of Alfredo Harrington, Juan Reynal, Jose Reynal and Manuel Andrada are scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles from Havana Monday. Midwick officials, however, believe they may not pull in here until Wednesday or Thursday as they are expected to make a stopover in New Orleans.

The Argentine players' mounts, fifty in number, have been at Midwick for more than a month. They were shipped here from South America and are valued at $500,000. Thomas Nelson, brother of Jack Nelson, famous Argentine ace, is in charge of the ponies. He declares they are the best string of mounts collectively in polo.

Because of the inclement weather the low goal games at Midwick have been postponed for the past two weeks. The field, however, will be in fine shape for the big series, Capt. Wesley White, polo manager, states.

Within the next few days Midwick officials are expected to make an announcement on their new big four which will represent the Southland in the winter mallet classics. Two of the famous original big four, Eric Pedley and Carleton Burke, will be on the team again this year. Long-legged Elmer Boseke will be the third member of the squad. The fourth man has not been definitely selected. Hal Roach and Neil McCarthy rode with the Purple Club's high-powered outfit last year in turn. Roach has quit the game which leaves McCarthy open for the post. Lindsey Howard, former San Mateo player, is now doing his stuff at Midwick and may be the fourth man on the big four. He is a five-goal man and rated with the best on the Coast.

Purcell Lands Beverly Hills Coaching Job

The Major City League will lose one of its most popular and capable coaches within two weeks, when Jim Purcell, Jefferson High track and football coach, takes over new duties at Beverly Hills High, according to authentic information received yesterday. Just who will replace Purcell on the Democratic staff hasn't been decided yet. Purcell will coach track at Beverly Hills and may have a hand in football as well. His new duties start around the first of February.

Bob Shawkey, manager of the New York Yankees, and Bill Klem, big-league umpire, formed the other half of a foursome.

GREAT SHIRES WILL FIGHT ANOTHER PALOOKA IN RING

DETROIT, Jan. 17. (AP)—Vandes Gildersleeve, manager for "Battling" Criss of Rockwood, Mich., announced that he had accepted terms for a match between Criss and Charles Arthur Shires, pugilistic Chicago White Sox first baseman, in the Chicago Stadium, January 24.

It was Gildersleeve's charge that he had been approached with a proposal to "fix" the originally scheduled bout between Shires and Criss that led to the Chicago ballplayer's suspension by the Michigan Boxing Commission as well as the National Boxing Association. The suspension later was lifted against Shires, but continued in force against his manager, Nessie Blumenthal, and Benny Ray, Detroit promoter.

POMONA GRID BILL OUT

Sagehens to Play Five Southern California Conference Games Next Fall, Opening Against San Diego

CLAREMONT, Jan. 18.—The athletic department of Pomona College announced the 1930 football schedule for the Pomona varsity yesterday. Pomona will play only five conference games this year. For the past few years Pomona has been taking on all of the teams but evidently Coach Eugene Nixon wishes to take on a few outsiders during the coming football season.

For the first time in many a year the Sagehens will not open the conference schedule against Caltech. San Diego is scheduled to open the season at Claremont on October 4, next. As both the Sagehens and the Aztecs are strong contenders for the mythical conference championship light will be shed on the general situation early in the year.

EUGENE NIXON

Another departure from the time-honored custom will be the initiation of the Sagehen football team into the secrets of night football. Pomona is slated to tangle with the Caltech eleven either the 17th or 18th of October, next, the exact date to be decided upon by the Tournament of Roses Committee. The Caltech boys will have quite an advantage over the Pomona team, for they will be old hands at playing after dark, having engaged in two this past season.

Pomona will take only one lengthy trip during the coming year and that will be to Arizona, to tangle with the University of Arizona Wildcats. In all probability, the game will be played at Phoenix, as this city gets very little intercollegiate football and the citizens of the southern metropolis are quite anxious for the Sagehens to repeat their visit of last year. The Arizona and Pomona elevens put on quite a battle for the enjoyment of the spectators, the Sagehens finally winning, 15-12.

On Armistice Day, Pomona will battle the Whittier Poets, it being customary for the Whittier team to have a big celebration on that day, and Occidental and Pomona take turnabout in visiting the Quaker City.

Football prospects at Ponoma are fairly bright, and if Eugene White Nixon doesn't lose too many men by the faculty ax and all comes back to the school who claim they are, the Sagehens should have a real team next fall.

The Pomona schedule follows:

October 4—San Diego at Pomona.
October 11—Open.
October 18—Pomona at Caltech (night game.)
October 25—Redlands at Pomona.
November 1—Open.
November 2—Open.
November 11—Pomona at Whittier.
November 15—Open.
November 22—Pomona at Occidental.

BERG WINS BOUT FROM CANZONERI

Britisher Hands ex-Champ Worst Licking of Career in Fight at Garden

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (AP)—A gallant little fighting man, Smiling Tony Canzoneri, slipped suddenly from the list of ring masters tonight and headed down from the heights, battered into the worst defeat of his brilliant career by a spindle-armed Jewish lad from England, Jack (Kid) Berg.

Awed and almost unbelieving, 18,800 of the faithful sat rooted in their chairs in Madison Square Garden until it became too obvious to doubt longer that the great little Italian, former featherweight champion and within the year challenger for the lightweight crown, was but a shadow of himself—and this on the night he would have needed everything he ever had to whip the White Chapel whirlwind.

From the first round on, with the possible exception only of the third round, Berg, a slender youngster who never stops punching, battered Canzoneri from one set of strands to another. He ripped and slashed at Tony's body and smashed everlastingly at the Italian's smiling head.

For a few moments in the first round, and again in the third, Canzoneri, who is still only 24 years of age, battled with his old swashbuckling skill and abandon, blocking, weaving, slamming shots from either hand into the thin, dark, pinched features of the Jewish boy. But Tony could not keep the pace.

In every other round, Berg hammered him steadily despite Tony's frantic efforts to fight back and turn the tide with one belt or two on the chin. As the battle wore on, Tony's face became a mass of cuts. At every opportunity, he held and Referee Mike Hylas was constantly separating the fighters.

The two judges awarded the victory to Berg, while the referee voted for Canzoneri.

Canzoneri's brilliant record, including a hair-line defeat by Champion Sammy Mandell, in a title go in Chicago, had brought him into the ring a 2-to-1 favorite.

Canzoneri weighed 133; Berg, 134½.

Berg, who came to America for the second time in February of 1929, has been climbing the lightweight ladder steadily. He has been beaten only by Billy Petrolle, the Fargo Express. Berg probably will be matched immediately with Al Singer, Bronx sensation, with the winner challenging Sammy Mandell for a title shot in one of the major-league ball parks here this spring.

McGraw Picks Squad of 38 for Camp Trip

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (Exclusive) A squad of thirty-eight players, consisting of sixteen pitchers, four catchers, ten infielders and eight outfielders will form the working material with which Manager John McGraw hopes to mold a winning team for the Giants this year. The roster, which was released today by Secretary Jim Tierney, also includes the name of Dave Bancroft, who, though signed as head coach, likewise is listed as an active player. It is not likely, however, that the veteran Banny will see much active

La Barba to Meet Torres in Bout Here

Fidel La Barba and Johnny Torres were yesterday matched to box the ten-round main event at the Olympic on the 28th inst. Torres is also booked to work in the semi-wind-up to the Goldie Hess-Tony Canzoneri card in Chicago, February 7.

George Blake and Fidel canceled plans to return to the mountains. La Barba will work in town for this match. Benny Miller has been tentatively signed to work in the semi under La Barba and Torres.

SHERIDAN BEATS STRONG ALL WAY IN LEGION BOUT

Bald-headed Homer Sheridan of Sioux City, Iowa, won all the way and back again from Everett Strong of Omaha in the ten-round main event at the Hollywood stadium last night.

Returning to the ring after a five months' lay-off, Sheridan displayed renewed vim and vigor to pummell Strong at will. Slowness in following up his advantages cost the shiny-domed gladiator a possible knockout in the first round and again in the sixth. Strong was wobbly in both rounds, but was nursed back to life under Sheridan's careful handling.

Referee Abe Roth earned his money without laboring to any extent, as Sheridan won every round but the third and seventh.

Strong took quite a beating about the head, having a cut opened over

FAWCETT AND ROTHERT SPARKLE FOR STANFORD

Coach Barry's Basketball Team in Sorry Showing Against Invading Five at Shrine Auditorium

BY BRAVEN DYER

Showing a complete reversal of form over their exhibition against U.C.L.A. here last week, Husky Hunt's Stanford basketeers gave Southern California a convincing 35-to-23 thumping before a large assemblage at the Shrine Auditorium last night. The two teams meet against this evening.

The Cards were good last night. But it wasn't so much this as it was that the Trojans were a rather sad-looking outfit. Sam Barry's boys tried hard and that's about all you can say for them.

HARLOW ROTHERT

Stanford played faster basketball and Hunt's players proved themselves better shots. This was enough to give them victory.

Barry's boys broke slowly and never had a man coming out from under the basket. Jack Gardner, who has been doing considerable scoring for the Trojans, played only half the game. He was so sour that Sam couldn't use him more than that. During his stay on the court Gardner failed to make a single point and this naturally handicapped the Trojans, for Jack, with Frank Smith, has been Troy's scoring mainstay. Smith came up with the large total of 3 points.

Score at half-time favored Stanford, 21 to 11. In the second half the Trojans did a little better, making 12 points while the Cards were caging 14.

The defeat, Troy's second in three games, practically puts S.C. out of the running for the title.

Vance Fawcett, former Hollywood High School star, and Harlow Rothert, who hails from L. A. High, played brilliantly for the visitors. Fawcett caged seven field goals to

Jefferson Basketball Quintet Wins Fourth Straight Victory in Major City Cage

DEMOCRAT FIVE DEFEATS MANUAL ARTS TOILERS

Paul Schweinfurth Annexes High Point Honors in Wild Game; Final Score, 34 to 22

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Proving to be a real Major City League basketball title threat, Coach Ching Duhm's Jefferson Democrats humbled the Manual Arts Toilers, 34-22, yesterday afternoon in a wild, closely contested battle in the Democrats' gym.

The victory was Jefferson's fourth in league competition, having turned back Hollywood, Franklin and Poly before yesterday's affair. The win also placed them in first place with four wins, while Lincoln, who also has 1000 per cent, has won but three contests.

As usual, Paul Schweinfurth was the big noise for Jefferson, chalking up 17 points, on seven field goals and three free throws.

Bill Hardee, Manual center, was next in line with 9 points, while Eddie Johnson of Jefferson copped third-place honors with 8. Johnson made all his points in the first half, when the Toilers had Schweinfurth more or less bottled up.

The game started out like a walkaway for the Democrats, they having a 10-5 advantage at the end of the first quarter. However, the Toilers found the basket in the second period, registering 13 points to tie the count at half time, 18-18.

Jefferson's guarding was better than par in the third quarter, while Manual found trouble not only in finding the basket but in hitting the backboard, and as a result, the Toilers made only 1 point on a free throw by Despol. Schweinfurth registered 7 points in the third period, with Bob Sexton also hitting the bucket for 2 points, giving the Democrats an 8-point lead, which they never lost.

L.A. High meets Duhm's team next Tuesday on the Jefferson floor, and if the Democrats can manage to get over the Romans, they will meet Lincoln in the final round of play with a clean slate as Jefferson draws a bye next Friday.

BRUIN FRESHMEN UPSET LINCOLN CAGERS

Coach "Pop" Bates's cocky Lincoln High cagers yesterday met their Waterloo. The U.C.L.A. basketballers trounced them on the Tigers' own gym, 22-16, after staging one of the hardest-fought games seen in prepdom this season. The game, which was replete with thrills and plenty of action, was the first dropped by the Tiger basketeers, they having won eighteen consecutive starts with some of the finest cage squads in Southern California.

The frosh presented a formidable defense which the Lincoln boys found hard to penetrate. In fact, the last half of the clash saw the Tigers tossing the melon from the middle of the floor, as that is about as far as they could get through the frosh defense.

"Dud" Tower, former L. A. High cage star, and "Ted" Lempke, a product of Coach Bill Paige of Hollywood, were the outstanding men on the floor, dribbling through the entire Lincoln five to score. Binkley, the Bruins' six-foot center, copped high-point honors, collecting 9 digits; Lempke was next with 7 points. Only Lee Guttero's fine work at the pivot position saved the Tigers from being annhilated completely. The Tigers' good-looking center seldom lost the tip-off.

UNIVERSITY HUMBLES FREMONT, 23 TO 17

The University basketball tossers wound up their final Minor City League casaba tilt in a most pleasing manner yesterday when they scored 14 points in the last period to come from behind and beat the Fremont Pathfinders, 23 to 17.

The feature of the game was the complete blowing up of the Pathfinders in the final quarter, at which time they held a 6-point lead over the Warriors. Capt. Clark of the University outfit was high-point man for the game with 12 markers.

The Fremont babes handed the Papooses a 22-to-10 shellacking in the preliminary game. Quinn of the Pathfinders led the scorers with 20 points. The line-ups:

ROMAN QUINTET DEFEATS HOLLYWOOD, 30-15

Proving a bit too classy for the Foothiller five, Coach (Happy) Hemsath's L.A. Highh Romans smothered the Hollywood cagers under a 30-to-15 score in yesterday's game at the Movie City. Led by Jerry Nemer, who collected thirteen points, and Ferraris, who chalked up ten digits, the Romans swept into a 15-to-6 lead during the first half and kept increasing their margin during the final two quarters.

The Roman defense kept the Foothillers shooting from way out on the court, while Nemer and Ferraris continually worked the ball under the Hollywood basket for set-ups.

Watkins, Foothiller center, proved the best scorer for Hollywood by accounting for nine of his teams fifteen points.

Hollywood's classy lightweight team bumped the L.A. High Bees, 26 to 17, in the opener. It was the Roman lightweights' first defeat and dropped them out of the lead. Line-ups:

POLY QUINTET WINS OVER PANTHER FIVE, 24-11

Coach Ralph Jesson's Polytechnic cagers broke into the win column yesterday, when they trimmed the Franklin Panthers, 24 to 11, in the Mechanics' gym. The Mechanics sewed up the game in the second quarter, when they piled up ten points and took a 19-8 lead over the Panthers at half-time. There was little scoring in the second half.

Lyons, Oudermeulen, Dillenbeck and Mallenger divided the Poly scoring honors.

In the preliminary, Coach "Cop" Mahoney's Poly undefeated lightweights took undisputed possession of first place by thumping the Franklin Bees, 39 to 13, while Hollywood was handling the L.A. High midgets their first setback. Moeller and Groman were the scoring stars for Poly, the former hooping in fifteen points.

Coach Johnny Buelher's Belmont Hilltoppers wound up the Minor City League basketball race in second place as a result of their 35-to-19 victory over the Garfield Bulldogs, yesterday, in the Hilltoppers' gym.

Although the game was hard fought, Belmont's superiority was never questioned. The score at the end of the first half was 18 to 7 in favor of the Hilltoppers.

The Belmont babes handed the Bullpups one of their worst beatings of the year, when they registered a 36-to-7 victory. The win gave Coach Clarence Ebers's lightweight five the league championship. The line-up:

RABBIT PUNCHES BY PAUL LOWRY

"RACKETY, HACKETY"

FOOTBALL crawled back into the limelight at the annual banquet of the Southern California gridiron athletes the other night. There were the customary cheers and the huzzahs for all members of the varsity squad, plus an extra dose for the departing seniors and a perfectly ear-splitting yelp and rising demonstration for Russ Saunders.

In years to come it probably will be a moot question with the old-timers as to who received the greatest volume of cheers on departing the gridiron—Morley Drury the day he left the field at the Coliseum after running roughshod over Washington in 1927 or Russ Saunders the day he sparkled against Pittsburg and its four all-Americans.

The conductor of this column doesn't propose to be drawn into the dispute. He prefers to let the old-timers haggle over it just as some of the "grandfathers," as Warren Bovard called them, were scrapping over their respective feats of by-gone years at this year's banquet.

Let the "Rackety, Hackety" boys who were giving the college yell of a couple of decades ago settle the issue, and let Harry Lee Martin be the Moses to guide them.

And speaking of old times there are a few things the conductor would like to see some of the famous has-beens repeat:

(1.) Charley Parsons run a 100-yard dash.
(2.) Warren Bovard reel off a half-mile run.
(3.) Boyd Comstock bust the hurdles.
(4.) Harry Trotter put the shot.
(5.) Swede Evans kick field goals from the side lines.
(6.) Waldo Throop hit the tape with the flying finish which Charley Paddock later patented.
(7.) Gwynn Wilson eat up the yards on the anchor lap of a relay race.
(8.) Rabbit Mallette squirm through a broken field.
(9.) Charley Dean smash a line.
(10.) Hobo Kincaid run interference.

And so, ad lib.

SKINS OTHER PROPAGANDA

MR. G. S. THATCHER, vice-president of the Hermosa First National Bank, is the contributor of a bright idea which may or may not be relished by our Chamber of Commerce.

After reading a lengthy story about the S.C. victory over Carnegie Tech in the Paris edition of the New York Herald—a banner-line story by the way—Mr. Thatcher is moved to suggest that there are other and better means of exploiting this section of the country than those resorted to by the chamber. He comments on the matter as follows:

"As a rabid U.S.C. football fan I cannot help but bother you with the contents of this letter. Your article in Sunday's Times regarding the radio fans up in Oregon and Washington interested very much. I am today in receipt of the enclosed page taken from the Paris edition of the New York Herald sent to me from Gibraltar by a missionary friend on his way to South India whom I had occasion to entertain a couple of times this winter at the Coliseum with U.S.C. performing. He is a graduate of Harvard University and was a teacher in Simmons College in Massachusetts. I mention this to assure you that he should know his football.

"If such publicity as the enclosed is the result of a good football team, would it not be well to take the publicity program away from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and hand it to the U.S.C. organization? 'Red Dog' Killefer, Mayor of our beautiful city, the only legitimate competitor of Will Rogers, Mayor of Beverly Hills, heartily agrees with this program."

TOO MUCH CLASS

FIDEL LA BARBA'S easy conquest of Ignacio Fernandez, the boy who knocked out Al Singer, the New York flash, in three rounds has made it tough picking to find opponents for the former flyweight king.

After considerable scratching of the old gray dome Matchmaker "Wad" Wadhams of the Olympic came up for air with Johnny Torres by the hand, and announced the 28th inst. as the date for the next victim.

Mr. George Blake, manager of La Barba, probably will be accused of handpicking this opponent, but as a matter of fact he is handing his boy a tougher assignment than it sounds.

Torres is a knockout puncher with his right duke, and ever since Johnny Vacca bounced La Barba up and down off the canvas of a Boston ring and won two decisions from him in successive fights La Barba has always had considerable respect for a right hand.

It is true that fifteen months ago Torres, who had just climbed out of the preliminaries into the main-event class, essayed a six-round main event with Young Nationalista.

He was knocked stiff in one round by Nationalista, but has retraced his way up the ladder again, and in his last two semi-windups at the Olympic has demonstrated improved boxing skill and the same old right-hand sock.

He beat Frankie Murray in six rounds after flooring him for an eight count and on the Sangor-Zorilla card he stopped Luis Ramos in four rounds.

La Bellotte in Turf Triumph

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) Jan. 17. Dropping back behind the killing pace set by Calcite and then coming again when the front runner tired La Bellotte, Fred Almy's Kentucky bred Sweep filly, won the feature number here this afternoon. It was a seven-furlong dash for three-year-olds and brought out a field of five.

La Bellotte set the pace for a quarter and then let Calcite make the way to the stretch. Here Jockey Level let the filly out a notch and she came fast to gain the lead and win by a length and a half. Calcite got the place and O'Boyle the show. Time for the seven furlongs was 1:31 2-5 over the heavy track, which was fast drying out. Results:

First race, five furlongs—Joe G. (Warren,) won; Sun Lynn (Richardson,) second; National Wide (McHugh,) third. Time, 1:05 3-5.

Second race, one and one sixteenth miles—Lampasas (Cleverly,) won; Sylvanus (Corbett,) second; Louie Wright (Teasdale,) third. Time, 1:55.

Third race, five and one-half furlongs—Don K. (Moran,) won; Seth's Companion (Mulroony,) second; Sheepshead Bay (Richardson,) third. Time, 1:10 3-5.

Fourth race, five furlongs—Tanist (Inzelone,) won; Short Price (Moran,) second; Kit Carson (Whisman,) third. Time, 1:03.

Fifth race, seven furlongs—La Bellotte (Level,) won; Calcite (Schutte,) second; O'Boyle (Bertchel,) third. Time, 1:31 2-5.

Sixth race, six furlongs—Idealia (Richardson,) won; Nicaragua (Schutte,) second; Sam Beau (Redding,) third. Time, 1:16 1-5.

Seventh race, seven furlongs—Magdalena (Romano,) won; Homewood (Redding,) second; Clyde C. (Keiser,) third. Time, 1:30.

PANTHER FIVE PLAYS TROJAN DENTAL TEAM

The California Christian College Panthers will be hosts to the U.S.C. Dental five tonight in their gym, on North Vermont avenue. The Dentals won, 44-43, last year, but Coach Welch's basketeers have been improving lately, and should put up a good game.

Next Tuesday the Panthers are hosts to the undefeated L. A. Jaysee five, and on Saturday journey to meet the Whittier College five there.

THRILLING MAT CONTESTS LOOM

Lewis, Daviscourt Affair May Outshine Feature

The finish mat battle between Ed (Strangler) Lewis and Dick Daviscourt is expected to give the final event, a finish bout between Everett Marshall and Stanley Stasiak, a very close run for the evening's spotlight at the Olympic Wednesday night.

Interest in Marshall, since his victory over Joe Malcewicz here last week, has made the young mat sensation the most-sought-after grappler in the country, and interest in him and his wrestling ability is said to be just as keen here. More than 8500 fans are expected to be on hand for his battle with Stasiak.

The Lewis-Daviscourt battle is expected to be one of the wildest ever seen in the local ring. It will be their second meeting here. Daro brought them together here last year for their first match in almost five years, and it proved one of the best of the year. It was a hard, rough and spectacular battle, with Daviscourt appearing to have the best of the argument up until the closing minutes of the battle.

Ad Hermann of St. Louis will clash with Al Baffert of Hollywood in the opening match of this card.

of 7 1-5 seconds for 60 meters, tied the 100-meter record of 10 4-5 seconds, and ran 80 meters in 9 seconds, establishing a record for a distance at which no mark was listed.

In winning the 60-meter dash Karl was set back a foot for a false start, yet conquered Jimmy Daley of Holy Cross, his friendly rival of three years' running. Wildermuth lost to Daley in the indoor intercollegiates if my memory does not fail me.

In winning the outdoor I.C.4A. title last June at Franklin Field, Karl defeated Dyer of Stanford, Daley of Holy Cross, Mauer of Southern California and Harwood of Syracruse in 10 seconds flat. He met defeat at the feet of George Simpson of Ohio State University at the Penn relays in 9 3-5 seconds, but being beaten by George Simpson is no disgrace a-tall, especially in 9 3-5 seconds!

Wildermuth is Georgetown's ace for the coming track season, and should score many a point for the Hilltoppers before he graduates. He lives in Long Island, the part of the world that sent Ray Barbuti out to win national and Olympic honors on the cinder path.

service unless some mishap should befall Travis Jackson at short.

Nine of the sixteen pitchers are rookies acquired either during the winter or recalled toward the close of last season. They are Wallie Brush, purchased from Tampa, Joe Heving of Memphis, Ray Lucas and Roy Parmelee of Toledo, O., Herb Pruett of Newark, William Poweley and Ambrose Putnam who were signed as free agents, Jim Tennant, who pitched for New York last year, and Louis Winer, former Crane College star.

The catching staff is one of the smallest McGraw has taken south in years. Frank Hogan and Bob O'Farrell, are the only regulars and to these two have been added two semipros, Francis Healey and Francis La Voque. Louis Allen of Wilkes-Barre and Harvey Ballew of San Antonio are the only additions to the Giant infield squad of last year, while George Fisher of Buffalo, Ray Fitzgerald of Springfield and Sam Leslie of Memphis are the only newcomers among the outfielders.

The first squad of pitchers and catchers are to report to San Antonio on February 15. The remainder of the players will report two weeks later.

Midwick Four Will Play in Channel City

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 17. Polo in Santa Barbara and the Southland took an upward turn today, when telephone wires hummed between here and Midwick Country Club in Pasadena, and Jim Colt of Santa Barbara exchanged "how do you do's" and weather comments with Capt. Weslie White of Midwick.

Major Max Fleischmann was next called into the conference, and the outcome of the affair was that Fleischmann field No. 1 will be dry enough for play on Sunday, providing there is no more rain between now and the end of the week. Midwick will be represented by a fourteen-goal aggregation, headed by Gerald Balding, eight-goal English star. Young Balding is a seasoned player in this country, having shone at Rumson, New Jersey, for several seasons, and is a talked-of tryout for the British international team next spring. He is a member of Stephen (Laddie) Sanford's team, which will appear later this winter at Midwick.

STUDENTS PLEDGE MONEY FOR SANTA BARBARA STATE FIELD

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 17.—Following a program presented by the athletic field improvement committee at the State College this morning more than 250 students pledged a minimum of $10 each to go toward work on the field.

The committee has been at work for some time devising ways of raising the money and has been assured that aid from alumni and other sources will come provided that the school could first help itself. Almost every student in the assembly hall pledged money. Several hundred more dollars will be raised.

The field is in such a condition at present that it will not be ready for the coming track season. If enough money is raised, it is planned to fix it so football games can be played there next year.

REDLANDS FACES LA VERNE

Southern California Conference Basketball Game Features Baptists and Leopards Tonight

Members of the Southern California Conference will tangle in three important basketball contests tonight which mark the second round in the 1930 race for the championship. The feature tilt brings La Verne to Redlands to engage the Bulldogs in the second of a two-game series in which the Bulldogs are favorites to annex.

The remaining circuit contests are between Occidental and Caltech at the Engineers' gym, and Pomona and San Diego State College in Claremont, home of the Sagehens. In addition, Whittier College is carded for a nonconference tilt with the Santa Barbara State Teachers' College at Santa Barbara.

La Verne and Redlands are fighting for the leadership of the circuit along with Pomona. The Sagehens are conceded a win over the Aztecs of the South, while the Tigers should manage to conquer the Tech quintet. The Poets will, of course, bowl over their noncircuit rival in a somewhat lopsided score, or should anyway.

Occidental plans an entirely new combination to meet the threat of the Pasadena Engineer five. Kienholz, Oxy mentor, has shifted Lyle MacAllister, forward, back into the guard post, which he held last year, while Abe Elliott, a guard, replaces Perry Seller, brilliant but short and fighting center. The forwards are Larry Dimter and Dick Glover, and Capt. Beebe the other guard.

Caltech's charges are headed by Capt. Bernardi, with Tutshulte, forward; Pratt, forward; Liedolhm and Hodden, guards, all veterans of last year's team, forming a strong combination that may upset the visiting Eagle Rock representatives as have many football teams in the past beaten the Tiger elevens when underrated and given no chance whatsoever.

Pomona is rejoicing in the return to form of Capt. Clarence Bishop, veteran center, whose injuries sustained in football this and last year have halted his usual brilliant cage play. Al Putnam, likewise injured, is back in shape and will replace Stan Hahn at one forward berth. The remaining starting members of the Sagehen five are Jelson and Clemente, guards, and Harold Hadfield at the second forward berth.

CARDS UPSET TROJAN FIVE

become high-point man of the evening, while Capt. Rothert's work at guard stamps him as one of the best in the southern division of the Coast Conference.

Stanford got away to a 4-to-0 lead on baskets by Rothert and Fawcett. The Trojans finally equaled the count when Smith and Pierce caged free throws and the latter also got a field goal. Caldwell put Troy in the lead with a field goal, but Fawcett promptly tied the count for the Cards.

Smith got a neat basket and S.C. was out in front again, 8 to 6, but Tyler made good on a free throw to make it 8 to 7. Lehners then caged one from the floor and the Trojans were leading, 10 to 7.

At this stage of the game Fawcett broke loose all over the place to score three field goals in a row. Once he did it on a neat dribble. Another time he stood all alone under the basket and took a long pass from Rowley. Pierce put S.C. in the running by a free throw, making it 11 to 13, but McCandless got steamed up and caged a field goal for Stanford.

MORTENSEN IN

Barry decided it was time for drastic action, and sent Big Jess Mortensen, bum shoulder and all, into the fray. It was a cinch that Jess couldn't do any worse than the boys on the floor. Fawcett responded by cutting a pass and dribbling in for a basket and then McCandless caged two in a row and the half ended with Troy bringing up the rear, 21 to 11.

The Trojans spurted a bit at the start of the second period and worked the score to 21 to 14 on points by Lehners and Pierce. But this was only a temporary gain, for McCandless and Rowley broke out in a rash and put Stanford well out in front, 28 to 17, with nine minutes left to play. And all this without Fawcett, who was enjoying a brief rest on the bench.

Stanford players didn't bother to exert themselves much after this and the game slowed down as the Cards coasted to victory.

Yesterday morning the writer said Stanford couldn't possibly be as bad as that 63-to-30 thumping at the hands of U.C.L.A. last week seems to indicate. At that time the Bruins were hot and Stanford was very sour. Last night the Trojans were off their feed, or something, and Stanford looked very spry. But if Barry's boys are going to win tonight they will have to break faster and cover their men better. Fawcett and McCandless were unattended on numerous occasions last night.

FINE MATERIAL

Early in the year I felt that Stanford had the best basketball material in the southern division of the Coast Conference. But when the Cards were so badly slaughtered by the Bruins was no time to say so. Such players as Fawcett, Rothert, McCandless, Hawkins and Reynolds are better than anything S.C. has to offer. The only consoling thought for local fans is that the best of 'em come from Southern California, Fawcett, Rothert and McCandless all hailing from this region.

Barry really hasn't much to work with but his boys should have played better basketball than they did last night. Maybe they will do so this evening. But they will have to work the ball down the floor in much better fashion than they did last night.

The harrowing details:

ORANGE HIGH CAGERS DEFEAT HUNTINGTONS

Orange High's basketballers last night handed Coach Minor's Huntington Beach highly touted cage five a 21-15 drubbing in a game held on the losers' court. Peterson and Stock, Orange High's star forwards, were the outstanding players on the floor, being mainly responsible for the win through the wonderful basket shooting of the two "dead eye Dicks," as they are called.

The outcome of the encounter was never in doubt, the Orange boys leading the Beach basketeers, 16-6, at half time.

chances on the sporadic brilliance of such men as Whitey Nealson, Joel Coffield and Russ Avery.

As predicted, Capt. Perry Ten Eyck will lend his six feet two inches in height to the center job. Kent Pursel and Wilson Tripp, both better than six feet, will try to loop them in as forwards. William Davis at one guard is exactly six feet tall and Carl Vendt at the other is six feet two inches.

The entire California team has been improving at a consistent pace. Ten Eyck is beginning to shoot straight into the basket, a habit of his in other seasons. Pursel is the Nemisis of all opponents since the disastrous Kansas series where Capt. Ten Eyck and Coffield were out of the running.

In addition, the idea that they will have to fight for their honors this season has spurred the Californians to surprising industry. Aside from this, there is actually competition for places on the team. Price has some hopes of trimming the squad which so neatly trimmed Stanford.

Jack Miller, a substitute for Ernie Owens, decided that enough was sufficient in the first round of the semifinal bout. After taking four in the chin, from Joe Bitto Miller folded up like day couch and slumbered lustily. The bout was scheduled for six rounds.

Kid Ponce had twice as Much on the ball as Mike Cordova, who had nothing, and won a tame decision in the six-round special event. Both boys were warned in the sixth round, but failed to take the hint. The bout was lustily booed.

Midget Wiswell stopped Tommy Liberto in the third round of the second preliminary. Limberto was down for a two count in the first round, but was rapidly gaining ground in the third round when he ran smack into a right-hand punch to the head. Apparently mistaking the count, Liberto got up at 10 only to find himself counted out. It was a rousing bout to the finish.

Cliff Barrier was already to have his hand raised over Frankie Abendino at the end of the first four-round preliminary, but imagine his embarrassment when the referee picked Abendino instead. The decision was odoriferous, and the fans raised quite a holler.

Group Leaders Play Off for Championship

Southern California's interclub team match champions for the past two years, golfers of the Los Angeles Country Club will seek to make it three in a row when the 1930 season opens on Wednesday, the 29th inst.

George T. Cline, team match committee chairman, yesterday announced the complete schedule, which runs through January, February and March. Eight groups of four clubs each will compete in a weekly series, and the ultimate group champions will then play off for the Peter Cooper Bryce trophy, emblematic of the team match championship.

Groups No. 2, Bel-Air, Midwick, San Gabriel and Lakeside; No. 6, California, Rancho, Brentwood and Hollywood, and No. 7, Annandale, Los Angeles, Wilshire and Flintridge, play their matches on Wednesdays, while the remaining five groups are scheduled to play on Sundays.

Los Angeles won the championship last year after hotly contested matches, defeating California, 4 to 3, in the semifinal round, and Flintridge by the same score in the finals.

As Flintridge and Los Angeles are in the same group this year, and both have practically the same teams returning, they will likely battle for the honor of getting into the play-off.

MONTEBELLO PLANS FIRST AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP

The first championship tournament under the direction of the Montebello Park Golf Club will be held in February, with Willie Hunter, professional in charge, supervising the play. Entries are now being received and the list will be kept open until the 31st inst. The tournament will be open to all amateurs. The entry fee will be $1. There will be sixteen men in each flight, and there will be as many flights as entries warrant.

RAIN FAILS TO STOP PLAY AT SUNSET FIELDS

Despite last week's rain, both Sunset Fields courses are in full operation, according to Manager Ralph Heath, and play continued throughout the wet-weather period. More than 300 golfers played Sunday during the heavy rain, setting a record, when many other local links were under water.

Basketball

Prominent members of Los Angeles' own Wall street will be on hand tonight at the Hollywood High School and John Burroughs Junior High's gyms to give the Bears' and Bulls' divisions of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange Basketball League a good send off in the second half of the league's schedule. In effort to complete the schedule by the middle of February, the two division teams are going to play three games a week instead of two as heretofore.

The Bulls' division teams are scheduled to start on the Hollywood gym, while the Bears will play at the junior high basketball court. The first half of the schedule which was completed this week found the E. F. Hutton five leading the Bulls' division, going through their schedule undefeated. The E. A. Pierce quintet of the Bears also finished their half of the schedule with a clean slate. As a result, the two teams are favored to come through undefeated in the second half and tangle in a play-off for the Exchange Basketball League title.

HOLLYWOOD AND RICHFIELD MIX

Oilers Loom as Local Hope in Hockey Race

Hockey experts locally are beginning to venture the opinion that if a local team is to get into the play-off for the California Hockey League title, that team will be Los Angeles Richfields. Hoping to prove that this is the right dope, the Richfields will meet their bitter local rivals, the Hollywood Millionaires, in a league game at the Winter Garden Ice Palace Monday night.

Erratic play seems to be costing the Millionaires their chance at the title, although they are far from being entirely out of it. This inconsistency is never more evident than against the Richfields, who have been the ever-present menace to the Hollywood peace of mind all season. Experts feel that if the Millionaires cannot beat their local rival they cannot hope to beat the powerful Bay City Clubs.

Only the past week the Millionaires appeared well started on a drive for the top, shutting out the champion Oakland Sheiks, 3 to 0, and tying San Francisco's Tigers, 3 to 3, but as has been the case all season the Millionaires ran into a rut and were beaten by the Oaks, 5 to 1, Thursday night.

"Smokey" Harris, Millionaire manager, is far from satisfied with the showing of his knights of the blade. He knows that Hollywood has the man power and ability to make its mark in this league but he knows, too, that Richfield has won two straight games from the Millionaires and before that tied one game to make it three games in which the Millionaires have failed to triumph.

Furthermore, Harris is dissatisfied with his own play and he promises to get in there and score some goals on the tough Oiler defense Monday.

SUNFREZE BEARS TO PLAY LIONS

Cliff Coleman's Sunfreze Bears will make another determined effort to stop, Ted Leo Roy's league-leading Gilmore Lions tonight at the Winter Garden Ice Palace, in the twentieth ice hockey clash of the season. These two squads have staged some of the hardest-fought and roughest battles of the season, and this evening another of those elbow-rubbing affairs is looked for.

Gilmore defeated the Bears last week by a score of 3-2, but the ice-cream boys questioned several decisions by Referee Newell, which they claim robbed them of the game. Sunfreze will rely on the shooting ability of one Woody Woodley, the league-leading goal scorer and star center. Woodley scored three against Union last Wednesday night, bringing his total up to twenty-three for the season. Richards, Collette and McLellan are also dependable shots and will keep the Oiler defense boys busy.

The game will get under way promptly at 8:30 p.m.

Dr. Hardy to Quit Tennis

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. (AP)—After thirty-five years of association with the sport, both as a player and an official, Dr. Sumner Hardy, president of the California Lawn Tennis Association, today announced his decision to retire from all tennis activities.

Dr. Hardy declared that when his thirty years of continuous service as president of the California State Lawn Tennis Association is completed in March, he will not permit his name to be proposed again for the office. Dr. Hardy also declared he would refuse to allow his name to be presented as a delegate to the United States Lawn Tennis Association and a member of the executive committee, nominating in his stead William Johnston, former national tennis champion.

COCHRAN RALLIES TO TAKE BILLIARDS LEAD

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (AP)—Welker Cochran of Los Angeles came back with a rush today to take the lead in his three-cushion billiards match with Augie Kieckhefer of Chicago. Cochran led tonight, 300 to 294.

Cochran won both of today's blocks, 71 to 45, in sixty innings this afternoon and 500 to 49 in fifty-eight innings tonight. He had a high run of seven this afternoon and five tonight. Kieckhefer's best clusters were five and four.

HARVARD FIVE WHIPS LOYOLA HIGH TEAM

Harvard Military five whipped the Loyola Lion Cubs yesterday afternoon, 20-16, in a hard-fought game in the Cadets' gym. It was the Harvard team's second victory within two days, having drubbed Burbank High, 23-15, Thursday afternoon. McGinnis starred in both games.

SOCCER DATE CHANGED BY CITY LOOP PREXY

President William Simpson of the Los Angeles Soccer League announced yesterday that the Vikings will play the Magyars tomorrow afternoon at 1 p.m. at Loyola Field instead of Hollywood as originally scheduled. The other games on the card are the same.

PARROT IMPORT BAR UP AT PORT

Fourteen-Day Detention in Quarantine Ordered

South American Birds Under Health Board Ban

Rule to Hold Until Removal Deemed Advisable

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Parrots arriving from South America will be detained here fourteen days by the Los Angeles City Health Department, to ward against entry of psittacosis or so-called "parrot disease," of which a few persons have died recently in American cities.

The order went into effect yesterday, according to Dr. G. S. Porter, first assistant city health officer, and hereafter every commercial shipment of the South American parrots will be met at the harbor by department officials. C. G. Conditt has been detailed to handle such quarantine.

The birds either will be incarcerated in coops at the harbor or allowed to go to their destination and be quarantined there. Which procedure will be followed had not been decided. The fourteen days covers the incubation period, or the time within which a bird exposed to the disease may become ill. If no disease develops within the period the birds are to be released.

This quarantine will remain until the condition in South America is relieved, according to Dr. Porter, but as outbreaks on the Atlantic Coast and in Europe have appeared periodically since psittacosis was discovered in 1879, the city's protective measure may be permanent.

The precaution is declared entirely within the city's province, as the United States Public Health Service exercises quarantine only over communicable diseases, such as cholera, plague, smallpox, yellow fever, typhus fever and leprosy.

Psittacosis is admittedly serious, but is spread only by contact with a diseased bird or patient, according to Maj. H. A. Spencer, in charge of Federal quarantine work at the harbor. Symptoms are declared similar to typhoid fever, but the main danger is from pneumonia, where the mortality rate is high.

OVERHAUL OF LINER YALE NEAR FINISH

Lassco Line's coastwise liner Yale will come off the dry dock at the yards of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corporation tonight or tomorrow with a new streamline rudder, which is expected to give the racing white liner more speed than ever.

Her regular period for dry docking and overhaul was advanced a week when her starboard wheel hit some minor obstruction two days ago en route from San Francisco.

As parts already were at the yards awaiting her entry next week they were installed immediately. They include a new stern tube, new shaft, the rudder and a new starboard propellor.

On her discharge from dry dock the Texas Oil Company's tanker California will be lifted for cleaning, painting and minor repairs. This tanker is in the midst of a five-strip charter to transport fuel oil to copper mining companies in Chile for the Chile Exploration Company.

Four million dollars worth of Japan silk, loaded in the North Pacific, and bound for New York intercoastal, arrived yesterday on the American Hawaiian steamer Pennsylvanian, which will lift 1900 tons of cotton, beans and borax here. From the same dock the Willpolo will sail today for Norfolk and Baltimore with 1100 tons, including twenty-five used Liberty airplane motors. The Golden River, formerly the Diablo, docked at the same terminal and will carry more than 100,000 cases of petroleum out for the Orient the 22nd inst.

Another shipment of the Navy's new huge twin-engined bombing planes, which are being sent to Pearl Harbor, will go out at noon today for Honolulu aboard the Lassco liner Calawaii. In addition to eighty cabin passengers, the Calawaii will also take out in her freight list shipments of canned goods, beverages, machinery and building materials.

The Lassco flaship City of Los Angeles arrived from the islands yesterday morning with passengers and freight. Prominent among those arriving were Dr. Augustus Thomas, president of the World Federation of Educational Association; Alexander Hume Ford, director of the Pan-Pacific Union; Robert Mehrtens, Hawaiian representative of General Motors Export Company, and Frederick Oliver, Rochester (N. Y.) attorney, with his family. The City of Los Angeles will sail again for Honolulu on the 21st inst. with 220 passengers.

Port shipping men recognized yesterday the former American tanker Gold Shell in the Norwegian tanker Willy, in from Rotterdam and sailing last night for Buenos Aires with a fuel cargo. With her sisters, the Pearl Shell and Silver Shell, the Willy was shifted to Norwegian registry and renamed under the fleet reorganization of the Royal Dutch Shell Oil Company.

The new French Line motor liner Oregon is five days ahead of scheduel from Europe, and is expected here the 22nd inst., according to General Steamship Corporation, agents. She is the first of four new sister liners which French Line will enter in the Pacific-European run early this year, each having accommodations for fifty pasengers, refrigeration compartments, and speed. Capt. Jules Duchesne commands her. The steamer Iowa of the same line is due from Europe the 20th inst., to discharge 750 tons.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. (AP)—Calm and foggy weather off the California coast today caused the sailing of the four-masted fishing schooner William H. Smith to be postponed until tomorrow. The Smith, first of the Alaska fishing vessels to be ready to leave San Francisco, and one of the few sailing ships slated to leave here this year, was scheduled to leave for the Aleutian Islands today. Reports of calm weather outside the heads, however, resulted in Capt. Gus Schmidt postponing the sailing until tomorrow, rather than drift around outside the Golden Gate. The Smith has no power except sails.

William P. (Bill) Neeson, passenger agent for the Panama Mail Steamship Company, today was promoted to assistant passenger traffic manager with headquarters here, William A. Young, Jr., passenger traffic manager, announced. Neeson joined the predecessor of the Panama Mail, the old Pacific Mail Steamship Company, in 1907. He has served as passenger agent at Yokohama, Shanghai and Hongkong, and is also widely known on the Pacific Coast.

PORTLAND, Jan. 17.—Two of three suits filed against the Pacific Atlantic Steamship Corporation of this city as a result of the wreck of the steamer Laurel on Peacock Spit at the mouth of the Columbia River last June, have been dismissed in Federal Court here this week, pending a legal encounter expected when a petition for limitation of disability recently filed by the owners of the vessel, is heard by the court.

Suit for damages totaling $23,000 brought against the steamship company by the Central Coal and Coke Company for the loss of 1,361,000 feet of lumber was dismissed today. Suit for $72,144 damages brought by the Fireman's Fund Insurance Company of San Francisco, was dismissed yesterday. Both libellants charged the steamship company with negligence in loading and operating the vessel on its ill-fated voyage.

The steamship company's petition for limitation of disability denied that negligence was responsible for the wreck and asserted the disaster resulted "from an act of God." Limitation of liability to one lifeboat and one nautical instrument valued at $50, the total salvage from the wreck, was asked in the petition.

The three damage suits filed against the company totaled $107,426.90.

"It is gradually extending its operations into wider territory, having recently entered the State of Washington. Plans are now being made for its entry into Colorado, Idaho and Montana and also for the establishment of a general agency in New Orleans to cover Louisiana and Mississippi. Another general agency will probably be established shortly in Atlanta to cover the six southeastern States."

Branch offices are now maintained in San Francisco, Oakland and Portland and another branch will probably be established in Seattle.

In addition to Mr. Phillips and Mr. Pierce, officers are O. Rey Rule, executive vice-president; Preston Hotchkis, treasurer; Frank E. Wright, assistant treasurer, and L. C. Rollins, secretary.

New Exchange Volume Light

The third session of the new California Stock Exchange proved quieter yesterday than either of the two preceding days of operation as a general uneasiness and depression was manifest among other security markets of the country.

While a large number of bid and asked quotations were posted the volume of trading fell off. Bolsa Chica again played a part in the day's activity and Transamerica was transferred to the extent of 400 shares with 1100 rights also changing hands.

KOLSTER STORY CHECKERED

Second Largest Radio Company, Now Facing Requests for Receivership, Started in California

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Kolster Radio Corporation, the most recent of the large industrials to face the possibility of receivership, is primarily a California company, having started on California capital and is still officered by Californians. Rudolph Spreckels of San Francisco is chairman of the board, and Lieutenant-Commander Ellery W. Stone, formerly in charge of the San Diego Naval Station, is the president.

Kolster's career, both industrially and stock marketwise, has been checkered with sensations and disappointments. For a number of years when radio was in its infancy the company struggled along as the Poulsen Wireless Corporation, trying to develop a business in wireless messages. Developments by its own engineers, the popularity of radio following the war, and the inauguration of aggressive expansion in manufacturing and transmission, combined ultimately to elevate Kolster to ranking as the second largest radio company in the world.

SPECULATION ENTERS

In the latter part of 1928 and the early part of 1929 the speculators in the stock market were attracted to Kolster by its record of expansion and its prospects for large profits from manufacturing operations. Contracts had been signed to furnish wireless and radio equipment to the Mackay companies and International Telephone, and to Wired Radio, Inc., a subsidiary of the North American Company. Kolster had previously entered into an agreement to supply Columbia Phonograph with radio sets designed for radio-phonograph installation.

With all the dash and enthusiasm that characterized speculation at that time, the stock market made Kolster the favorite of the hour. Pools in Los Angeles, San Francisco and New York were working in the stock and the public lent a willing hand. The result was a high for 1928 of 95 7-8, after which the price dropped off to 78 3-4 in January, 1929. The decline was not headed throughout 1929 until a low of 3 1-2 was reached in December.

As in a good many other stocks, the stock market suddenly awoke to the fact that earnings had been ignored in the enthusiasm over radio and its future. The surprising discovery was made that earnings for the twelve months ended March 31, 1929, were only equal to 86 cents a share, and for the year of 1928, had only been 20 cents a share. At 95 the stock had been selling at 475 times earnings of 20 cents in 1928.

LESS REVEALED

The latest financial statement discloses an operating loss for Kolster for the year ended September 30, last. The net loss was reported at $916,232 after charges including depreciation, while a profit of $707,529 was earned in the twelve months ended March 31, 1929.

Two receivership actions have been filed against the company asserting operations are proceeding unsatisfactorily and unprofitably. The second application filed on Thursday states the assets are only $2,000,000 against liabilities of $18,000,000, inclusive of capital stock outstanding.

Behind Kolster's rise in the radio industry has been the work of an impressive group of inventors and engineers, whose patents give to Kolster a strong position regardless of temporary financial difficulties. Valdemar Poulsen, the Danish inventor, who supplied the first practical method of generating continuous waves, the Poulsen arc, disposed of the American rights to the San Francisco group who formed the original company. The patents of Prof. Reginald Fessenden were obtained through the merger of Federal Telegraph with C. Brandes, Inc.; and the right to manufacture and sell equipment based on the De Forest oscillating audion vacuum tube was acquired through the fact that Lee De Forest developed his inventions while employed by Federal Telegraph in 1912.

Frederick A. Kolster, chief research engineer, for whom the company is named, is the inventor of the radio compass and the radio beacon. The Kolster company also acquired some 600 inventions in the fields of radio, wire radio, talking motion pictures, television, etc., through the contract signed in 1928 with Wired Radio, Inc.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (AP)—One million shares of General Motors Corporation common stock has been acquired by the corporation at a cost of about $35,000,000, to be sold to the Second Managers' Security Company, it was reported in Wall street today.

Purchase of 1,000,000 shares for about $35,000,000 means that the parent corporation obtained at least a large part of the stocks at prices substantially below current market levels.

The stock is now selling around $38 a share, although it dropped to $33.50 a share in the November break. Its high point last year was $91.75.

The company, with its predecessor, originated in an abandoned tool shed in 1922 with a borrowed capital of $15,000.

CANADA'S GOLD VIEWS TOLD

Finance Minister Dunning Says Position Unchanged Since Law Enacted in 1915

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—When I asked the Hon. Charles A. Dunning, Canadian Minister of Finance, why Canada temporarily left the gold standard, he replied:

"Canada's position on the gold standard remains the same today as in past years. No change has taken place during the last six months."

Apparently the confusion regarding Canada's position arose in overlooking the Canadian statute of 1915 which authorized the issuance of $26,000,000 of currency without a gold reserve.

If these notes are not taken into consideration, Canada has more gold reserve than is required under the law.

On November 30, last, the Canadian Finance Department issued a statement showing that the total of Dominion notes outstanding amounted to $211,557,000, while the gold held in the treasury vaults at that time amounted to $62,827,000, over 30 per cent gold reserve.

While it is technically true that Canada has a gold reserve sufficient to meet the statutory requirements, the 1915 statute makes a joke of the gold standard theory.

It is expected that the Canadian government will solve this situation shortly by placing a short-term loan in New York to liquidate the temporary adverse balance caused at the present time in a large way by the great amount of wheat still in storage in Canada, waiting for a favorable world price.

Canada is likely to meet this problem very soon because the adverse rate of exchange, which has been as high as 2 per cent, is a real burden on Canadian imports.

Think of increasing expenses $4,000,000 a month! That's about what Gov. Roosevelt of New York has suggested to the New York Legislature for the next fiscal year, beginning July 1.

He asks for a total of $311,198,000 as against last year's total of $264,834,000.

In a word, the State of New York spends more money than the States of Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Oregon, North Carolina, South Carolina, Kentucky, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Georgia and Florida combined.

Yes, and in addition, we can add the total expenses of the States of Massachusetts, New Jersey, Ohio and Indiana to the States mentioned before. Quite a State, this New York!

State expenditures are growing. For twenty years New York has spent every year a greater amount than the year before. The one exception was when Gov. Miller carved the 1921 budget down $10,000,000 below the totals for 1920.

But nearly every other State reports the same condition. Yes, the price of government comes high.

DEMAND ON WOOL MART IRREGULAR

Prices Reported Fairly Steady and Mill Buyers in Waiting Attitude

BOSTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin of Boston will say tomorrow:

"There has been some desultory business in the local wool market this week at prices which have been fairly steady on the whole. There is a disposition to wait a bit, however, to see what the London sales do Tuesday. Manufacturers moreover are in between seasons, more or less, although cheerful regarding the outlook.

Foreign markets favor the buyer slightly for the most part, although Merinos are relatively a bit stronger than crossbreds at the moment.

The chief news has been the appointment of Draper & Co. as selling agents for the National Wool Marketing Corporation.

Mohair is very dull with prices hardly changed.

The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1, 1930 to January 16, 1930, inclusive, were 8,470,000 pounds against 9,509,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1930 to January 16, 1930, inclusive, were 11,154,200 pounds against 9,415,800 pounds for the same period last year.

Wheat Market Rallies After Weak Opening

CHICAGO, Jan. 17. (AP)—Emphatic disclaimers that the Canadian wheat growers' pool has become weak-kneed on wheat market prospects led to sharp rallies today in wheat values here. Earlier the Chicago wheat market, influenced by reports of flattening out of European demand for breadstuffs and that Canadian banks were forcing customers to sell wheat, had plunged downward to the lowest point reached since November 12, with rye quotations today showing a temporary break of 5c a bushel. Toward the end of the day, however, assertions came from the Canadian growers' pool that world demand for wheat is improving, and that the pool will be able to dispose of its wheat to advantage.

Flurried selling of wheat and other grain in Chicago was replaced by sudden scarcity of offerings, and prices made a quick recovery with previous speculative sellers becoming active. Wheat closed irregular at ¼c net decline to ⅝c advance. Rye finished 1½c to 2¼c off, corn ½c to 1c up, oats unchanged to ⅛c higher, and provisions showing 20c to 30c gain.

Late upturns in Chicago wheat prices were accelerated by authoritative statements that the Canadian wheat growers' pool has not been and is not now active in the liquidating sales which have been witnessed at Winnipeg. The Canadian pool was stated to be in a very sound position, and without change in any respect as to the pool's view of unquestionably sound world conditions regarding wheat.

Helping further today's late recovery in grain values were indications that a good sized export business in North American wheat had resulted from early breaks in prices, and that supporters of the rye market were prepared to accept all deliveries on March contracts.

It was uneasiness regarding rye market conditions here, coupled with talk of Canda possibly outgeneraling the United States as to wheat exports, which was largely given blame for selling rushes here that temporarily overwhelmed the pits.

Unfavorable weather for corn movement, together with complaints of extensive damage to seed corn and the quality for corn in cribs, did much to give independent strength to the corn market. Owing to early weakness of wheat, however, March and July corn today sold early at new low price records for the season. Oats were governed by the action of wheat and corn.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Gladding McBean held the attention of traders on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday, recovering from its recent dormant state to turn suddenly active, and, with 1250 shares changing hands, advanced to 57 1-2. The move was in face of a general recession in line with operations on the parent board, the market as a whole closing fractionally lower.

Security Company units featured with an advance of 1 1-2 points to 51 1-2 and was the only other issue on the board to show a gain on the day. Fokker dropped 2 points to 15 3-4 and Crystalite 1 point to 11, a new 1929-1930 low. Small declines were marked up for Cities Service, Claude Neon of Delaware, Neon of New York, Hancock Oil, Pacific Associates, Intercoast Trading and Universal Consolidated Oil.

Italo Petroleum common and preferred stocks, among the shorter-priced issues, lost all of the gains made the previous day. Exeter Oil continued to lead the volume with a turnover of 3500 shares and, after ranging between 2.30 and 2.20, closed unchanged for the day at 2.25.

Sales totaled 26,898 shares, valued at $160,091; previous day, 37,357 shares, valued at $120,205.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. (AP)—Professional market operators pulled the props from under the prices they had built up laboriously earlier in the week and today hammered the leaders of the stock exchange down. While a few favorites moved against the falling tide, the average as reflected by Sutro & Co.'s mean computation was down nearly ½ point to 64.70. The enormous total sales of 333,015 included 288,700 Transamerica rights, all of which sold at 7 cents, so the market value was only moderate, at $1,241,542 for all trading.

Pressure continued on the oil group, but Richfield broke away in an afternoon spurt, wiping out an early loss to show a net gain of ⅜ at the close. Union, selling ex-dividend, dropped 1¼ and Union Associates, also ex-dividend, lost 1⅛. Standard and Shell declined slightly. Difficulty in controlling production to the point of balance with demand for oil and refined products continued to hang over the group as a depressing market influence.

Depression in the utility stocks was accounted for entirely by their sensitiveness to technical market conditions, which had been strained by repeated attacks on pivotal stocks in Wall street. Pacific Gas dropped 1½, Pacific Public Service ⅞, and Pacific Lighting ¾. The preferred stocks, quick to reflect demand for more protected investment issues, rose slightly, fractional gains being scored by Pacific Telephone, Pacific Gas and Pacific Lighting preferred issues.

Caterpillar, the industrial leader, slumped 1¼ under yesterday's close. Others down lesser amounts were Byron Jackson, Hawaiian Pineapple, Marchant Calculating, Western Pipe and Steel, California Packing, Food Machinery, Paraffine and Bond and Share, of the investment group.

Kolster Radio suffered another ¼-point fall as the time approached for the company's officials to present argument against a receivership, asked by two stockholders.

About an equal number of industrial stocks showed gains of fractional degrees, balancing the losses to some extent. Those higher were Atlas Diesel, Crown Zellerbach, El Dorado Oil Works, Golden State Milk, Langendorf Bakeries B, Emporium Capwell and Illinois Pacific Glass. In the insurance list, Occidental was slightly lower, and the bank holding company colossus, Transamerica, subsided ¼ to close at 43.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (AP)—Activity in bonds diminished with the approach of the week-end today. Prices, however, held up well, giving the list a firm appearance despite the counter attraction available in the form of the recent new offerings.

Time loans were made at about the quotations of Thursday, namely 4⅝ and 4¾ per cent, but in money marking circles it was reported that a tendency toward a flat 4½ per cent rate was evident.

Foreign obligations retained most of yesterday's advance, but inquiry was slower. French governments were again very active and virtually unchanged. Chile 6s and Argentine 6s eased, but there was fair buying in Irish Free State 5s, Republic of Poland 7s, Rome 6½s, Norway 5½s and Belgium 6s.

Liberties and Treasuries failed to shake off their lethargy and sagged.

In the rails Atchison general 4s, Pennsylvania Gold 5s, New York Central 3½s and a few other prime transportation issues shaded lower, but Canadian National 4½s, Michigan Central 3½s, Nickel Plate 5½s, Pennsylvania 4s and Union Pacific first 4s showed net gains averaging about half a point.

East Cuba Sugar 7½s rose 3¼, Manati 7½s rallied 2½ and Vertientes 7s gained 2 points. Fluctuations in the domestic industrials included a gain of 1½ in Illinois Steel 4½s and a drop of nearly 2 points in Fisk Rubber 8s.

American Telephone debenture 5s of 1965, when issued, advanced to 100⅝ and then worked back to yesterday's close of 100⅜.

Utilities were dull. Western Union Gold 5s rose ⅛. American Telephone 5½s and collateral 5s sagged.

The easy stock market carried the share privilege bonds downward. International Telephone 4½s made an extreme decline of 4¾ recovering one point of that loss. American Telephone 4½s dropped 1¾ net. New Haven 6s and Southern Pacific 4½s, with warrants lost 1 and Atchison 4½s yielded ½.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (AP)—The curb market turned weak today after an irregular opening. Heavy offerings of the leading utilities coupled with the lack of buying support for other popular issues unsettled the market despite flurries of buying in a few specialties. Professionals supplied the bulk of the day's activity.

The selling of some of the utilities had all the appearance of a "bear" drive. American and Foreign Power warrants were hammered down 4 points and Allied Power and Light, Commonwealth Power preferred, Electric Power and Light option warrants, and a few others yielded a point or more. Utilities Power and Light closed 1½ points higher, while the voting trust certificates jumped nearly 10 points. Penn-Ohio Edison warrants broke 25 points on a small odd-lot transaction.

Fresh selling came into the oil group as a result of the extension of crude oil price cuts. Humble dropped 2½ points and Gulf, Indian Territory, Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line and Pacific Western yielded a point or two. Standard Oil of Indiana closed fractionally higher.

Investment trust and trading corporation shares were heavy, Goldman-Sachs, Durco, National Investors (new) and Third National Investors losing 1 to 2¼ points. Transamerica "rights" yielded a point despite the favorable earnings report of the Transamerica Corporation for the last year.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—On the strength of higher prices in the London market, where a firm turn was maintained throughout and which was reflected by the latest developments in the Dutch-English negotiations for crude rubber production curtailment in producing centers, futures on the local rubber exchange today moved forward steadily and gains at the day's high levels were from 60 to 100 points above previous closes.

Trading volume, which rose above the 2300-ton mark, was the largest in several weeks. After gains of from 10 to 30 points had been scored at the outset, futures receded slightly on some profit-taking, but in the early afternoon, when cable advices to the Wall Street News stated that a "united Dutch-British commission had been formed in Amsterdam to study curtailment of production, futures surged forward on heavy transactions. At the close gains ranged from 50 to 80 points, with more distant months scoring the largest advances.

Sales, 950 contracts, or 2375 long tons. London spot closed firm and 3-16d higher at 7⅞d. In the Singapore market January rose 3-16d to 7d. In the local market outside spot closed at 15½c, up ⅛c.

Angeleno Heads Hunt for Snow Marooned Son

GRANT'S PASS (Or.) Jan. 17. (AP)—A second rescue party was battling eight-foot snowdrifts in the Siskiyou Mountains today in an effort to reach the snowbound Big Boy mine, fifty miles south of here, where Mr. and Mrs. Henry Howell are held prisoners.

The first relief expedition turned back last night after having made an unsuccessful attempt to pierce the drifts with a motor driven sled.

Another party, said to have been headed by a frantic father from Los Angeles, left here yesterday for the Galice mining district, where it was said two young men, one having never seen snow before, are either lost or marooned. The Los Angeles man, it was said, purchased snow equipment at Grant's Pass and left without a word.

Lettuce Heads Vegetable List

CHICAGO, Jan. 17. (AP)—Lettuce has become the most popular fresh vegetable in America, Waldo Rohnert of Gilroy, Cal., said at a meeting of the American Seed Trade Association executive committee today.

He listed peas second in popularity and tomatoes third.

Court to Hear Plea of Packers for Law Change

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Arguments for modification of the consent degree restraining packers from doing grocery or retail business will be heard by the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

The Department of Justice asked the court today to dismiss the petitions of Swift & Co., and Armour & Co., that the 1920 decree be altered.

The packers filed their plea for modification last August and the Justice Department had never announced its position. The move today would have the effect of requiring the packers to establish the justice of their request, after which the department said it would decide its position.

Shooting Case Trio Arraigned

PHOENIX, Jan. 17. (AP) — Irene Schroeder of Benwood, W. Va., Walter Glenn Dague and Vernon Ackerman, also known as Joe F. Wells, were arraigned in Justice Court today and held in $15,000 bond each on charges of assault with intent to commit murder in connection with the shooting last Monday night of Deputy Sheriff Wright.

In default of bond they were remanded to jail to await preliminary hearing Monday.

Before the date of their preliminary hearing, it is expected that officers from Pennsylvania, where Mrs. Schroeder and Dague are accused of slaying Corp. Brady Paul and wounding Private Ernest Moore of the Pennsylvania State Highway Patrol, will arrive with extradition papers.

Anderson Wins Court Victory

REDWOOD CITY, Jan. 17. (Exclusive) — Harold S. Anderson, wealthy building supplies contractor of Hillsborough, won a round today in disputes with his former wife, Mrs. Carl H. Beal of Los Angeles, now the wife of an oil man who recently engaged in a fistic encounter with Anderson over the children of Anderson and the present Mrs. Beal.

Superior Judge Buck dismissed an action for contempt which Mrs. Beal field, charging Anderson disobeyed a court order giving her custody of the three children during the Christmas holidays. Judge Buck said there was reason to doubt Anderson's explanation he knew nothing of the order, but the aged jurist said he would give him the benefit of the doubt.

Schurman Rinde Tributo al Doctor Stresemann

BERLIN, Enero 17.—Jacob Gould Schurman, embajador yanqui saliente, rindió hoy un tributo de despedida a su amigo, el difunto doctor Stresemann, ministro alemán que fue de Relaciones Exteriores. Sin más compañía que la de su exsecretario particular, fue en coche el diplomático norteamericano hasta la tumba del estadista alemán, y depositó una corona sobre la lápida. En la corona se enlazaban los colores de la bandera norteamericana, y llevaba asimismo un blanco listón sobre un lado del cual se leía, "Jacob Gould Schurman". Por el otro, llevaba la inscripción, "A mi verdadero amigo", en alemán.

Ya Está Despachando el Cónsul Mejicano en Laredo

LAREDO (Tejas), Enero 17.—En presencia de gran número de clientes, corredores, agentes aduanales y hombres de negocios, el cónsul mejicano en Laredo, don Rafael de la Colina, abrió hoy las puertas del consulado de su país. Había sido clausurado éste el 18 de Diciembre próximo pasado.

Propónese que Sea Directa la Elección de Presidente

WASHINGTON, Enero 17.—En moción presentada hoy por el diputado Romjue, demócrata de Misuri, se propone la abolición del do hoy que se hallan listos para las elecciones presidencial y vicepresidencial, y una enmienda a la constitución que ordene que dichas elecciones sean hechas directamente por el pueblo.

Los "Secos" Apercibidos para la Lucha

WASHINGTON, Enero 17.—Habiendo conseguido de pronto unirse, los senadores "secos" han notificado hoy que se hayan listos para aceptar el reto del senador Blaine, republicano de Wisconsin, quien propone una votación sobre la derogación de la Enmienda Décimaoctava.

Los prohibicionistas, que han hecho poco caso de los ataques de los "húmedos" a dicha enmienda, desde la promulgación de ésta hace diez años, aceptan hoy la proposición de Blaine, como piedra de toque en esta contienda.

"Yo estoy listo para votar", manifestó el senador por Idaho, señor Borah, "y creo de utilidad que el congreso se pronuncie de una vez sobre el particular, y haga ver claro que la Enmienda Décimaoctava ha sido estampada para siempre en la constitución.

Con todo, parece haber pocas probabilidades de que no se tome la votación sobre ese punto antes del mes entrante, en que se dará fin a la actual contienda sobre Arancel.

La Posesión de Licor No Es Ilegal

SPRINGFIELD (Illinois), Enero 17.—La mera posesión de licor embriagante no constituye violación de ley de prohibición nacional, según lo ha declarado hoy el juez federal Louis Fitzhenry en el juzgado federal, al discutir la suficiencia de unas consignaciones hechas por el gran jurado.

"La Enmienda Decimaoctava no va enderezada contra la posesión de licor", declara el juez Fitzhenry. "Para que haya delito, precisa que el licor poseído lo sea para algún fin violatorio de la referida enmienda."

Agregó, sin embargo, el juez Fitzhenry que, cuando se trata de fabricación, venta, transporte, o importación de licor, existe el delito, y no hay que averiguar a qué fines se destina el licor fabricado, vendido, etc.

Quiebra un Almacén por Exceso de Existencias de Faldas Cortas

SAN LUIS (Misuri) Enero 17.—En el tribunal de quiebras testificó ayer Harry L. Harris que la H. and S. Stores Company, de la que es president, se ha presentado en quiebra por tener existencias excesivas de faldas cortas.

Dice que la compañía referida, que comercia en vestidos de señora, perdió unos $40,000 el año pasado, con un movimiento de ventas como de $80,000, a causa del cambio de la moda, que ahora exige se lleve larga la falda, y a causa también de la apatía de los compradores de la compañía.

"Casi no hay mercado para vestidos cortos", hace notar el señor Harris. "El capital de la compañía ha quedado reducido en varios millares de dólares por virtud del cambio de estilos."

Weekly Survey Sees Signs of Trade Upturn

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (AP)—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

More than half of January having passed, evidences of business revival, although by no means general, are becoming more numerous. Neither the measured pace of the recovery nor its scattered devlopment should be surprising, for this is a transition period, and it is scarcely to be expected that gains will come other than slowly and irregularly. That has been the experience of most preceding eras of readjustment, yet a gradual advance upon a sound basis is more to be desired than a too-rapid expansion whose duration might be shortened by overextension.

The present progress of recuperation from the effect of the late financial unsettlement is chiefly visible now in the quarter where it had been confidently looked for, and the further rise of steel production is especially encouraging at a time when such a trend is helpful to sentiment. The distinct turn for the better in that field reflects a similar change in some allied industries, including automobile manufacture, and the increased number of buyers in dry goods centers is viewed as another hopeful sign.

Distribution of merchandise not unnaturally has receded from the best previous records yet remains heavy in the aggregate, and purchasing for replenishment has been more of a factor since annual inventories were complete.

Weekly bank clearing, $10,745,449,000, a decrease of 22.3 per cent, from a year ago.

REVOLT BREWS AT SAN QUENTIN

Riots Feared at Country's Most Populous Prison

Convict to Tell Reasons in Story for "The Times"

Notable Human Document to Begin Tomorrow

What leads convicts in prison to plot, burn and murder when they know that inevitably they are doomed to defeat?

Why do human beings in duress go berserk, break into madness, when failure, terrible punishment, even the gallows, are certain to be the results of such revolt?

Is there anything actually and seriously wrong with the penal system, apart from its necessary severity? And what, if anything, is to be done about it?

San Quentin, one of California's two great State prisons, has the largest convict population of any penal institution in America. It is a seething caldron of rebellion; a volcano ready to burst into eruption any moment.

The officials of the prison admit the likelihood of convict outbreaks in spite of everything they can do to prevent them. Rebellion is brewing in San Quentin. Petty, sporadic outbreaks occur frequently, but disorganized and officially dealt with at the moment, run their futile course and are vigorously suppressed. The outside world hears nothing of them. Yet each leaves further bitterness and greater unrest.

Sooner or later these suppressed animosities arouse mass action; hatred born of the despair in fading hopes seizes the minds and wills of the long-sentenced inmates, they plot with cunning and determination for the propitious moment, and when it arrives—hell breaks loose.

NOT FOR LIBERTY

It is not wholly or even chiefly a bid for liberty, according to prison experts and convicts themselves. It is a demoniac mixture of revenge and desperate rebellion against conditions the prisoner has no real hope of changing or escaping. Maddened and defiant, he fights with knife, gun, club or any improvised weapon, leaving murder and destruction in his wake, until subdued by death or superior force. Then follow official investigations and inquests, the ringleaders of the uprising are brought to trial and to the gallows, but the actual underlying cause of the revolt remains untouched.

And while from memory slips the last uprising these volcanoes of hatred continue to seethe and simmer, growing night and day in explosive intensity until another outburst comes.

Within the last few months there have been six major prison riots in the United States—and many more smaller ones. Many officials and inmates have been killed and injured. Measures of various kinds and of varied potency have been taken to prevent such rebellions, both in the past and in the light of recent events. Many thousands of dollars of damage has been done in burned and dynamited buildings.

PRISON OVERCROWDED

San Quentin restrains upward of [illegible] convicts. The housing is admittedly antiquated and insufficient. Crowding prisoners into inadequate space is one of the primary causes of trouble. The most modern methods of handling the inmates are impossible under the conditions, physically and industrially. The yoke of restraint is worn more grudgingly there than those best versed in penology could expect.

The place is honeycombed with petty graft, an evil which appears ineradicable. Favoritism and discrimination are similarly inevitable. Convicts claim that they are brutally treated by roughneck guards; that inmates are thrown in "the hole," or reeking dungeon, without trial or hearing, on slight complaint of a guard.

They declare the jute mill, San Quentin's chief place of employment, is a relic of barbarism, work which impairs health permanently, and is a standing incitement to revolt. They picture armed guards threatening and cursing the workmen, apparently trying to provoke them to serve as excuses for sending men to "the hole." They declare that convicts are killed "by accident," and cite one instance which, while it was never made public, is admitted by prison officials.

OTHER COMPLAINTS

The mess hall also comes in for bitter condemnation of the convicts. They complain because they are made to sit down indiscriminately at the huge building's long tables, without regard to race or disease, and are fed by fellow-

FIVE CITED IN RECALL CONFLICT

Culver City Councilmen Ordered to Show Cause for Opposing Election

Culver City's long-fought battle over the attempted recall of five Councilmen reached a new climax yesterday when Presiding Justice Works of the District Court of Appeals issued a temporary writ of mandate ordering the affected city officials to show cause why a recall election should not be held.

Charles M. Lynn of Culver City requested the writ on the ground that the Council refused to issue the necessary papers for a recall election. The writ is returnable at 10 a.m. the 27th inst.

Those affected are Councilmen Reve E. Houck, Earl E. Bebier, Dave E. Clark, Daniel F. Coombs and Harvey Kinkead.

Lynn was represented by Frank J. Lavan.

SOUTH GATE RECALL SUIT GIVEN SET-BACK

Because the South Gate recall mandamus complaint was directed against the individual members of the Board of Trustees of that city instead of to the board as a governing body, Superior Judge Gates yesterday sustained a demurrer to the petition but gave the plaintiff, Benjamin S. Connelly, leave to amend.

Connelly brought suit as a taxpayer to compel the board to hold an election to recall Mayor Andrew J. Schoby and one trustee, Louis A. Martin. Attorney Stanley Moffatt filed the complaint.

Council Accepts Commissioner

Mrs. Laura E. Hadlock was confirmed by the City Council yesterday as a member of the Board of Playground and Recreation Commissioners.

She was nominated by Mayor Porter last week, and the nomination was recommended by the Parks and Playgrounds Committee. She lives at 903 South Crenshaw Boulevard. Her confirmation fills the vacancy created by the resignation of Marshal L. Carter.

PROTESTS DELAYED

Hearing of protests against the lighting of Melrose avenue from Vermont to Normandie avenues was continued by the City Council yesterday until April 17.

United support of President Hoover's prosperity program was pledged yesterday by leading citizens of all parts of California at a directors' meeting of the California State Chamber of Commerce in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce Building at which a $682,674,000, building schedule was outlined.

Frederick J. Koster, first vice-president of the organization, told of the construction plans in an address in which he predicted that the announced total will be increased as latent projects are ferreted out and still other plans given added impetus.

Speakers from various sections of the State assured their listeners that they will support the plans wholeheartedly.

PUBLIC WORKS HIGH

Of the $682,674,000 to be expended, Koster said that $202,230,123, will be devoted to public works; $180,444,000 to public-utility extensions, and $300,000,000 to buildings, including new factories, commercial and residential structures.

The public works total was divided by Koster as follows: State of California, $42,900,400; county governments, $48,861,473, and municipalities, $110,468,250.

The public-utility extensions were listed as follows: Railroad, $53,000,000; gas and electric, $82,200,000, and telephone, $45,000,000.

The factory building expenditure will be $40,339,250, Koster estimated, and the other commercial and residential structure expenditure, $259,670,750.

"LAST-MINUTE REPORTS"

"These figures," Koster said, "represented the last-minute reports from public and private interests, but the California State Chamber of Commerce and co-operating organizations are using every means to find out latent projects which may be developed this year.

"The State Chamber of Commerce has mobilized financial, industrial and agricultural interests of the State in a concerted and coordinated drive in order that the maximum amount of sound construction be undertaken at the present time."

Koster asserted that the condition of the State is normal and sound, pointing out that because of the great variety of the State's resources any slackening in one line is compensated for by activity in another.

"Construction," he declared, "is proceeding with some degree of acceleration—and there is no evidence of slowing down. Much public work is going on; retail trade has kept up very well and the South has had a

McPHERSON BOY BARRED AS DRIVER

Evangelist's Son Deprived of License for Violating Speed Regulations

It didn't rain yesterday, but it might just as well have poured. The day would not have been a bit darker for Rolfe McPherson, the 17-year-old son of Aimee Semple McPherson, Angelus Temple pastor, had the season's precipitation record been broken.

As a result of a brush with the Fullerton police the youthful scion of the McPherson house is without a driver's license, said license having been indefinitely suspended by Police Judge Stempe, who expressed himself as being surprised that the Los Angeles youth would go through twenty-mile zones in Fullerton at a rate of sixty miles an hour.

"Didn't your mother ever tell you about observing laws that have to do with the safety of the public?" queried the judge.

"No," said McPherson, "mother never said anything about it. She is too busy."

McPherson was booked several days ago and was cited to appear for trial yesterday noon before Judge Stempe. Motorcycle officers testified that young McPherson, together with four others of his own age, did sixty miles an hour going south on Spadra Boulevard. The police chased him through the business section of the city, the judge was told, and they testified that McPherson's machine was doing forty miles an hour in a fifteen-mile zone. The machine, a coupe, is registered under the name of May Waldron, secretary to Mrs. McPherson.

Young McPherson went alone to Fullerton yesterday and made his appearance in Judge Stempe's court about noon. Judge Stempe gave the youth a lecture on road rights and efforts being made to make the highways safe.

"I am not going to fine you, young man," he said, "I am just going to suspend your driver's license indefinitely. When I am convinced that you understand why, I may give it back to you."

Friends went from Los Angeles and drove McPherson back home.

Thursday night his mother, Mrs. McPherson, made a flying trip through the city. Headed by an automobile parade with sirens screaming, the Los Angeles evangelist ap-

MYSTERY MAN SUCCUMBS

Alabaman Officially "Dead" for Quarter Century Identified on Demise in Hospital Here

Officially listed in the archives of Alabama as having been robbed and murdered in 1905, but who actually died in a hospital here Tuesday, the body of Andrew J. Lindgren was en route last night to his former home for burial.

Death lifted the veil of the whereabouts of the 53-year-old man, who mysteriously disappeared twenty-five years ago, but it sealed the secret of his movements for the quarter of a century and his reasons for deserting his wife and two daughters in Tuscaloosa, Ala., under harrowing circumstances.

LITTLE LEARNED

Little is known here of the history of Lindgren, who died of a combination of ailments following an illness of one month. He was an employee of the Southern California Edison Company, known as John Lindgren, working in the Big Creek power plant in the high Sierras.

His first employment with the company started in September, 1924, and continued until his death. On his record card he stated that he was born in Sweden in 1877, that he was single, a widower, and the father of one daughter, with no other near relatives living. He gave the name of his daughter as Roberta Lindgren Smith of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and in his will named her to receive his entire estate.

As executors of his will he named the Bank of Italy and listed some properties at Fresno and Rippon and a small bank account as his estate.

BODY IDENTIFIED

The bank made the arrangements to return the body to Alabama after it had been identified by an old friend who was acquainted with Lindgren before he disappeared from Tuscaloosa. This friend also disclosed that Lindgren was a resident of Fresno some twelve years ago, but could not fill in the remaining thirteen years of complete separation from family and acquaintances.

The supposed robbery and murder of Lindgren is described as a drive in an open buggy. The bullet-ridden vehicle was later discovered. In it were a bloody robe and an empty purse, but search for the body proved futile.

COURT HOLDS MOTORIST HITTING DOG MUST STOP

A motorist who runs over a dog on the highway is required to stop but not give aid, according to an opinion of Judges McLucas, Shaw and Bishop, presiding in the Appellate Department of the Superior Court.

The opinion handed down yesterday affirms a lower court judgment in Lynwood, where Frank Fimbres was prosecuted for failing to stop and give aid to two dogs which he ran over and killed.

While the complaint against Fimbres charged him with failing to stop and render aid, the statement "render aid" was superfluous, the opinion says. The Vehicle Act, the judges hold, requires persons damaging property to stop and there was sufficient evidence to show that Fimbres failed to stop.

The opinion was given by Judge Shaw and concurred in by Judges McLucas and Bishop.

Motorists are not required to give aid to dogs they run over, as the Motor Vehicle Act requires that aid be given only to persons. Under the California law dogs are property, the same as other domestic animals.

Neither did the Legislature, the opinion points out, intend to designate dogs in the term of "driver of any vehicle," nor can they be classes as "occupants" of an automobile within the meaning of the act where it requires the participant in a motor-vehicle collision to give his name and address to the occupants of a vehicle collided with.

UPROAR MARKS JULIAN HEARING

Girl Tells of Secret List in "Fund Contribution"

Cash Book and Documents in Case Stir Trouble

Lewis Charges "War Chest;" Berman Faces Quiz

Two suitcases said to contain documents belonging to the old Julian Petroleum Corporation, S. C. Lewis and the law firm of Hewitt, McCormick & Crump together with a little gray account book and a list of asserted contributors to a "war fund" for legal action by former Julian stockholders, yesterday furnished the high lights in Superior Judge Tappaan's court where depositions are being taken in a stockholders' suit to recover some $15,000,000 from the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and a group of local brokers.

All of the legal bickering and fencing which took up most of the day centered about the cross-examination of Miss Leontine M. Johnson, former private secretary to S. C. Lewis, former president of the company and now convicted of one Federal charge and indicted on another.

Miss Johnson took the stand early in the week and told an amazing story of bribery, double-dealing and intrigue and ended her direct examination by a flat declaration that a group of brokers acting for the Los Angeles Stock Exchange gave $5000 for a number of documents which they believed she had stolen from Lewis's private files but which as a matter of fact had been "faked" by herself and Lewis.

NEW CHARGE

Yesterday after a day's absence from court on account of illness Miss Johnson returned for cross-examination at the hands of Attorney H. T. Morrow acting for the group of lawyers representing the sixty-six defendants and almost at once threw the courtroom into an uproar by telling of a secret list of asserted contributors to the attorneys' fees to prosecute the civil action.

Later in her testimony Miss Johnson again brought most of the twenty-odd counsel in the courtroom to their feet by producing the little gray ledger and near the close of the day a third row started when the witness told of the two suitcases containing the documents.

Earlier in the day's proceedings Maj. Walter Tuller, representing the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, startled the courtroom by announcing to Judge Tappaan and the counsel that his client is taking the position that the entire action is not in good faith and that as a matter of fact it had been inspired by the California Stock Exchange in an effort to injure the Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

A little yellow slip of paper produced by Morrow and allowed to go into the records, which bore the names of Adaloph Ramish, Ed Rosenberg, I. C. Freud, Al Frank, California Stock Exchange, Pacific Southwest "Crowd" and which carried at the bottom the figures 35,000 followed by 20,000 to H. M. & C., 10,000 to Lewinson, and 5000 for expense, was identified by Miss Johnson as a slip shown her by H. B. Chessher, a local broker, and one of the men named by Miss Johnson as having purchased some of her documents.

OPINION OFFERED

According to the young woman's testimony the list was written by Chessher and exhibited to her as a list of contributors to the fee of Hewitt, McCormick and Crump, the law firm prosecuting the action against the brokers and the stock exchange. In her testimony Miss Johnson declared that she did not believe the list correct and that to her knowledge only Ramish and Freud contributed to the fund, the former some $3300 she said, and the latter about $250.

From her little gray ledger Miss Johnson totaled $13,250 paid by or through Lewis to the law firm but was unable to add any names to the two supplied from the yellow slip as contributors. She declared, however, that all of the money paid by Lewis had been collected from stockholders interested in the suit. The ledger was an object of examination for several hours.

All of the last hour of the court day was taken up by bickering between lawyers over the fate of Miss Johnson's two suit cases full of documents. Guy R. Crump, who with Joseph L. Lewinson is appearing in court for the plaintiffs, argued that the documents should be taken into the custody of the court and returned at the proper time to the rightful owner.

ROAR FROM LEWIS

From Morrow came the suggestion that they be turned over to the court but that under no circumstances S. C. Lewis be allowed to

Priscilla Dean Appears to Press Suit for Debt Owed by Mate's Kin

Priscilla Dean, motion-picture actress, went to Superior Judge McComb's court yesterday, wearing a red tam o' shanter and an aviation emblem on her coat and took a judgment for $12,180.

The judgment was executed on two Lankershim lots and satisfied a loan of $10,000 and interest, that Miss Dean, or Mrs. Leslie Arnold, as she is known in court, made to Harry Arnold June 29, 1927. Arnold is a relative of Mrs. Arnold's husband.

Attorney Kenneth A. Carey of Lawler & Degnen represented Mrs. Arnold. An affidavit in the case states that when a process server called at the Arnold home someone "sicked" a dog on him. Service subsequently was by publication and the defendants did not appear in court, defaulting the case.

TRUST FUND REPORTED AS MISSING

Bonds Valued at $7500 Vanish From Cache in Old Shopping Bag

Even rats and mice came in for their share of suspicion yesterday in the search of deputy sheriffs for $7500 in bonds, the disappearance of which was reported by Fred Wachs of 2114 Leota street.

Wachs, according to Deputy Sheriffs Fleming and Burns of the Florence-avenue substation, stated that the bonds had disappeared from their hiding-place in an old shopping bag with a quantity of mouldy and mouse-eaten bread crusts which was hanging back of the stove, while he had temporarily absented himself for a short period Thursday.

According to the deputies, Wachs stated that the bonds, consisting of nine in number and representing South American government, public utility and Liberty Loan investments, were inclosed in a manilla envelope and placed in the shopping bag preparatory to a trip to a downtown bank for safe deposit.

The bonds represented a trust fund for which Wachs was acting as trustee for his five children living with a divorced wife in Paso Robles, Fleming and Burns reported Wachs told them.

TIDE DAMAGING IN BEACH CITIES

Two Cottages Undermined by Sea at Long Beach

Film Colony Properties at Santa Monica Suffer

Pleasure Seekers Plan Trip to Mountain Snows

High tides, combined with fair-sized ground swells, caused some damage yesterday in Long Beach and Santa Monica and threatened seashore structures at other points.

The official weather forecast for Los Angeles and vicinity called for cloudy weather today. Sunday's forecast was "probably fair." Although nothing was said of rain, the weather man had his eye on a low-pressure area lying off the coast of Oregon, which might bring rain to Los Angeles if it should come down this way.

DAMAGE AT LONG BEACH

The antics of the sea aroused great interest up and down the coast. Along the 5300 block in Long Beach the high tides and heavy waves caused some damage. Two cottages belonging to Claude Taylor at 5332-34 East Ocean Boulevard, were undermined, one of them seeming to perch only on a wall above the foaming waters. A sea wall near the property of Mrs. A. J. Stein at 5336 East Ocean Boulevard, was reported damaged. Crews of workmen from the city of Long Beach did what they could with sandbags and other means to hold the loss down. The tide at Long Beach was 7.2 feet at the peak, losing a foot yesterday and going to 6.2 feet.

Reports from the harbor stated the tide was high and a fair ground swell running, but no damage was done.

BEACH HOMES HIT

In the Santa Monica Bay district a number of high-class properties belonging to motion-picture actors and others were damaged or threatened with damage by heavy seas which accompanied the high tide, undercutting the sand. In some instances the undercutting produced spectacular looking results such as swimming pools left supported on the piling with the sand cut from under. Structurally the properties were not damaged to any great extent, a replacing of the sand being the chief requirement.

It was explained that the extreme high tides are semiannual event, and that when they are accompanied by rough weather or stiff breezes, the results are apt to be destructive. In the Manhattan Beach area the tide was accompanied by a wind that boosted the breakers to thirty feet high.

RAIN AND SNOW

Slight rains were reported yesterday in Bakersfield and Porterville. At the former a fall of .02 of an inch was recorded to bring the season to 1.19 inches, as compared with 2.14 inches on same date last year. The latter point reported .03 of an inch for a season fall of 1.70 inches, as against 4.37 inches to date last year.

Snow was continuing to fall in Sequoia National Park, along with some rain and the rivers in the district were rising, but no damage or dangers anticipated. The highway to Sequoia still is closed above Deer Ridge, and it is difficult for autos to get beyond Hospital Rock.

Pleasure seekers planned a week-end in the snow of the mountains today. The Pacific Electric Railway announced a special schedule of its trains for Sunday beginning at 7 a.m. and at short intervals thereafter for an anticipated record crowd at Mt. Lowe.

Reports from Blythe stated that the road to Phoenix by way of Wickenburg is greatly improved since recent storms. Blythe to Los Angeles road conditions are best in years.

A slight earthquake shock awakened light sleepers at Riverside at 4:25 a.m. yesterday. No damage was done.

SURPLUS MILK MOVE MADE

Depot Will be Operated to Care for Extra Supply, Dairymen and Distributors Decide

Acting as a board of trustees for the Los Angeles area, six dairymen and six distributors of dairy products yesterday took definite action looking toward immediate abatement of the surplus milk supply situation that has confounded the industry for some time.

At a meeting in the new offices of the California Milk Producers' Association, 947 South Maple avenue, they appointed a subcommittee and vested it with power to rent the association's plant at San Bernardino and operate it as a surplus milk depot. Those named to serve are George W. Thomas, Riverside dairyman; J. R. Bush, Chino dairyman, and Harry Jackson, Santa Monica distributor, associated with the Santa Monica Creamery Company.

Shortly after the session disbanded, the subcommitteemen engaged Charles Burr to assume active management of the depot. Burr is former proprietor of the Burr Creamery Company, absorbed some months ago in a county-wide merger of dairy-products interests. He will meet the subcommittee in San Bernardino today and draft plans to place the plant in almost immediate operation.

Over the week-end Burr and the subcommittee will prepare a report which is to be submitted to the board of trustees at a meeting slated for Monday evening. Then, it is expected, other necessary details of the venture will be worked out and a definite policy of operation adopted. This policy will determine the nature of dairy by-products to be manufactured at the plant, as well as the method of financing the work.

The surplus plant, it is confidently believed by all involved, will work to the joint benefit of the distributor and the dairyman. It will eliminate the transportation of surplus milk supply to Los Angeles middlemen, thus relieving them of a nonmarketable burden; and it will save the producer losses due to overproduction, net profits accruing

by Harry Carr

Whether or not Sunland Valley should be allowed to remain as a beautiful little Yosemite—or be turned over to a rock crusher for defilement and ruin wouldn't seem to be much of a question to decide.

It is a very serious thing to wreck the future of these lovely foothill valleys in Southern California. As they now stand, they will become world-famous beauty spots. But once let rock crushers get in—and they will be rock crushers until the end of time.

RABBIT FOOD

"Today I had a luncheon of lettuce and spinach picked this morning. Think of it!"

This is the triumphant cheer of the latest convert to Los Angeles—Dr. Eugene Christian, who has sold something over 1,000,000 copies of a book on eating.

It is a little depressing to reflect upon the manifest and multitudinous charms that we thought we possessed; then find out that lettuce and spinach are the beacon light of our glory.

If there is anything in the eating line worse than spinach, I missed it. Lettuce isn't so bad if served as the Basques do—in big wooden bowls swimming in the olive oil and garlic—but served in the form of rabbit food, as it is in our cafeterias . . .

HERO TALE

This life in the snow is getting complicated. They are starting in now to rescue the rescuers. I dare say it is really necessary to send a relief expedition to take food and things to the wild west rangers of the forestry service; but it is disillusioning. It's a little tame.

"BENEFITS"

Well, I should think so! Football between high school teams—or any other teams—is not the way to collect funds for the Community Chest.

After all, these football players are not paid gladiators to be pitted against each other to raise money for any purpose. Football is a school affair and it is obviously improper to try to Hessianize these boys. Sports is too near professionalism now. If they start having "benefit games" football is sunk.

THE BUGS

The letters WOOD seem to be both a description and an official name for the Congressman from Indiana who can't see any reason for spending money to fight the fruit fly.

The most serious crisis that California has ever faced since being admitted into the Union is the twin threat of the pink boll weevil and the Mediterranean fruit fly.

If these pests are successfully eradicated it might be possible next to consider the Congressional delegation from Indiana.

Contract Let by Auto Club

The Automobile Club of Southern California yesterday selected the C. J. Kubach Company as general contractors on the $300,000 office and garage addition to its clubhouse at Adams and Figueroa streets. Construction will start shortly.

Roland E. Coate, architect, has drawn plans for a three-story structure of steel and reinforced concrete harmonizing with the California type of architecture embodied in the present building.

Case Will be Continued in Court Monday

examine them. This brought a roar from Lewis, who at once charged from the floor of the courtroom that the Los Angeles Stock Exchange had a $100,000 fund already at hand with which to purchase documents having a bearing on the stockholders' suit and that if anyone needs protection it is Defendant Lewis.

When the uproar had subsided Judge Tappaan ordered, with the consent of Miss Johnson, that the two cases be held by Allan Daily, her own attorney, an dthat no one be allowed to examine them until the court should decide what action to take. According to attorneys on both sides, most of the papers in question probably will have to be introduced as evidence in the present case.

Although most of the day was taken up with the ledger, the list, and the argument relative to the suit cases, Miss Johnson added interest to the proceedings by remarking during the course of her examination that she had heard that Jacob Berman, "bright boy" of the Julian corporation, had declared at one time that he would take all the blame for the overissue of the Julian stock, which ruined the company, and that Lewis would protect him in some other way.

DENIALS VOICED

During the day Morrow in his cross-examination again and again attempted to connect Lewis with the California Stock Exchange by questions shot at Miss Johnson. In answer the witness admitted several times that it looked that way, and also declared that she suspected that the California Exchange had paid portions of the lawyers' fees in the stockholders' suit, but stoutly maintained that she did not know this to be a fact.

With the close of the court day Miss Johnson was still under cross-examination with the prospects of about another full day of questioning. However, Monday morning Jacob Berman, the first witness who stood on his rights and refused to testify, will again appear to tell his story or go to jail for contempt.

Berman during the early part of the week appeared on the witness stand twice. The first time he refused to answer any questions, then he had a change of heart and announced that he would testify, but when recalled again declined to answer the majority of the questions put to him.

PENALTY INDICATED

It was after Berman's second appearance as a witness that Judge Tappaan ruled that he should again take the stand Monday morning and if he then refused to answer questions the judge indicated that he will be sentenced for contempt.

The whole action, which got under way early this week, came as a beginning of the stockholders' suit to attempt to recover some $15,000,000 from the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and a group of brokers. Depositions were ordered from Berman and Lewis on a showing that they might not be within the jurisdiction of the court when the case is called. It was as an outgrowth of Berman's refusal to testify that Miss Johnson was called as a witness in the contempt proceedings against him. When the nature of her testimony became evident Judge Tappaan ordered it to be regarded as a third deposition in the civil action.

Suspected Red Speaker Jailed

Charged with suspicion of criminal syndicalism, William Simons, 36 years of age, said to be a district organizer of the Communist party, was arrested last night at Symphony Hall, 232 South Hill street. Simons was preparing to address a meeting on the efforts to organize the agricultural workers in Imperial Valley, when he was taken from the hall by Detective Lieutenant Hynes of the police intelligence section.

Simons refused to give any local address. Hynes said that the prisoner is a district organizer of the Communists, with headquarters in San Francisco, and that he had just arrived from Brawley.

Defense Opened by Cunningham

Trial of Earl Cunningham, former Chief of Police of South Gate, charged with eight counts of theft of public funds and grand theft, reached the halfway mark yesterday in Superior Judge Wood's court when the State rested its case. Cunningham is specifically accused of appropriating sums collected in traffic fines to his own use.

It is expected Cunningham will take the stand in his own defense when the trial is resumed Monday. Yesterday the defense confined its efforts to attempts to show that Cunningham was legally entitled to collect fines, as well as a number of other officials of the suburban city.

ACTION IN SETBACK LINES

The City Council yesterday adopted the resolutions of intention for the establishment of setback lines of twenty feet in Sixty-first street from Menlo to Vermont avenues, twenty feet in Two Hundred Fifty-eighth street from Normandie avenue to the west city boundary, and seventy feet in San Fernando Road between San Fernando and Burbank. They were set for hearing February 17.

Officers William A. Bassy and Buck Dissinger feeding Master Hedman.

Accused of abusing their aunt's trust to the extent of $2200, Emil Hedman, 34 years of age, and his wife, Frances, 26, yesterday were brought back from Tucson, Ariz., where they were arrested while driving east from Los Angeles. Hedman was booked on a charge of suspicion of grand theft and his wife was booked on suspicion of forgery. With the pair were brought their son Jimmie, 3, and a baby 3 months of age. The children were turned over to the Juvenile Bureau.

Detective Lieutenant White of the Central forgery detail, who brought back the Hedmans, said the victim is Mrs. Lillian Bartels of 119 Seventeenth street, Santa Monica, aunt of Mrs. Hedman. The detective said Mrs. Bartels complained that after she gave her niece permission to open charge accounts in Los Angeles, Mrs. Hedman signed several checks with her aunt's name. Reproached for doing this, the aunt charges, her niece passed additional checks for $700, while Hedman took $1500 in bonds belonging to Mrs. Bartels.

Twosome Set for Golf Star Next Tuesday

Even though it doesn't come every day in the week, no mere thing like a $25,000 golf tournament will be allowed to disrupt the wedding plans of Harry Cooper, golfer, and Miss Emma Buchanan, who will be married Tuesday at noon in Immanuel Presbyterian Church with Dr. Herbert Booth Smith officiating.

Only a few friends and members of the families will attend the ceremony and the only attendants of the couple will be Wayne Baker, best man; Mrs. J. Clark Buchanan, an aunt of the bride, matron of honor, and Hale Morrow and Clark Buchanan, ushers. Miss Buchanan will wear a yellow afternoon gown and carry a bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor will be in periwinkle blue and will carry yellow roses and sweet peas.

Following the services there will be a reception for the relatives of the couple at 251 South Kenmore avenue, the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Emma Buchanan, with whom Miss Buchanan made her home. She formerly lived in Nebraska, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry G. Buchanan, will come from there for the wedding.

Miss Buchanan has been associated with the Automobile Club of Southern California for the past few years and first met Cooper two years ago at the Los Angeles open tournament. He was winner of the same tournament three years ago.

Under the terms of a special dispensation Cooper will play at Agua Caliente Monday, will be out Tuesday and resume his game Wednesday and Thursday, after which he and Mrs. Cooper will go to New York, stopping in Texas and Florida en route for other tournaments.

TEMPLE QUIZ TO GO ON FOR TWO MONTHS

Information has been obtained by District Attorney's investigators which will continue the inquiry into the financial affairs at Angelus Temple for at least two months before decision can be reached as to whether action shall be taken against anyone, it was disclosed at the District Attorney's office yesterday.

This new information does not concern the letters asserted to have been written by Mrs. Minnie Kennedy to a friend in Los Angeles and reported to have disclosed temple secrets reflecting upon the financial administration of her daughter, Aimee Semple McPherson.

The letters are not considered important from a legal point of view and have not disclosed anything not already known to investigators, according to those in close touch with the investigation.

Daniel Beecher, chief of the District Attorney's trial department, still declined to state whether his office has received the letters. Any evidence in the case which merits consideration will not be divulged until the inquiry either is placed before the 1930 county grand jury or the case goes to trial, Beecher said. If no charges are brought, then the evidence thus far gathered will not be made public, Beecher stated.

ACTRESS GETS TWO FINES

Claire Ray, film actress, of 4643 Los Feliz Boulevard, has an automobile operator's license, she told Traffic Judge Valentine yesterday, exhibiting it as a defense against three complaints charging her with operating her automobile without it. Judge Valentine dismissed the complaints, but fined her $10 for cutting a traffic button at Los Feliz and Vermont avenue and an additional $2 for failing to make a boulevard stop at Wilshire Boulevard and Western avenue.

Whole milk first will be available at the plant to distributors faced suddenly with the need of emergency supplies. The residue will be converted into by-products. Cream, butter, cheese and milk powders are among the by-products that will be made at the plant, it being equipped with machinery for these purposes.

Good Templars to Have Banquet

Celebrating the tenth anniversary of prohibition, Good Templars of the International Grand Lodge of California will hold a banquet at Good Templars' Hall, 1225 West Jefferson street, at 6:30 p.m. today. The speakers are Dist.-Atty. Fitts and Councilman Randall.

Dr. Albin Peterson, Grand Chief Templar, is to call the gathering to order and will preside; Mmes. Marya Zrebiec, soprano, will sing, and Mme. Ann Bertin Mills will be the accompanist. Miss Marjorie Kenyon will give violin solos. The boy orator, Leonard Ratner, will deliver his oration on "Law Enforcement." Good Templars from many counties in the State will attend.

The petition of property owners for the paving and improving of Eighty-ninth street 'rom Figueroa street to the Manchester Playground received the approval of the City Council yesterday.

PARROT DISEASE ROSTER GROWS

Fourth Suspected Case Sent to General Hospital

Victims Under Observation of Official Experts

Mrs. Pepperdine Added to List on Island Trip

The total of suspected cases of psittacosis, or parrot disease, in the Los Angeles metropolitan area was raised to four yesterday when Samual Strasser, 41 years of age, a baker of 1150 East One Hundred and Seventh street, was removed to the General Hospital in the belief that he is suffering from the dreaded tropical ailment.

At the hospital he will be under observation of experts of both the city and county health departments. His illness was first reported by his family physician to the city authorities and he was then removed to the county institution. Cultures taken from him will be studied by Dr. George M. Stevens, chief epidemiologist of the city department, and Dr. R. V. Stone, bacteriologist of the county department. Neither of these experts was ready yesterday to report any findings in regard to the cultures of the other three suspected cases in the metropolitan district.

SIMILARITY IN CASES

The history of the latest case is similar to that of the other three, even to the fact that the parrot which is believed to have caused Strasses's illness was brought here on the same ship which carried the parrots held responsible for the three other cases.

Shortly after the bird's arrival at their home Strasser's wife, Mrs. Alice Strasser, contracted what was thought at the time to be influenza, but she was ill for only five days. Then it was noticed that the parrot was sick and on New Year's Day the bird died. Two days later Strasser's illness was brought here his illness to be only a mild case of influenza, he continued to work for eleven days before he was forced to take to his bed.

QUARANTINE ORDERED

Measures being taken to prevent spread of the disease were broadened in scope yesterday. City Health Officer Parrish announced that he has quarantined twenty parrots which recently arrived on steamships at the harbor. County Health Officer Pomeroy reported that his department is co-operating with the State Board of Health in investigating all recent shipments of parrots to this port and endeavoring to trace the final disposition of each bird.

Close supervision will be maintained over bird stores, Dr. Pomeroy said, and all parrots found to have arrived from South America within the last two months will be placed under observation. As a further precautionary measure, Dr. Pomeroy said, Dr. Gavin Telfer, district officer of the State Board of Health, may recommend to his superior that the State Board order an embargo for the next sixty days on the importation of parrots from South America.

LOS ANGELES WOMAN STRICKEN IN HONOLULU

HONOLULU, Jan. 17. (AP)—Physicians said today they are convinced that Mrs. Lena Pepperdine of Los Angeles, who is critically ill here, is suffering with psittacosis, the so-called "parrot disease."

Mrs. Pepperdine's illness was definitely stated to be psittacosis when a dispatch from Los Angeles reported that Mrs. Emma Surrey, negro maid of the woman sick here, was believed to have contracted the disease.

Mrs. Pepperdine, formerly vice-president of the Western Auto Supply Company, recently returned to Los Angeles from South America, bringing with her a parrot which died later. While en route from Los Angeles to Honolulu Mrs. Pepperdine became ill. Her symptoms at first resembled those of pneumonia, but varied later. She arrived here Tuesday.

PROTESTS DENIED

The City Council yesterday denied all protests against the improvement of Fifth street between Grand avenue and Hope street, and referred the file to the Public Works Committee. The improvement is to consist of a sidewalk, retaining wall, stairway and improvements to the roadway opposite the Central Public Library.

STOREKEEPER HELD UP

An early morning bandit held up Alex Boirck in his grocery store at 3816 North Griffin avenue yesterday and robbed him of $25 in cash, Boirck reported to police. The bandit, described as a young man neatly dressed in business clothes, carried a revolver. He fled on foot.

GAS WARNINGS REPEATED

Public Urged to Take Care After Deaths From Carbon Monoxide Reach Four in Week

For the third time in as many weeks the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation, through its general manager, J. Ogden Marsh, yesterday issued a warning to the public against the danger of poisoning from gas used in a room or rooms entirely closed. Due to four deaths in the city this week from carbon monoxide gas poisoning, the board emphasized its warning, declaring that 90 per cent of such fatalities may be eliminated by proper ventilation.

"The proper combustion of gas requires that it must have an adequate supply of oxygen," said Marsh. "If this complete combustion does not take place it results in the gas giving off the deadly carbon monoxide. Gas permitted to burn under these conditions eventually will extinguish itself and free gas will escape.

"A concentration of about .04 per cent of carbon monoxide in the air can cause headache, dizziness and nausea; .15 per cent or more becomes dangerous to life and .3 per cent would cause death in a short time.

"Exposure to carbon monoxide impairs health in the form of headaches, nausea, muscular weakness, lack of co-ordination, rapid fatigue, heart trouble, anaemia, nervous disorders, etc."

Marsh pointed out treatment for those exposed to carbon monoxide as follows:

(1.) Remove the patient from the atmosphere containing the carbon monoxide.

(2.) Administer oxygen as quickly as possible and in as pure a form as is obtainable, through a cylinder of oxygen and inhaler mask.

(3.) If breathing is feeble, at once start artificial respiration by the prone-posture method.

(4.) Keep the victim flat, quiet and warm, and mouth open.

(5.) Afterward give plenty of rest.

The Board of Public Utilities and Transportation recently approved the proposal to odorize natural gas, escape of which from leaky gas connections, faucets and piping cannot be detected otherwise. The Standard Oil Company, requested to experiment, recently announced the discovery of a plan which is being investigated by the board.

COSMIC KISSES' CONCORD TOLD

Neophyte in Occult Church Learns of Osculation

Universe Attuned to Contact Priestess Taught, He Says

Seamless Garment's Pattern Found in Wisdom Book

When one osculates one also oscillates. And when one oscillates, one osculates. And the stars of the solar system all twitter and twitch and vibrate in harmonious agitation.

At least, that was the testimony yesterday in Superior Judge Fricke's court, where more was said about Mrs. May Otis Blackburn, who founded a church in the Santa Susana Hills after her own ideas and who is now charged with twelve counts of grand theft.

The oscillating osculations were a part of the testimony of Clifford Dabney, who, as complaining witness yesterday spent his fifth day on the witness stand explaining just where (and why) $45,000 of his money went that he says he gave Mrs. Blackburn.

KISSES SHOW HARMONY

"Mrs. Blackburn told my wife and I that when we kissed the osculation was the same as an oscillation that was in harmony with the solar system," declared Dabney, in answer to a question from Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ferguson.

The witness went on to explain that Mrs. Blackburn in some manner connected these manifestations with publication of a purported book to be known as "The Great Sixth Seal," and which was supposed to contain the secrets of the universe, including incidentally, the location of vast riches.

SEAMLESS SECRETS

The vibrating kisses were not the only unusual things which Dabney testified to yesterday in connection with "The Great Sixth Seal." It developed, for instance, that the volume was to reveal, among other things, "the secret of the seamless garment," a human covering that no modern tailor has yet been able to figure out.

Dabney stoutly maintained that he never would have given Mrs. Blackburn the money if he hadn't believed that she herself was conversant with the secrets of the universe.

"She told me she had used 'The Lost Measurements of Solomon' to locate a gold mine near Bakersfield and had herself panned gold from it," he testified.

ASPECT WRONG

But it appeared that the stars weren't right for the general release of the secrets, Dabney said, and numerous "concords," or harmonious vibrations between Mrs. Blackburn and the solar system were necessary before the big day of revelation could be achieved.

The concords generally cost money and sometimes took peculiar turns, according to the witness's testimony. Sometimes, he said, the religious leader had concords out of his presence that resulted in her sending another member of the church to him with a message that generally resulted in him writing from one to several checks at one sitting.

VISUAL ORDERS

"Have you any of those messages?" asked Ferguson.

"No," replied Dabney. "It was a part of the concord that I was to just be shown them. I couldn't touch them and they were generally returned to Mrs. Blackburn."

"Can you remember any of them?"

"One said: 'Dear Cliff, make out so many checks;' I don't remember how many."

"Any others?"

FAMILIAR SPIRITS

"Another said: 'Dear Cliff, very imperative you do not touch one cent of oil royalties. It will mean life or death to your family.—Mother.'"

Dabney had previously testified that Mrs. Blackburn had influenced him to turn over an $18,000 oil lease to her. He now is suing in an attempt to recover it.

The complaining witness is scheduled to again take the stand when the trial resumes Monday morning. There are approximately seventy more witnesses to testify.

SNOW WATERS TO BE ANALYZED

Western Ranger Boys to Have Tests of Samples Taken From West and East

Analysis of Pacific Coast snow water and comparison with snow melted from the Adirondacks of the Atlantic Coast will be determined by the boys of the Western Rangers within the next two weeks. Mineral content will be especially sought. Freshly fallen snow from Mt. Wilson is to be melted in glass containers, bottled and sent to New York City, where a similar process is being followed by Woodcraft Rangers near Lake George, N. Y.

The tests are to be made under the direction of Thomas L. Hosmer, head of the Western Ranger division of the Woodcraft Rangers.

Forty boys will leave this morning for Millard's Canyon under direction of Herbert Kusebach, Don Rue and Tom Madray.

convicts in primitive fashion on food they declare is often bad.

Housing also is a major complaint. The old cell block is asserted to be so insanitary, poorly ventilated and overcrowded as to prevent rest and sleep, and is conducive of disease. About 500, or one-eighth of the men in the prison, are held in that block. The other cell house is more modern. They charge favoritism and discrimination and say the guards graft on them constantly. Hospitalization, they assert, is obsolete and inadequate; the medical quarters were built in 1859, and its facilities are admittedly inadequate.

WHAT OFFICIALS SAY

Prison officials admit some of these things as inevitable in a great penitentiary. Others are flatly denied and records cited to back up the denials.

But the fact remains—and no one denies it, not even the prison heads—that San Quentin may see an outbreak any day and that no one can foresee the outcome of it when and if it occurs. The officials do all they can to make such a break impossible, or at least abortive. They have their spies and spotters all through the prison; their "stoolies" report the least unrest or hint of revolt. The convicts are not permitted to congregate. Guards at once move them on. But the riot spirit grows. Hospital records show increasingly numerous cases of "knife wounds." Bashed heads, broken limbs, are not uncommon. A certain amount of fighting among more than 4000 men is inevitable, of course, but in San Quentin as well as in a dozen other big prisons over the country the general spirit is more than merely quarrelsome.

In an effort actually to throw some needed light on the situation, possibly to help avert in California such bloody prison riots as those of Auburn, Dannemora and Canon City, The Times has secured and will publish, beginning tomorrow, a recently released convict's own story of San Quentin and how its inmates regard it.

This man's name naturally cannot be given. As The Times has ascertained by independent check, he served a prison term long enough to permit him to become thoroughly familiar with San Quentin conditions as a convict sees them. He is probably as well qualified to give the convict's side of prison rebellions as any of San Quentin's 4000 inmates, much better than most.

So far as possible, The Times has investigated his charges; its own comments and those of the prison officials will appear from time to time in connection with the daily articles. Where uncontroverted, it is not to be understood that The Times indorses his complaints as matters necessarily to be corrected. A penitentiary is a place for punishment and one where severity is not only necessary but proper. The Times does not hold with coddling prisoners convicted of felonies.

On the other hand, if there are real abuses at San Quentin, if the rising tide of rebellion finds its impetus in needless and wanton inhumanity, if there are conditions in our biggest prison which ought to be changed—the public has a right to know it.

Beginning tomorrow, Sunday, and daily thereafter The Times will publish the San Quentin experiences of Ex-Convict No. XXXXXXXXX. Apart from its importance for the light it throws on a very pressing problem, the story is an intensely interesting "human document."

EDOUARD H. FRITCH'S FUNERAL TO BE TODAY

PLAYER'S WIFE WINS FREEDOM

Lew Brice, Vaudeville Actor, Divorced for Too Many Nocturnal Absences

Lew Brice, vaudeville actor and brother of Fannie Brice, played cards too much, according to his wife, known on the stage as Mae Clark, who obtained a divorce from him in Superior Judge Sproul's court yesterday under her legal name of Borach.

"He used to stay away all night gambling, he said," Mrs. Borach testified. "I didn't like it, but he didn't care how much I protested.

Mrs. Borach has been married less than two years. She accepted a property settlement, which the court approved. Borach did not contest the action.

Normal Time Declared Here

Normal times are here already.

This was the reply of Oscar G. Foreman, chairman of the executive committee of the Foreman State National Bank of Chicago, to Wall street's ups and downs, particularly downs.

"Business is good and the outlook is bright," commented Foreman at the Ambassador. "All that is required is restoration of confidence—and I believe confidence is growing steadily."

The banker said he expects to remain in Southern California for an indefinite time.

LITERARY FRATERNITY PRESENTS OLD PLAY

Chi Delta Phi, women's honorary literary fraternity at the University of California at Los Angeles, presented a 300-year-old play at the Y.W.C.A. last night. Each year the fraternity selects and produces some play of old English literature. This year the play was "Philosophaster," written in Latin by Robert Burton to celebrate the founding of New College at Oxford. It was performed at Cambridge in 1607. Never before has an English version of the play been presented. It recently was translated into English by Paul Jordan Smith and his permission was obtained to use it at U.C.L.A. In the original the play satirized various professors in the medieval college, and Chi Delta Phi added greatly to the hilarity of the play by caricaturing members of the English department of the local university. Miss Deborah King is the president of Chi Delta Phi.

DRIVER FINALLY WINS PROBATION

Oil Broker Convicted on Manslaughter Charge

He Appealed Case and Lost in Higher Court

Then Plea for Mercy First Denied by Judge

Ending a legal fight lasting more than twenty-one months, Charles B. Lloyd, Los Angeles oil broker, yesterday won probation on a manslaughter charge following a hearing in Superior Judge Aggeler's court.

Lloyd was convicted of manslaughter following an automobile accident at Washington Boulevard and Manhattan Place in which Lloyd Yeomans was killed. Appealing the decision, Lloyd lost when the Appellate Court upheld his conviction.

The defendant then applied for probation in the Superior Court but he was denied permission to file such an application on grounds that the case was no longer within the jurisdiction of the lower court.

Lloyd appealed once more, this time to determine the jurisdiction of the lower court in such matters following an appeal. This time he won and was permitted to apply for probation. Then, after Probation Officer John P. Rowe introduced testimony to show that Lloyd had lost $39,000 and an interest in an independent oil company because of his imprisonment, Judge Aggeler granted the defendant probation, asserting that the punishment had been sufficient.

FIVE HURT SERIOUSLY IN TRAFFIC

Three Women, Two Men Suffer Severe Injuries in Various Accidents

Three women and two men were seriously injured in traffic accidents yesterday. They are Mrs. Florence Beeshold, 32 years of age, of 8715 Orchard street, Miss Nina Dupee of 22 South Avenue 50, Mrs. Marie Rasmussen, 29, of 1532½ West Fifty-eighth street, Edwin C. Clark, 18, of 131½ North Lake street, and Walter E. Seagon, address unknown.

Mrs. Beeshold was struck by a street car at Vernon avenue and Denker street, police stated. She received a broken left leg, fractured collar bone and severe bruises.

Miss Dupee suffered a fractured left leg and broken right wrist, and Seagon a fracture of the skull when Seagon's motorcycle struck the woman at Avenue 49 and Pasadena avenue, according to Highland Park division detectives.

Mrs. Rasmussen received a fractured left knee and severe lacerations when hit by an automobile driven by John A. Brandt of 9705 Hallen avenue at Slauson and Normandie avenues, police stated.

Clarke suffered a basal skull fracture when the motorcycle he was riding collided with an automobile driven by Abe Brown of 616 East Adams street, according to police. The accident occurred at Twenty-second and Main streets.

All of the injured were given emergency treatment at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Miss Dupee, Seagon and Mrs. Rasmussen later were removed to the General Hospital.

Tibbett's Wife at Film Debut

Ending a cross-continent dash to attend her husband's film debut last night, Mrs. Lawrence Tibbett, wife of the leading character in "Rogue Song," left the Chief of the Santa Fe Railroad at Pasadena and was rushed by automobile to the Chinese Theater in Hollywood. With six motorcycle policemen clearing the way for the final dash, Mrs. Tibbett reached the theater in Hollywood just in time for the opening.

She was accompanied by her twin sons, Richard and Larry, Jr., both of whom had undergone tonsil operations just before they left New York. Larry spent the trip west in a berth. Lawrence Tibbett was unable to accompany his wife, being detained in New York by singing engagements. He will arrive here on the 28th inst. his wife announced. She added that she will take possession of her new home at 918 Rexford Drive, Beverly Hills, at once.

She attended the premiere with Lionel Barrymore, who directed "Rogue Song." Leon Errol, New York stage comedian, also arrived on the Chief and was whisked away to the premiere. He was met by representatives of Paramount, for whom he will make a talkie.

NEW CODE NEEDS TOLD BY WILBUR

Former Cabinet Member Addresses Psychopathic Body at Joint Honor Fete

"If America is to be as great a leader and as courageous in the future as in the past, it is vital that she set her own house in order," was the declaration of United States Circuit Judge Wilbur, and former Secretary of the Navy, speaking before the members of the Psychopathic Association of California at a dinner last night to welcome home United States District Judge McCormick, who is a member of President Hoover's Law Enforcement Commission, as well as to honor Judge Wilbur.

"We must train the young man," Judge Wilbur said in speaking of the work of the Law Enforcement Commission, "not only to be wise, but also to be honest and upright." He declared that the time is rapidly coming when modern methods of justice will have to be changed to meet modern conditions. "We are putting new wine into old bottles," he said, "and are following the old forms of justice and court practice that have been handed down to us from Great Britain." He predicted that the final work of the commission will result in many needed reforms in American court procedure.

Judge Wilbur also gave an intimate account of some of the problems that confronted the Coolidge administration during the time he held the portfolio of Naval Secretary. He told of the occupation of Nicaragua by the Marines and said that the preliminary troubles in that country constituted an example in preparedness.

Judge McCormick, who was the joint guest of honor, spoke briefly on the work of the Law Enforcement Commission and said that the final report of the commission will not be completed for some months. He declared that the work especially difficult due to the lack of reliable and authoritative information.

The dinner was held at the Wilshire Country Club and was attended by about seventy-five members of the Psychopathic Association, of which both Judge McCormick and Judge Wilbur are members.

HARD FIGHT TO REVIVE DYING STRANGER FAILS

After an unidentified man fell dying last night at Ninth street and Pacific avenue, San Pedro, a fire department rescue squad worked for thirty minutes in a vain effort to revive him. Dr. Empie, police surgeon, pronounced the man dead and expressed belief that heart disease or an internal hemmorrhage was the cause of death. No marks of identification were found, although the man was well dressed in brown suit, and wore a Masonic emblem. He was about 55 years of age and almost bald. The body was sent to the Goodrich-Halverson mortuary.

SEWER GRAFT TRIAL ENDS

Jury Locked Up for Night After Deliberating Two Hours Without Reaching Verdict

Failure to reach a verdict last night resulted in the locking up of the jury in the case of Oliver K. Hearte, William J. Watson and Warren C. Earle, whose trial on a charge of defrauding the city of Pasadena in connection with a sewer contract has been in progress for almost three months before Superior Judge McComb. The jury will resume its deliberations this morning.

The case was finally submitted to the jury at 6:25 p.m. yesterday, but the jurors adjourned for dinner before commencing their consideration of the evidence. At 8 p.m. they began their deliberations and shortly afterward they made a request to examine three documents which had been marked as exhibits in the case. Since two of the documents had not been introduced in evidence, Judge McComb did not permit them to be examined by the jurors. When it became evident at 10 p.m. that no verdict was possible last night, Judge McComb ordered the jury locked up for the night.

Earle, former City Engineer of Pasadena, and Hearte, a contractor, are specifically charged with two counts of grand theft, while Watson, an inspector, is accused of one count of grand theft.

The case went to trial October 22, 1929, and continued almost uninterruptedly until yesterday. During the trial, the prosecution examined twenty-eight witnesses and introduced eighty exhibits, while the defense called thirty-three witnesses and filed thirty-four exhibits. The testimony was, for the most part, technical in nature and was designed to prove or disprove the State's accusation that the defendants obtained money for sewer construction work that was not done.

Dep. Dist.-Attys. Oliver and Veitch prosecuted, while the defendants were represented by Attorneys George S. Carter, W. W. Webster, A. D. Orme and Rex B. Goodcell.

cuers succeed in getting in, it is not known whether they will find Fisher dead or alive; for no one is sure that he has had adequate supplies.

It will be the third rescue attempt launched from here.

The expedition tomorrow will set out from the Sulphur Mountain district. Two other parties already have tried in vain to make their way to the camp, but were forced to turn back by deep snow drifts.

Fisher was left at the camp the 10th inst., when seven other employees of the forestry service returned here for supplies. The men were building a firebreak.

RAINFALL GENERAL IN NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. (Exclusive)—General rainfall was resumed today at Northern California points, with snow in the higher mountain levels.

Forecaster Summers described the present rain as the tail end of a storm which gave promise of leading to clear weather. A new low-pressure area has made itself apparent over Oregon, however, and the night prediction calls for rain in the north and unsettled, cloudy weather elsewhere north of Tehachapi. It will rain or snow in the Sierras, depending upon the temperature, he said.

Snow at Summit registers fifty-six inches. It was sixty yesterday.

Dr. Scholl of Health Service Kills Herself

Despondent because of continued ill health, Dr. Margarette Scholl, 35 years of age, head of the Child Welfare Bureau, killed herself in her home at 7038 Los Feliz Drive. She was found dead by servants.

Dr. Scholl had been suffering for fifteen years from an incurable illness and a recent operation failed to aid her. Servants declare that she recently had been despondent. She shot herself through the heart with a .38-caliber revolver, Detective Lieutenants Lynde and Clark of the Hollywood station found on investigating the case.

No notes of any nature were left. The body was taken to the County Morgue.

"I am shocked beyond measure," said Dr. George Parrish, city health officer, last night, when notified of the suicide. "She had not been at work for two weeks and the only explanation that I can give is that she must have been temporarily deranged from illness.

"She was a wonderful worker and had been with the department about four months. It will be hard to replace her. She was at the head of twenty-five clinics in Los Angeles and had a staff of more than a score of doctors working under her direction."

Rogers's Journey Delays Benefit

With definite word received from Will Rogers that he will be unable to leave London, where he now is in attendance at the naval conference, in time to participate in the all-star revel which was to have been presented at the Shrine Auditorium February 12, next, the benefit show has been indefinitely postponed.

"This announcement was made last night by Lou Anger, chairman of the executive committee.

"Inasmuch as Will Rogers was to have been one of the chief attractions, we decided it would be advantageous to postpone the event until he can appear," explained Anger.

DEFENSE RESTS IN BOLTON CASE

Jury Deliberations Likely to Begin Monday

Only Two Witnesses to be Used in Rebuttal

Accused on Stand Sticks to Bandit Story

The fate of John Dewey Bolton, Jr., former dance-hall operator charged with the murder, November 9, 1929, of his wife, Lucille, probably will be placed in the hands of a jury Monday in Superior Judge Wilson's court.

This was indicated yesterday when the defense rested its case and Dep. Dist.-Attys. Crail and Curran announced that they have only two more witnesses to call in rebuttal when the trial is resumed Monday morning.

Defense Attorney Newton J. Kendall told the court his case was concluded when the State finished with its cross-examination of Bolton, who had taken the witness stand in his own defense.

The State charges Bolton shot his wife to death while they were in an automobile on the Roosevelt Highway north of Santa Monica. As a motive for the asserted murder, the prosecution sought to show that Bolton laid a plot to collect $10,000 insurance on his wife.

Bolton testified that his wife was slain and he wounded by bandits who held them up on the highway. The State asserts Bolton's wound was self-inflicted in order to divert suspicion from himself.

Late yesterday, the prosecution called a number of nurses and attendants at the General Hospital to rebut Bolton's statement that he was under the influence of opiates when being treated at the hospital for his wound and did not recollect what he had told officers regarding the shooting of Mrs. Bolton. The hospital attaches testified that Bolton had been given only the usual treatment administered in such cases.

INDUSTRY BACKS HOOVER'S PLANS

banner year in export trade. Conditions are normal and healthy."

NO DROP WANTED

The speaker said no one desires any false stimulation, but continued that all are agreed that at the same time they do not want activity to drop below the line of normal development.

It is proposed, said Koster, to send a letter of inquiry to large contractors, building-material dealers and others to accumulate data on industrial activity that may have escaped inclusion in the tabulation presented yesterday.

The meeting was presided over by William May Garland, president, who held out the prospect of California's becoming the most populous and influential State in the Union. He declared that the California State Chamber of Commerce stands for, more than anything else, unity of purpose—harmony among citizenry throughout the State.

President Garland introduced Joseph Knowland, former Congressman, who spoke on the unifying influence of the California State Chamber.

"We are coming to realize," Knowland said, "that there are many State problems that can only be solved by representatives from all parts of the State meeting together to discuss these problems. We have made substantial progress in this direction. All sections of the State are showing a united front, working together unselfishly for the upbuilding of a great commonwealth.

"This organization is a leading factor in the development of this co-operative endeavor."

Shannon Crandall, retiring president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, who was a luncheon guest of the directors of the State organization, along with directors and committeemen of the local body, complimented his hosts on the accomplishments of the State group. In a discussion of possible constructive work, he pointed to highways, grade-crossing separations, new school buildings, flood-control measures and better public buildings.

John C. Austin, new president of the Los Angeles chamber, declared that the State chamber is the greatest force in California in binding communities together. He urged that sectional lines be wiped out.

UNITED WEST URGED

R. B. Hale of San Francisco, past president of the State organization and at present a director, developed Austin's suggestion as to the removal of sectional differences, urging not only a united California but a united West.

"A local problem," said Hale, "is only a local manifestation of a greater problem."

Directors made reports as to activities throughout the State and expressed general optimism. The reports covered agriculture, industry, highways, aviation, conservation of water and forests and other branches of industry.

R. E. Fisher, regional vice-president, in a report on the north coast district said that lumber mills have all resumed operations and that the outlook has improved for sheep and cattle raisers. Banks, he said, report increased business.

RAINS CAUSE OPTIMISM

Knowland reported for the central coast region, stating that heavy rains have made for a much better feeling throughout the district. With heavy rains, the public improvements planned for the year and some activity in real estate, he reported, the feeling is quite optimistic.

The report for the Sacramento Valley district stated that due to an unusually dry fall and early winter all field crops were harvested without damage. All larger stores in Sacramento, the report stated, report unusually heavy trade during the holiday season. It was further stated that collections are above normal, indicating that economic conditions are good.

A. Emory Wishon of Fresno stated that there has been marked improvement in virtually every line in the San Joaquin Valley over the preceding year, with sufficient prospects in some directions to make general conditions satisfactory. The volume of retail business, merchants assert, it was stated, has been the best in years. Cash has been plentiful and collections good, with outstanding accounts reduced over the year before, the report continued. This in itself, it was said, is a reflection of the improved situation.

GRAPE SHOWING BETTER

Grape growers made a substantially better showing, it was said, although it was commented that they came through the year with little if any profit.

San Joaquin Valley growers of canning peaches had a good year, the report stated.

The Federal refinancing program will save raisin growers more than $500,000, it was said.

As to the central valley district, Hubert H. Briggs reported that "the wonderful drenching by snow and rain has put a decidedly optimistic stamp on the year 1930." All lines of agriculture are actively engaged, he said.

SOUND LEVEL IN SOUTH

Clinton E. Miller, in presenting the report for Los Angeles and Southern California generally, said that preliminary reports for the first two weeks of January indicate business activity has been maintained at a sound level.

"Most lines of industry," reported Miller, "showed a gain in December as compared with the corresponding month of 1928.

"The motion-picture industry operated at a greater level during 1929, due largely to the more extensive production of talking and color pictures.

"Wholesale trade showed gains in December, 1929, in Los Angeles in stationery, drugs and grocery lines as compared with the total of December, 1928. Hardware business was about the same. A loss was reported in dry goods.

"The year of 1929 was outstanding for Los Angeles Harbor shipping. Both tonnage and value of products shipped through the harbor were greater than for any previous year. The figures were: Tonnage, 26,419,145; value, $1,072,203,931; with totals for the last few days of December of preliminary nature.

"Agriculture experienced a good year, despite the fact that yields of many crops were smaller than in 1928. Prices of agricultural products were higher in general than in 1928, making up for the smaller yields.

"Preliminary figures for the State as a whole show that the total farm value of twenty-eight of the State's leading crops increased 12.6 per cent in 1929 over those of 1928. Farm prices for twenty-two of the twenty-eight leading California crops were higher in 1929 than in 1928."

The directors met in the morning and afternoon. About 150 Los Angeles and State leaders were in attendance at the luncheon meeting.

Why not take candymaking lessons, personally or by mail? The Liberty Candy Co. reports this week find their students busier than ever, this speaks well for their wonderful candies, (which have just been introduced from Europe.)

Glancing over Gertie's grocery list we noticed that for one item she only used ditto marks and to satisfy our curiosity she explained they stood for Mayflower Potato Chips. She orders them every day because there are so many uses for them—the children's lunch or for the bridge party in the afternoon or to make the midnight supper more tasty.

Your grocer will have them.

To remove white spots on varnish or paint rub with a cloth slightly moistened with hot camphorated oil.

You can't have too many small rugs and those made by the Hoffman Rug Works (2914 West Jefferson street, EMpire 2048,) are a most attractive addition to any room. You know they will make adorable fluff rugs, in various patterns, out of your old rugs or carpets.

Always keep a kettle of deep fat on hand so that you can have French fried potatoes or fritters without extra trouble.

With the prevailing styles jewelry is a most important part of the costume of the well-dressed woman. Several times in the past I have tried to impress upon my readers the wonderful advantages to be found in the use of the new Ben-Hur Drip Coffee, advantages from the standpoint of flavor, health, economy and simplicity of making.

I have prevailed upon the Ben-Hur Coffee Company to allow me to publish one of the thousands of letters they are receiving from grateful users who have discovered the above advantages. You will surely be interested in this letter and it is only one of thousands similar.

LOS ANGELES, CAL.
Dec. 22, 1929

Joannes Corporation
Los Angeles, Cal.
Dear Sirs:

I feel that I too want to join the multitudes praising Ben-Hur Drip Coffee. Its delightful aroma and deliciously healthful qualities place it above all other makes, and gives America this peerless beverage of her favorite drink.

Your all-china drip ensemble is the most perfect and scientific coffee maker ever presented to the coffee drinking public, and I can attest to its perfection as I was barred the drink for years, due to the bad effects of the ordinary cup of coffee. I used all the best brands on the market, but they caused severe indigestion, acidity and biliousness.

Upon learning of your especial blend of coffee and the drip method of making, I decided to try again to enjoy my favorite morning drink. Can you imagine my joy and surprise when I found that I suffered none of the former ill effects? I found it most deliciously healthful.

We have been daily users of Ben-Hur Drip Coffee and are unstinted in our praises. All our friends who have tried it with us have gone from our home converted to its use.

Sincerely yours,
MRS. LOUISE C. HAY,

This is very special news for the male readers of the Sallie column. A solution to your collar and cuff problems will be found in A. M. Werner, custom shirt maker 111 South Spring street, MUtual 1589. He will fix the "uncomfortables" about your shirt so that you will not have to wear that worried look.

Potato Apples: Choose potatoes about the size of crabapples. Fry in deep hot grease until an appetizing brown and cooked through. Insert a clove in one side to look like the blossom end of an apple, a sprig of parsley on the other side to do duty as the leaf. Dash paprika on one cheek to give a rosy glow.

Let's start the New Year by collecting all of the "unusables" around the house and not only putting them to some use but to a very good use, by sending them to the Children's Hospital Salvage Department, 712 Maple avenue, or phone TUcker 1203. They will take the money obtained from the sale of these things and help some needy child.

Spanish Sandwiches: Chop fine one small onion, nine olives, one green pepper, one sour pickle, one cup grated cream cheese, add little salt and enough mayonnaise or mustard dressing to form paste and spread between thin slices of buttered bread.

Ever thoughtful Cousin Anna keeps a supply of Guasti Wine Jelly on the emergency shelf and when she hears that friends are ill she always takes them a glass or two of this delectable spread. She realizes that an invalid's appetite must be teased and she knows that Guasti Jelly will make the meal more tempting. Nor does she confine her Guasti labels to the wine jelly alone, but you will find her surrounded with their other products when she is cooking. She finds that the salty Guasti Cooking Sherry gives a different flavor to meat and if she is serving a frozen fruit salad Guasti Sweet Wine and Sherry is used to blend the juices.

It is important to use Guasti products and if your grocer cannot supply you, call the order department of the Italian Vineyard Company, 1248 Palmetto street.

Egg and Bacon Pie: Line a deep pie plate with good crust; make a custard, using three eggs to pint of milk (yolks and whites beaten together;) then add two cupfuls of finely minced cooked ham or bacon. Pour into pie plate, season well and bake till set in moderate oven. This is a good way of using up odds and ends of ham or bacon.

In a recent article in a popular magazine the writer advocated the renewing of your pictures every year or two. His suggestion is timely. Just glance at your pictures. Are they hanging on your walls because you are really fond of them, or because you are just in a rut and used to seeing them there. Possibly a dark corner could be made brighter with a gay print, or a loved picture could be brought more up-to-date by a modern frame.

Mathews Paint Company's stores will be delighted to make suggestions and to help you with your picture problems. Their stores are at 1245 South Hill street; 1559 Vine street in Hollywood and a third at Oak Knoll and Green in Pasadena.

Cranberry and Pineapple Salad: One pint cranberries, one cupful water. Cook until tender and rub through colander. Add one cupful sugar, one tablespoonful gelatine, softened in one-fourth cupful water. When cooked and before stiff add sliced pineapple, cut in cubes, blanched almonds, shredded, and celery cut in small pieces. Put in mold or individual molds and serve with whipped cream, salad dressing or mayonnaise.

There are so few ways of making money while staying at home, but the Liberty Candy and Supply Company will help you earn in your spare time. You may either have personal instruction or they will send your lessons by mail. They are located at 400 Grant Bldg. 355 Broadway, TUcker 4156. You may also purchase your supplies there at a great saving.

Try serving this new salad with the iced artichoke. Beat equal parts of olive oil and condensed milk together until stiff. Add lemon juice to taste. The blend is delicious.

After the bridge game serve gingerbread and whipped cream. Served with coffee this makes a hit with those blessed with a sweet tooth.

VIRGINIA SULLIVAN WEDS LIEUT. TOMLINSON TONIGHT

A few minutes after Miss Virginia Sullivan, author, and Lieut. D. W. Tomlinson, officer of the T.A.T.-Maddux Airlines and former commander of the Navy's three Sea Hawks, are married tonight, they expect to be speeding through the night in an airplane for their honeymoon at Palm Springs.

The marriage ceremony will be performed in the presence of 150 friends—most of them pilots and persons identified with aviation—at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Parker, 7647 Mulholland High Way.

Following a reception, Lieut. Tomlinson and his bride will go to Grand Central Air Terminal, Glendale, where their honeymoon ship, an open Stearman biplane, will be "on the line", ready to go.

Weather permitting, Lieut. Tomlinson plans to fly his bride to Palm Springs, but indicated that he may set the ship down at an intermediate point if clouds roll in.

Miss Rowena Sullivan, sister of Miss Sullivan, will attend the bride at the ceremony, while Col. Art Goebel, president of a Middle West flying school and veteran transcontinental and trans-Pacific pilot, will act as Lieut. Tomlinson's best man.

Miss Sullivan's former home is in San Francisco. She will be given in marriage by her uncle, E. J. Molony of San Francisco, chairman of the State Board of Pharmacy.

Lieut. Tomlinson and his bride will make their home in Hollywood.

HAIR OR HIDE.

Maybe it should be none of their business, but the cosmetologists are telling our loved ones that the bob should be medium and snappy—or snippy. We thought the cosmetologists were concerned with complexions rather than mops. But there is the possibility that cosmetologist covers a multitude of skins.

THE DOG SHOW

Frankfort packers are contending in the German courts that sausages made in any other city cannot be lawfully called frankfurters and the judges are likely to hold to that belief. But we should worry. We know them only as hot dogs, anyhow, and we take them all the way from Great Danes to Irish terriers. Let the League of Nations settle the scrap.

KEEPING STILL

So far the prohibition officials of the country have captured and confiscated a total of over 16,000 stills. These ranged in size from a pint cup up to a thousand gallons and their demolition has saved the wastrels of the nation from the hazard of a billion drinks—unless they were persistent enough to hunt up another. But the department has demonstrated that in this country a man cannot keep still and get away with it for any length of time.

STILL FAR TO GO

Forty or fifty members of the technical staff of the Chinese railway system are coming to America to study and survey American methods of operation and American equipment. Americans have had much to do with the building of such lines as China already possesses and we have a strong interest in seeing them prosper and expand. It will take another generation to place China on the world's railroad map.

LONDON JUSTICE

A writer mentions that Scotland Yard had eighteen murders to investigate in 1928. This great organization arrested, convicted and punished in eleven of the cases. During the same year there were 367 murders in Chicago without a single execution. Of course there were arrests, but nothing much happened. In 169 cases there were no arrests and very little inquiry. The same authority cites that in New York City there were over 200 murders, with but seven convictions. Villains contemplating murder would do well to stalk their prey in any large American city. If they value their own carcasses let them avoid the territory guarded by Scotland Yard.

MUNICIPAL BURIALS

The city of Madrid has made quite a journey in the direction of paternalism. The civic fathers now are in competition with the undertakers. They provide funerals for the citizens. There are three programs to select from—one a rather luxurious burial for the rich; another neat but not gaudy interment for the middle classes, and one severely simple for the poor. The relatives of the departed may pay their money and take their choice. Naturally, the morticians of the city are enangered. To have the city enter into official competition for the dead ones is rather rough. The next step will be civic barber shops and beauty parlors with Socialism fully in the saddle. Not much show for the individual.

GIVE THE WORLD ASSURANCE

Calvin Coolidge recalls the fact that the American people are now carrying more than $103,000,000,000 in life insurance. It would seem that this was enough to cover the future hazards of the American home. As protection for the wife and family it is a staggering sum—or at least would stagger the companies if they had to cough it up all at once. The average American does mighty well in the matter of guarding his dependents against the onslaughts of fate. Incidentally it might be mentioned that Mr. Coolidge is now drawing $700 a year as a director in one of the greatest insurance companies in the world and has always been a sincere plugger for this form of indemnity.

CHICAGO'S WARNING

An acute shortage of money in the Chicago treasury has resulted from a taxpayers' strike and the schools may have to be closed for want of cash to meet the pay rolls. Police and fire departments are threatened with reduction in size for the same reason. The city's credit, with Mayor Thompson at the helm, is so poor that tax anticipation warrants cannot be sold except at ruinous discounts, and there is no relief in sight for several months when it is expected real estate taxes will begin to come in on a new assessment roll.

The current shortage is in excess of $300,000,000, which is a lot of money even for a wealthy city like Chicago.

The taxpayers' revolt came to a head nearly two years ago, following discoveries that the assessment figures on real estate were grossly out of line and it was freely charged that favoritism was shown political friends of the assessors. The matter was carried into the courts and the assessment scheme had so many holes knocked in it that the 1928 taxes were, for all practicable purposes, uncollectable.

The Tax Equalization Board was compelled to reassess all property in Chicago city and Cook county, but did not get the job completed in time to permit the collection of taxes in 1929. The collections in 1930, therefore, will include those for two years back. In addition to striking, the taxpayers voted down every bond issue presented, apparently with the intention of starving the Thompson administration into submission.

That Chicago will come out all right eventually there is no doubt. Good business men have formed a "rescue committee" and probably will be able to work out a solution in time; and perhaps the voters will be more careful in the future whom they put in office, though it must be confessed the reform efforts so far do not seem to have produced much result.

But the situation has its warning for other cities, among them Los Angeles. The high and increasing taxes collected here cause a tremendous lot of grumbling, which should cause both city and county authorities an equal amount of worry.

City Treasurer Powell issued an optimistic statement not long ago, pointing out that Los Angeles had at one time last year $52,452,896.65 on the right side of the ledger. But this is not so much of an occasion for optimism when it is considered that the money came out of the pockets of the citizens under real protest.

It would be a good idea to check up on assessments and iron out inequalities before a taxpayers' strike can be organized here. The air is full of complaints that assessments are out of line with each other in this city. In Chicago it was found there was a difference of as much as $3000 between homes precisely similar in construction and located on adjoining lots, while differences on business buildings, though not so easy to compare, were found to be proportionately as large. Whether assessments here are in similar case, as is often charged, it would be well to find out. It is unlikely that all the complaints heard here are baseless.

A surplus in the city treasury, if it is large, represents taxes that need not have been paid and is an invitation to extravagance. Government budgets of all sorts should be balanced—a too-large surplus and a too-large deficit are both bad signs—the one, that too much has been collected; the other, that too much has been spent. The jockeying with the city tax rate in the last days of the Cryer administration is still fresh in memory.

WORK AND NOT WORDS

At its State-wide prosperity conference the California State Chamber of Commerce has initiated a program for 1930 that demonstrates how well it has interpreted President Hoover's message to the nation, urging concerted action along all constructive lines to maintain America's high standards through the coming year.

Work and not words is the slogan of the California State Chamber of Commerce, and the pledges made by the State, the counties, the municipalities, the public utilities and private corporations to get together behind this slogan give assurance to our citizens that California intends to occupy a conspicuous white position on the business map of America.

The prospects are optimistic for 1930, according to a general survey of situations on the Pacific Coast. The task of such organizations as the State Chamber of Commerce is to see that these optimistic prospects materialize. By the earnest manner in which they are tackling this task, we have every reason to believe that they will succeed in their endeavors.

Through its research department the State Chamber of Commerce has listed estimates of 1930 construction expenditures in California totaling $682,674,000. Of these $202,230,000 is attributed to State, counties and municipalities; $180,444,000 to public utilities extensions and $300,000,000 to factory, commercial and residential buildings. The work of the State Chamber of Commerce will be devoted to removing obstacles and delays in carrying out these projects and to speeding up latent plans which may have been overlooked in the first survey.

The State-wide prosperity conference was called to mobilize financial, industrial, commercial and agricultural interests in California so that the maximum amount of sound construction may be accomplished in 1930. In 1929 California manufacturing activity showed increase of outstanding proportion and the inauguration of many new industries. The State Chamber of Commerce is confident that even better results are obtainable in the next twelve months. The stage is set for another prosperous year for the people of California. We have started right. All that remains—and that is, of course, a big "all"—is to pull together and go ahead.

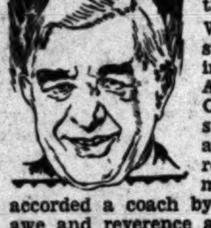
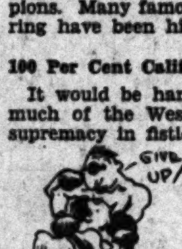
Another Los Angeles Champion



In his seventieth year, De Witt Van Court still teaches boxing at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, and his students not only accord him the respect and admiration usually accorded a coach by his pupils, but awe and reverence as well. For De Witt Van Court used to teach boxing to James J. Corbett and James J. Jeffries, as well as to many another man famous in the squared circle. He is the inventor of the heavy punching bag and the most authoritative system of training for boxers, and fairly may be called the foremost boxing teacher. He is the dean of his profession and probably has coached more champions than has any other man. Jim Jeffries, Eddie Campi, Baker, Jim Corbett, Al Kaufman, Sam Berger, Jimmie Britt and Lew Powell were some of the famous fighters he trained, each at some time a champion in his class, and he also has trained about 200 amateur champions. Many famous men outside the ring have been his friends.

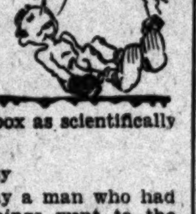
100 Per Cent Californian

It would be hard to estimate how much of the West's well-established supremacy in fisticuffs is due to the native talent and inventive ability of Van Court. He was born in Mountain View, Santa Clara county, California, in 1860, and grew up in San Francisco. Though he was always small as compared to physically big men like Jeffries, he was always an outstanding athlete. As a youth he was a crack sprinter on the track, won a twenty-five-mile bicycle race and caught behind the bat for the Oakland team in the old bare-knuckle days of baseball. Then he specialized in boxing, though he never fought professionally. He worked out a system of boxing instruction which since has become famous and which is said to be the only system which teaches footwork, ring generalship, feinting, side-stepping, leading, countering, ducking and the jumpaway.



Invention Changed Training Tactics

It was while he was coaching Jeffries that Van Court invented the heavy punching bag. Before that, bag punchers used to put in hours swinging at a bag on a level with their heads, and Van Court was the first to see that that did not develop body punches, which was what Jeffries must rely on. He also invented the boxing gloves which Sol Levinson made in his boxing-glove factory in San Francisco, and Levinson gloves have been used in many championship fights. Van Court next invented the four-minute clock, used in amateur bouts, which rings the end of the round, with a minute's rest. Corbett is reported to have said that Van Court was the only man in the world who could box as scientifically as he could.



Didn't Look Seventy

But the other day a man who had heard all these things went to the Los Angeles Athletic Club and asked to see "Mr. Van Court, the boxing instructor," and shortly afterward was introduced to a man who didn't look a day over 40—and threw up his hands in amazement.

"Golly!" he exclaimed, "I don't want to accuse anyone around the L.A.A.C. of lying, least of all a boxing instructor. But if you're in your seventieth year I'm Methuselah himself."

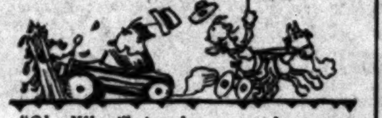
"Oh," replied the athletic young man, "I guess you're looking for dad."

It was Carroll Van Court, son of De Witt Van Court, who also is an instructor in athletics. Carroll is or has been a tumbling champion and a handball champion, and is the author of a book on handball which the University Society of New York has included in its Encyclopedia of Sports.

The Only One

Bootleg may have only one of the attributes of old-fashioned whisky, but it still seems to inspire courage and daring. It seems that as soon as anyone gets too much of it he is overwhelmed by a wild desire to drive a car.

Only Slightly Changed



"Oh, Whoa!" is what we used to cry
When Dobbin seemed inspired to fly.
But when a flivver wild doth go
The proper outcry is "Oh, Woe!"

THE SUGAR SCHEDULE

The vote in the Senate to retain the present sugar schedules, fixing a duty of 1.76 cents on Cuban sugar and 2.20 cents on other imports, instead of the House proposal of 2.40 and 3 cents, or the Senate Finance Committee compromise of 2.20 and 2.75 cents, goes to illustrate what an involved affair the passage of a tariff bill is and how many political cross-currents may be seen as such legislation makes almost invisible progress toward final passage. Again the Senate has done something to which it is reasonably certain the House will not agree and created another problem for conference to iron out.

The vote cuts across party lines, bloc lines and faction lines in such a manner as to emphasize Gen. Hancock's famous dictum that the tariff is a local issue.

The sugar schedules, to be sure, have always been a bone of contention. This time their discussion has brought up a lot of new so-called friends of Philippine independence, who have actually proposed that the islands should be set adrift for no other reason than to prevent their small sugar output from coming into competition with domestic production. There are some sincere advocates of Philippine independence, but even they ought not to want the question settled on other than its merits. Independence as a by-product of a tariff fight would be a strange disposition of a major issue.

Though President Hoover in his forecast for the year expressed belief that a tariff bill which he could sign would be the final outcome of present Congressional deliberations, this particular vote does not give much encouragement.

THAT'S GOLF AND—

John Rogers, the Denver youngster, played like a fiend in the first round of the open $10,000 golf tournament. He had a 70 with his nearest seasoned competitor, a 72.

Then he cracked with an 82 the next time out and dropped to ninth place. He was a miracle—and then a dub. But that's golf—and some other things. A man often rises to supreme heights and acquires a great gallery. It is hard to meet expectations and keep up the pace.

Occasionally a player makes a strike; but does not know how it is done. A stroke of genius for a short period startles; but sustained effort is something else plus. Once-rs are not so rare along any line. Repeaters count in the final score. Steady work through a long grind is the proof of a good golfer—and of other things. There are plenty of starters, but few finishers. An accident may reach first base; but it takes a ball player to tally at the home plate.

Consistency is a jewel on the golf links as otherwheres. Almost anybody under a sudden impulse can do something once. But the world wants an encore to be convinced. It even requires a second witness to convince a jury.

Occasionally a man strikes an idea and puts it into a book. The world goes crazy over him. When he is sought for another, he is a flop. Successive efforts are but dittos of the first.

Somebody makes a rare strike in business and is approved by himself as God's own gift to high finance. But not knowing the ways and means and a surprise to himself, he cannot find the way back and becomes nature's warning to all comers.

The first battle does not win the war—but the last. The first lap does not win the race—but the last. The first shot does not fire the magazine—but the last. The first dollar does not make a fortune—but the last. The first eighteen holes do not make the golfer—but the last!

PREVENTIVE MEASURE

If we are going to be ravaged by parrot fever possibly it would be well for Tom Heflin to get himself vaccinated.

THE GREAT MARKET MYSTERY

By James J. Montague

Bill Jones is a man who can read at a glance
The things that the tickers reveal.
No puzzle to him is the game of finance
Or the trend of coal, copper and steel.
He is trained in the ways of the Pit and the Street;
To him it's no trouble at all
To follow the movements of corn or of wheat
And account for their rise or their fall.
But a few weeks ago, when the market went bad
Bill lost every cent that he had.

Tom Brown never plotted a graph or a curve
Or made up a table of sales
To show how the costs of commodities swerve
With industrials, textiles and rails.
He merely buys shares when he thinks they will rise
And sells when he thinks they will flop.
They always are down to bed rock when he buys,
When he sells they are up at the top.
And a few weeks ago, in the general smash,
Tom walked off with five millions cash.

I have dabbled a bit in the market myself
Though my ventures were trifling, indeed;
Jones's method seeking to gather the pelf
Was the one that I thought would succeed,
But when that proved futile, Brown's system I tried
To discover, alas, before long
While, computing my losses, my pencil I plied
That again I'd gone hopelessly wrong.
The trick is to know when to buy or to sell
But how does one learn how to tell?

THE UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Under the Direction of Dean Rockwell Hunt

COLLEGE OF LETTERS, ARTS AND SCIENCES

BY DEAN KARL T. WAUGH

When Chaffey College at Ontario was discontinued, much of its equipment and a number of its faculty members were brought to Los Angeles, greatly augmenting the resources of the College of Liberal Arts. Among those who came were Prof. William T. Randall, for fifteen years head of Chaffey College, who became dean of the College of Liberal Arts; Margaret Graham Brothwick, who is still active on the faculty; Jessica Vance, Frederica de Laguna, Alcina Morrow Whitson and Frank I. Shepard. Dean Randall continued at the head of the college for two years longer. There were added to the faculty also at this time some notable members, including Albert B. Ulrey to the chair of biology, Paul Arnold to the department of mathematics.

A type of articulation with the college of medicine was introduced in 1905, whereby a student, having taken two years' work in the College of Liberal Arts could enter upon medical studies and by an interchange of credits, receive both the bachelor's degree and the doctorate in medicine after six years study instead of eight. Those students who had received the bachelor's degree could, by completing certain requirements during the medical course, secure the master's degree when graduating in medicine.

In 1903, preceding which date the university had been for a number of years without a president, the responsibilities having been carried mainly by the president of the board of trustees in conjunction with the dean of the college, came the election as president of George Finley Bovard, A.M., himself a graduate of the first class of the college and presiding elder of the Los Angeles District of the Methodist Episcopal Church, as well as president of the board of trustees. President Bovard began immediately to strengthen the departments of the College of Liberal Arts, seeking to make each the best that could be secured for undergraduate instruction. He agreed with President David Starr Jordan of Stanford University that students upon graduation from the Liberal Arts College of Southern California might well be advised to pursue their graduate studies at Stanford.

At this time the building of the university included the original college, the Hough Building, Simpson Auditorium and the dormitories, East Hall for men, West Hall for young ladies. In 1904 the extensive wings were added to the main building (old college.) A gymnasium was now completed adjacent to the athletic field, and bleachers were constructed and the campus otherwise greatly improved and beautified. In 1907 the gross assets of the College of Liberal Arts were given as $606,249.

The organization of the university, as shown in the records of the university in 1907, is as follows:

The president has charge of the educational administration of the university and is chairman of the university council. The principal administrative officers other than the president are the deans, who have immediate charge of the work of the several faculties.

The university council is a representative body consisting of the president and the dean, the secretary of each of the several colleges. It is the duty of the council to consider the courses offered by the several colleges with a view to increasing the efficiency and enlarging the range of the university work, encourage original research and adjust all questions involving more than one of the colleges and to advise the president upon such matters as he may bring before it.

The intellectual life of the students had been well provided for, largely through the work of the university council. There were now thirty-four members of the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts.

The growth of the university library should be noted. In 1909 the report of the librarian, Charlotte M. Brown, shows 5245 volumes, 4437 pamphlets and 2565 bound volumes of documents. Valued aid in the building of the library had been given by Rev. Alfred Higbie, Prof. John Dickinson, Prof. Elmer T. Merrill, A. M. Peck, and particularly by George I. Cochran, who established the Dean George Cochran, D.D., Memorial Fund in memory of his father, which provided for the purchase of a considerable number of books each year, constituting the Dean Cochran Memorial Library. At present the general library contains approximately 100,000 volumes, exclusive of the law library and pamphlets numbering upward of 40,000, with 750 current periodicals. Professional libraries are found at the school of law, school of religion, college of dentistry, college of music, school of architecture and college of pharmacy.

In 1909 were added to the faculty two men who contributed greatly to educational upbuilding of the college: Gilbert Ellis Bailey, Ph.D., who, as professor of geology, inspired many students with enthusiasm for science and made notable contributions to the knowledge of California's soil; and Thomas B. Stowell, Ph.D., who came from the presidency of Potsdam (N. Y.) Normal School, to take charge of the department of education, which had undertaken the training of teachers for positions in the public schools of California. Dr. Hoose had assumed the chair of philosophy. Other members of the faculty worthy of mention during this period were, Dr. James Main Dixon, head of the department of English; Katherine T. Forrester, professor of Spanish; Tully C. Knoles, professor of history; Festus E. Owen, professor of philosophy and psychology; Edgar M. von Fingerlin, professor of Italian and French; John G. Hill Hazzard, professor of English Bible and philosophy; Rockwell D. Hunt, professor of economics and sociology; Arthur W. Nye, professor of physics; Charles W. Lawrence, professor of civil engineering. In 1911 Dr. Dixon, who had for six years been head of the English department, took charge of a new department of oriental studies and comparative literature. For thirteen years previous to his coming to the university he had held a similar position at the Imperial University of Japan and was a recognized authority in this field.

The departments of the college were growing in importance and in the service they were rendering to students. Some of them, particularly those which afforded preparation of a professional type, later became of sufficient proportions to justify their recognition as separate schools of the university. The department of economics developed numerous courses in commerce, which, under the guidance of Dr. Hunt, constituted the new college of commerce and business administration. Out of the department of public speaking in conjunction with an existent school of speech arts, grew the present school of speech. From the department of education, by the separation of those courses leading to the technical preparation of teachers, developed the school of education. The liberal arts departments of civil engineering and electrical engineering became in time, and by the addition of other departments, the college of engineering. The department of architecture and fine arts similarly became the present school of architecture.

Since the resignation of Dean Randall the affairs of the College of Liberal Arts had been in the hands of the president, Dr. George F. Bovard, and of Dr. James Harmon Hoose, vice-chairman of the faculty. After President Bovard's retirement and the coming to the presidency of Dr. R. B. von KleinSmid in 1922, steps were taken to secure a dean for the College of Liberal Arts, and in 1923 Dr. Karl Tinsley Waugh, Ph.D. (Harvard) was appointed dean of the college. He had served on the faculty of the University of Chicago and of Beloit College in the chair of philosophy and psychology, and came to Southern California after four years as dean, in charge of Berea College.

Among the items of more recent accomplishment may be noted: (a) The obtaining of an "A" rating for the university by standardizing bodies classifying professional and liberal arts colleges. (b) The growth of the departments of instruction which now number thirty—architecture and fine arts, botany, chemistry, comparative literature, economics, education, English, French, geology, German, Greek, history, international relations, Italian, journalism, Latin, mathematics, music, oriental studies, philosophy, physical education, physics, political science, psychology, religion, slavic studies, sociology, Spanish, speech, zoology. Twenty-five of these offer sufficient work for a regular major. (c) The raising of standards for admission to college. (d) The requiring of a psychological aptitude test of the freshmen, to be used as a means of guidance for them during their course. (e) A required course in orientation for freshmen. (f) In 1927 an honors course was instituted by Dean Waugh, which is open to duly qualified students who have made high grades in the work of the freshman and sophomore years, and give promise of achieving something distinctive in scholarship. They may, with the permission of the administration, organize the work of their junior and senior years without reference to routine requirements, but with the advice of a special faculty committee of three members, to be appointed for each student. (g) The year 1929 witnessed in the college of liberal arts, whose name at the dean's suggestion has been changed to the more appropriate college of letters, arts and sciences, an enrollment of 2714.

The many new buildings rising on the campus today are testimonies to the public-spirited donors and to the fruitful efforts of President von KleinSmid. Of these special mention should be made of Bridge Hall, which, with its many commodious classrooms and offices, gives much needed opportunity for the expansion of the work in letters, arts and sciences. Within the past few years the physical appearance of the university campus has been undergoing a rapid transformation. The building program will be vigorously continued in the future.

Los Angeles may have a large moving population, due to tourists and artists, but just the same, he who runs must read here, for nearly 8,000,000 books were distributed for home perusal during 1929, from the forty-six branches of the Public Library, not to count the circulating libraries of new books maintained by department stores and hotels. SWEARING-OFF TIME

When stern experience has shown that we should let some trick alone, why should we wait for New Year's Day, before we take the better way? I would inform the erring toff all days are good for swearing off. If I discover in July that I've been eating too much pie, which diet fills me with disease, and makes me wabbly in the knees, and starts my hair to falling out, and gives me twinges of the gout, if I am wise I'll make a vow to quit such foolishness right now. If I am foolish I will say, "I'll cut out pie on New Year's Day. That is the time when all the boys quit every habit that annoys, and I will line up with the gang, and let pernicious habits all go hang." And if I keep on eating pie until the New Year I may die. The world gets better right along because men, finding things are wrong, determine they will make them right at once, before another night. They make their vows; they do not wait for any time-honored date. The spring- ly drinker finds his doom fills a large untimely tomb, be- cause he waits eight months or nine, till all the fellows are in line, before he makes an iron- clad pledge to touch no more the flagon's edge. It's better when the habit's young, before his nerves are all unstrung, to cut out all the rye and gin, and on a wiser course begin. But he will wait twelve months or less to swear off with the others, and by that time he is a slave to booze, which leads him to the grave.

BEACH BUILDING WARNING ISSUED

Fences and Piers Declared to Rest on City Land

Play Board Now Seeking to Force Definite Action

All persons or companies with fences, piers or other structures which encroach on the beach lands of Los Angeles in the Venice area are being notified that they will have to get permission from the Playground and Recreation Commissioner therefor, under a resolution passed yesterday on recommendation of Supt. Hjelte.

Some of the structures are on land leased from the former city of Venice and others have been constructed without any legal permit, either from Venice or from the City of Los Angeles since annexation, according to Hjelte. Most of them are used for taking sun baths in privacy.

The authority of the board is based on an ordinance passed by the City Council last spring providing that the owners of any existing structures on the beach or tideland, for which no valid grant has been made by the city or State, must apply within 120 days to the commission for a grant to maintain them, and that such application shall be granted or denied according to the provisions of the ordinance. Thus far no applications have been received.

Hjelte gave a list of the structures and owners affected by the order, most of them on the beach south of the Venice pier:

The Walters pier, owned by George Walters, who obtained a permit from Venice in 1920 but who has failed to keep the pier free and open to the public as provided in the permit, according to Hjelte.

Fences erected on the beach in front of their property by Lloyd Mills and Andrew Baldwin, Venice; Leila D. Chapman, M. A. Keith, Adelaide M. Smith, the Victor Girard Corporation and G. W. Hill.

According to Hjelte, the fences are built to inclose a strip dedicated for a board walk not yet built, and some of them extend beyond the strip. The commission advised the Board of Public Works of the extensions over the board walk site, which is under jurisdiction of the board.

GROUP WILL HELP FIGHT NARCOTICS

Committee Formed at Secret Meeting Held in Office of Mayor

A group of men yesterday met in Mayor Porter's suite at the City Hall and constituted themselves as the Los Angeles committee of the Narcotic Research Association. The meeting was held behind closed doors but according to W. J. Herwig, general superintendent of the narcotic association, the committee will co-operate in a general campaign along the Pacific Coast to suppress the use or sale of narcotics.

An executive committee, consisting of P. D. Rowan, Elwood De Garmo, C. E. Bell, Fred Albertson and Herbert M. Bigelow was named to obtain the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce, Herwig said. Superior Judge Fricke presided at the meeting. Others present were the Mayor, John C. Austin, Chief of Police Steckel, Irving Hellman, I. W. Levy, William Lacy, Orra E. Monnette, T. C. Palmer and E. B. De Groot.

Jewish Order Will Install New Officers

The installation ceremonies at 8:15 p.m. will be preceded by a banquet at 6:15 p.m. Both events will be informal.

New officers to be installed are Benjamin J. Scheinman, president; Elias V. Rosenkranz, vice-president; David Tannenbaum, monitor; I. B. Benjamin, assistant monitor; Harry Graham Balter, recording secretary; Henry I. Locus, financial secretary; Emil Brown, treasurer; Harold Goldberg, warden; Ellis Leon, guardian; Lionel E. Bernstein, Harry A. Finkenstein, Jacob J. Lieberman, Aaron Riche, L. A. Rose, Arthur Rosenblum and Adolph Sieroty, trustees.

RADIO GROUP TONIGHT WILL HAVE RECEPTION

Plans have been completed for the reception of more than 500 Philco radio dealers and their families at a dinner to be tendered them at the Biltmore this evening by Harry A. Fore, division manager for Southern California and Arizona. A floor show will be presented through courtesy of Gus Essell, followed by a preview of "The Love Parade," a Paramount picture starring Maurice Chevalier, and dancing to an eight-piece orchestra.

MOSLEM HONORS MISSION HEAD

Mary E. Liddecoat and Brother Tom Liddecoat

When an American Christian succeeds in establishing peace with both Mohammedans and Jews of Jerusalem, he is "going some," yet that is the accomplishment of Brother Tom Liddecoat, founder of the Midnight Mission, who recently returned from a tour of the world and who yesterday received a substantial token of the esteem in which he is held by both Moslems and the sons of Abraham.

When Mr. Liddecoat was in Jerusalem he visited the Wailing Wall. Brother Tom got acquainted with adherents of both religions and was invited to a dinner at Allenby Hotel, attended by Jews and Moslems. At the dinner Mr. Liddecoat pleaded with the men to be good Christians in spirit, if not in name, and to stop pestering one another.

MRS. MARY PORTER SESNON RITES IN BAY CITY TODAY

Funeral services will be read today in San Francisco for Mrs. Mary Porter Sesnon, whose death last night in her apartment at the Mark Hopkins Hotel, there closed a career of social and civic activity dating back to the days of California's historic romance.

Two services will be conducted, one at the funeral parlors of Gray & Co., and another at Trinity Episcopal Church. At the latter, tribute will be paid Mrs. Sesnon by Rev. Charles P. Deems, following which she will be buried at Cypress Lawn Cemetery alongside her late husband, William T. Sesnon, one of the State's best-known bankers and capitalists, who died from heart disease, June 30, last.

Mrs. Sesnon succumbed to pneumonia, which asserted itself shortly after her recent return from a tour of Pacific nations with a party of Chamber of Commerce representatives. Death followed a temporary improvement in her condition which had led to hope she would recover.

She was the daughter of the late Benjamin F. Porter, canner, and extensive landowner of Santa Cruz county, who, with his brother, George Porter, owned one of the old Spanish grants in the San Fernando Valley. The grant comprised 40,000 acres in all. The Sesnon half of this great holding is the only part of the old San Fernando grants that has not been subdivided.

Mrs. Sesnon also was cousin of the late Warren Porter, a former California Lieutenant-Governor. She was born in Santa Cruz county, was identified closely with the early history of that section of the State and subsequently became widely known in her own right throughout the State at large, in addition to the prominence attained by her husband.

Although named joint executor of his estate upon his death, she withdrew in favor of one of her sons, Peter Sesnon. He survives, as does another son, William T. Sesnon, Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Henry Carton, Jr., all of whom live in San Francisco.

All three were at the bedside when Mrs. Sesnon died Thursday night. Her illness was the first of any consequence in her entire lifetime.

EXTORTION CONSPIRACY ASSERTED

Complaint Issued Against Trio Charges Plot Aimed at Retired Minister

Details of an asserted extortion plot against Rev. George Francis, retired minister living at 3055 East Fourth street, were revealed yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Richardson with the issuance of a complaint against Joseph E. Stone and two unnamed men charging them with attempted extortion and attempted grand theft.

Stone is in custody in Oakland, according to Richardson, and police are seeking the two asserted accomplices.

It is charged that Stone and the two other men met Mr. Francis in the Palisades Park, Santa Monica, posing as police officers. According to the minister, Stone and his companions threatened to frame a felony charge against him unless he paid them $2500. This sum eventually was reduced to $500 by mutual agreement and the minister was released.

The minister informed the police and Detective Lieutenants Hanson and Williams joined in a plan to trap the trio. The next day Mr. Francis met the men at Vermont avenue and Hollywood Boulevard, but they grabbed the fake package of money and escaped, according to Richardson.

Mrs. Lowy, according to the report, stated that while she and her family were in the living-room some one entered the bedroom and removed the articles, which were wrapped in a handkerchief, from a dresser drawer. The theft, according to the report, was not discovered until yesterday.

STATE SCHOOL LAW CRITICISED

Twenty-four-Hour Measure Called Un-American

Move Toward Soviet System, Declares Dr. Thomas

Education Federation Head Arrives in City

Severe criticism of California's twenty-four-hour school law was voiced yesterday by Dr. Augustus Thomas, president of the World Federation of Educational Associations. Dr. Thomas, en route to his home in Augusta, Me., was an arrival from Honolulu aboard the Lassco liner City of Los Angeles, where he had been making plans for the American-Oriental educational conference in Honolulu in 1932.

He criticised as "un-American" Assembly Bill 494, providing for establishment of "baby jail" schools, in which California children between the ages of 8 and 16 years may be incarcerated without approval of a child's parents. The bill also provides that children may be kept day and night in these new institutions if, in the opinion of the Board of Admission, the parents of the children do not exercise proper care, supervision or guidance over their children.

"I am surprised that Gov. Young has placed his signature to such a measure," said Dr. Thomas. "Such radical legislation is a move in the direction of the educational system of the Russian soviets, where children are taken at birth and instilled in the propaganda of Communism.

HOME RIGHTS SACRED

"A mother's knee is the greatest shrine on earth and no educational system should be permitted to usurp the sacred rights of the American home. I understand that educators who have been working on this twenty-hour school idea for twelve years are described as 'earnestly anxious to demonstrate now the soundness of their plan.'"

"Let me tell you a child's mind and future is nothing to be sacrificed to the experiments of a few educational theorists. There is grave danger in this idea of throwing together a group of young minds, completely away from parental influence, and I do not believe the people of California will stand for it.

"In my world study of education I recently had a long conference with Scotland Yard chiefs in London. In a survey of many crimes in London Scotland Yard has found that the trail never leads back to the schoolroom. I tell you this because I think the present system of home-and-school education is the right one."

MORE MONEY URGED

Dr. Thomas declared more money expended in education will do more than all other agencies to reduce crime in the United States.

"Today, the nation spends $13,000,000,000 in crime prevention alone and only $2,000,000,000 for education," he said. "If we spend more money and effort educating our future citizens during the formative period of their lives, we will need less money for crime prevention."

Dr. Thomas, before accepting his present post, was commissioner of education of Maine. He became president of the World Federation of Education Associations at the conference in San Francisco in 1923 and last July presided at the world conference of the organization in Geneva, attended by the representatives of fifty-eight countries.

A passenger on the city of Los Angeles with Dr. Thomas was Alexander Hume Ford, director of the Pan-Pacific Union, en route to South America.

Two Advertising Agencies Reveal Their Federation

Jacobs of San Francisco, both of the Brisacher staff, were elected vice-presidents of the William H. Rankin Company. Following completion of the federation, Brisacher started for this city.

DRISCOLL DIVORCE CASE SUBMITTED

After hearing testimony from both sides for four days Superior Judge Mahon yesterday took under submission his decision in the contested divorce action of Mrs. Honor F. Driscoll and J. J. Driscoll, wealthy mine stock owner. Mrs. Driscoll accused her husband of infidelity. The same charge was made by the husband. Both ask for a divorce and the custody of the couple's six children. The wife asks for half of the community property which she estimates is valued at approximately $300,000.

Have You Been to the First?

The Gospel is the power of God—not of ourselves. You cannot lift yourself morally any more than physically—by your own bootstraps. The gospel of Christ is the power of God entering a human life—saving, transforming and making new. This the gospel at The First.

Wyler Directs 'Hell's Heroes' for Universal

William Wyler's extensive schooling in Switzerland and France is perhaps, in a measure, responsible for his peculiar knack of injecting the artistic into his directorial efforts. An example is "Hell's Heroes," the Universal production which he directed and which is at the Million Dollar Theater.

WILLIAM WYLER

Born in Mulhouse, France, he attended the University at Lausanne. Subsequently, he went to the Paris Conservatory of Music. A chance meeting with Carl Laemmle resulted in his being brought to Universal City, where he started at the bottom.

"Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly?" was his first break at directing. Since then, he has directed "The Shakedown" and "The Love Trap." As a result, General Manager Laemmle, Jr., is intrusting Wyler with "The Storm."

O'BRIEN DEPARTS

'Mighty' Tells Action Story

The gradual progress of talking pictures toward speed in action is said to be furthered in "The Mighty," George Bancroft's picture, which is showing currently at Grauman's Egyptian Theater, for in this film there is said to be a swiftness of action which would have seemed speedy even for silent films.

One scene, which would have been impossible in the early stages of talking pictures, records a whirling fist-fight between eight men. Six cameras and a battery of microphones were necessary to record the action properly, and the result is said to be unusually realistic.

Esther Ralston, Warner Oland, Raymond Hatton and Dorothy Revier are in the supporting cast. The film was directed by John Cromwell.

'Evidence' Stars Noted Actress

Pauline Frederick, internationally noted on stage and screen and remembered for her remarkable work in Warner Brothers' Vitaphone success, "On Trial," is starred in "Evidence," the picture now drawing record crowds to the Tower Theater.

Miss Frederick has never had a part more fitted to her real personality, it is said, although she can become any one at all, at any given moment. She plays the part of a wife divorced on the strength of circumstantial evidence—a woman of reserve, resourcefulness and restrained emotion.

UNITED ARTISTS MAPS PROGRAM

Comedian Signs With R.-K.-O.—Will Advise on Roles; Former Slapstick Comedienne With Lasky; Detective of "Broadway" in Fox Film

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Returning from New York sooner than he had expected, John W. Considine yesterday had several interesting things to say about future United Artists activities.

LOUIS WOLHEIM

The executive announced that his organization is negotiating for the purchase of two current New York stage hits; also for a foreign society novel in which to star Dolores Del Rio. So far, however, negotiations are not closed, so that the titles cannot be announced at this time.

"Sea Dogs," a story which Considine himself has written, is now being adapted by Howard Emmett Rogers, and will probably feature Louis Wolheim.

United Artists is expecting to borrow John Garrick from Fox, to play the lead in Oscar Hammerstein's story. Garrick made a big hit in Fox's "Sky Hawks," and is considered one of the most brilliant actors now in the talkers.

Dorothy Dalton, after all, may not appear in the Hammerstein picture. She will not do so unless she approves her role in it. At any rate she will positively appear in some production.

Irving Berlin is writing a musical romance for the screen. It is not yet titled, but is considered as promising to be a revelation in sound-screen possibilities.

Activities are due to be going full blast as soon as Joseph Schenck arrives from New York, which, according to a wire received at the studio yesterday, will be within the next ten days.

NED SPARKS SIGNS R.-K.-O. CONTRACT

It does certainly appear as though Ned Sparks is to be starred or at least featured strongly by R.-K.-O. during the next few years.

NED SPARKS

The comedian yesterday signed a long-term contract with R.-K.-O. and it is rumored that stardom is in view for him. At any rate, an unusual provision is included in his contract. This stipulates that he may sit in on story conferences in which his roles are involved and make suggestions as to his comedy lines and situations.

This was done in case of "Street Girl," in which Sparks appeared, and R.-K.-O. officials were so pleased with the result that they are giving him this quite unusual privilege of having a finger in the story pie.

Sparks was formerly a stage comedian, noted in New York Broadway productions, and left the stage for pictures about four years ago. He succeeded in the silent pictures, but it was not until talkers came into vogue that he really came into his own. He has appeared with great success in a number of these talkers recently.

Nancy Dover With Paramount

Harry Langdon's former leading lady, Nancy Dover, has been signed by Paramount, we learned yesterday.

Miss Dover has been cast for a featured role in "Let's Go Native," the musical extravaganza which features a whole galaxy of artists, including Jeannette MacDonald, Jack Oakie, James Hall, Skeets Gallagher, Kay Francis, William Austin and others.

Miss Dover is a graduate of the stage musical comedy school. She recently appeared opposite Langdon in a series of comedies, and also played leads in a number of Christie comedies.

There is a report that Miss Dover is to sign a long contract with Paramount.

Jackson Signs With Fox

Anyone who saw "Broadway" will remember Thomas E. Jackson, the nonchalant detective.

Jackson signed yesterday with Fox for a featured role in "Yonder Grow the Daisies," under direction of Al Wuerker. Jackson will play another of those roles which he terms "human heavies."

The actor's long stage career has been devoted chiefly to comedy roles. Among many important engagements he was featured with Frances Starr in the original company of "Shore Leave," which became "Hit the Deck" when it was turned into a musical. He was a member of the original "Yellow Jacket" company, and turned producer to put on "Gentlemen of the Press" in New York.

Actors Play Clock Roles

With Cliff Edwards, noted for his work in Hollywood Revue, and Doris McMann, who recently played the charmer in Buster Keaton's "On the Set," and other notables, Marty Brooks yesterday started direction of "The Clock Shop," newest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer colortone revue, and a two-reeler.

A replica of a clock shop on an enormous scale, with the clocks larger than human beings, and actors within them to impersonate them, is the setting for the all-color spectacle. An elaborate Sammy Lee ballet is also featured.

Edwards plays the "Cookoo Clock," Miss McMann the Dutch Clock, Jackie Heller is Big Ben, and Don Carroll is the Grandfather Clock. Betty and Ramon, well-known adagio team, also appear.

William Boyd In It

That excellent actor, William Boyd, could be busy even if he were twins, so much in demand are his services.

WILLIAM BOYD

Now United Artists have loaned Boyd to Paramount to play a leading role with William Powell in "The Benson Murder Case," it became known yesterday.

Boyd was formerly of the New York stage, playing leading roles in "What Price Glory" and other dramas. He will be remembered locally for his role in "Top o' the Hill" at the Mayan Theater.

Hedda Joins Who's Who

Hedda Hopper has been elected to the Fox Who's Who. In other words, Miss Hopper is to play an important role in "High Society Blue," the next production to be directed by David Butler, starring Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, and employing in the cast many important players, including William Collier, Louise Fazenda and a dozen others whose names have already been announced.

Fox Palace to Offer 'Untamed' as Next Film

To follow Gloria Swanson's first talking film production, "The Trespasser," "Untamed," starring Joan Crawford, has been booked for a week's run at the Fox Palace Theater and will start Thursday.

"Untamed" is a stirring story in which Miss Crawford is seen as a primitive girl, raised in the wilds of the Central American jungles. At the death of her father she is whisked away by her guardian, played by Ernest Torrence, to New York to face all the complexities of modern life. Robert Montgomery plays the male lead.

Jack Conway directed "Untamed," which was written by Charles E. Scoggins. In addition to Miss Crawford, Torrence and Montgomery, the cast includes Holmes Herbert, John Miljan and Gwen Lee.

SPARKS EXPLAINS

Few people know when to laugh but experienced comedians can control their audiences perfectly, according to Ned Sparks, now playing a feature comedy role in "Yonder Grow the Daisies," a Fox picture. Sparks says that improper timing or intonation will ruin the funniest joke and that proper use of these qualities will enliven a poor story.

TIBBETT GAINS GREAT TRIUMPH

Personal Victory of Song Star Sensational

Cheers and Bravos Welcome His Screen Debut

Premiere of "Rogue Song" Elaborate Event

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Add a new name to the stellar roster in Hollywood! Hail, too, a new singer, and the first real one!

Lawrence Tibbett made his talking-picture debut last evening at Grauman's Chinese Theater, and the staunch walls of that edifice are probably still vibrating from the applause and the bravos.

Tibbett is the first vocalist to smash through the effete reserve of the microphone. He is the first to crash down the sound screen's sweet warbling traditions. He comes through with a glorious and ear-assailing volcanizling in his first production, "The Rogue Song," and establishes this picture as an unquestioned winner, regardless of plot, circumstances, songs and the comedy of Laurel and Hardy.

"The Rogue Song" opened to a huge crowd, comprising both filmdom and the musical. Admittedly, the audience was not the conventional sort that assembles for first nights on the boulevard. Some came to behold a new picture face; others, perhaps a goodly majority, were there to listen to what an opera celebrity could do in a battle aginst the audible screen's mechanical inhibitions.

They learned, too, what perhaps many producers, directors and players scarcely knew before "The Rogue Song" was sung, and they learned it to the tune of Tibbett's storming top notes. The microphone will take voice and plenty of it, provided there is a singer to use that voice, and granted that recording is what it should be.

"The Rogue Song" is a revelation in sheer volume of sound. It is a marvel, too, in respect to effective musicalizing. There is perhaps not a single song in the entire picture that is fully worthy of the Tibbett talent, but he makes the utmost out of practically all of them.

PATHFINDING FEATURE

This picture should open the door to great voices and really great composers. It is a genuine pathbreaker, and it points the way to even greater accomplishments in the future. Indeed, it might be said to flash a beacon light on a new sort of screen entertainment—perhaps even a new art achieved with means inherently technical.

Hereafter let all weak-voiced carolers be anathema! Let's have virile voices like stars in this one.

Conventionally speaking, one can credit "The Rogue Song" with being an unusually ingratiating spectacle. Color photography has been used with splendid results in increasing the appeal of its scenes of gypsy flaboyancy. There is an inherently good story about a bandit who fell in love with a princess, who killed her brother because of a wrong done to his (the bandit's sister,) and who was eventually betrayed by the logically revengeful and proud royal lady.

This plot is adapted freely from the operetta, "Gypsy Love," by Franz Lehar, with Frances Marion and John Colton doing the duty, and the music by Franz Lehar used, with additional tunes supplied by Herbert Stothart. In the handling of this music, which is above the film average (though not as well above as it might be) there is considerable stress on the operatic. Indeed, one song in narrative form, wherein the bandit hero relates his sister's tragedy, is distinctly of that genre.

The worth-while quality of the music is its vigor in such numbers as "The Lash," "The Rogue Song," "Once in the Georgian Hills" and others. "The White Dove," taken from the operetta, is a pretty commonplace, well sung by Tibbett, but not altogether worthy of him. Still, perhaps, at this stage even a musical screen play may not soar to heights too empyrean.

COMEDY LAUGH-GETTING

In any case, this picture is efficacious entertainment, and its comedy moments, which are thrust into the story at times with scant regard for their suitability, succeed in delighting the audience. It is amazing what a chorus of laughs occurred to that terribly hokumish scene of the bee buzzing in Stan Laurel's pyloris, wherein even the sound itself is not adequately realistic. However, the justification of the presence of Laurel and Hardy is that they cause no end of hilarity, and after all boobery such as they portray can perhaps exist in the make-believe anywhere, even in the Russian Romany.

Tibbett evinces a high efficiency in his acting, and as a personality should go far because he possesses that rugged quality which in pictures is at present most popular. When he sings there are no affectations in his work. It is of superb quality histrionically.

The role that he plays is a blustering and stormy sort, which affords wide latitude in interpretation. There are certain facets of his work, it might be metioned, wherein he suggests Douglas Fairbanks, though there is no personal resemblance. His touseled hair gives him a distinctly different appearance from anybody, and he is exceptionally tall besides.

Criticism of "The Rogue Song" may be most definitely leveled at the dialogue—which is heavy and at times a bit stilted in character. The humor of this picture really should have come from its dialogue rather than injected comedy of the Laurel and Hardy order. It needed clever writing.

Scene by scene, however, "The Rogue Song" is vivid and interesting photographically and in situation, and thus carries along the interest. The acting, and the direction of the acting by Lionel Barrymore, is the essence of the artificial, but is eminently suited to the subject. There is really a big place for artificiality in such a picture as "The Rogue Song" and that is but one of the new phases of the newer entertainment.

Catherine Dale Owen, Ulrich Haupt, Nance O'Neil, Elsa Alsen, the opera singer, and Florence Lake are among leading principals. Lionel Belmore, Wallace MacDonald and Kate Price (as a Russian servitor) have other roles that count in the general plot. Miss Owen has the most to do, listening to the Tibbett songs, and registering appropriate expressions. She is beautiful enough to enhance any role, even one of being a sort of perpetual audience. However, she also has some dramatic scenes of consequence, too.

Miss Alsen's voice is lovely in a dirge-like musical episode, and she demonstrates an interesting vigor of personality. Florence Lake, Ulrich Haupt, Miss O'Neil and MacDonald convince in their scenes, Miss Lake's appeal being marked in her death scene. The Albertina Rasch ballet is present in a very attractive dance number.

Much might be said in commendation of the including of a stage entertainment. It is something that is really needed at the Chinese Theater. Abe Lyman and his band sponsor the return of this sort of divertissement. Not elaborate in the old Graumanesque way is this presentation, but certain of public response, as evidenced by the reception of the various numbers. Lucile Page, Al Norman, Phil Neely and Jack and Ted Dale are some of the individual performers, Mrs. Norman and Miss Page gaining the most marked hits.

"Story of Goesta Berling" Has Greta Garbo in Novel Characterization

BY ELENA BOLAND

To classify "The Story of Goesta Berling" as a tragedy would be putting it mildly. It is a calamity, a whole series of catastrophes, linked together with particles of comedy and finished off with a happy ending.

Its opening night drew to the Filmarte Theater a crowd of people who wanted to see Greta Garbo in one of her earliest Swedish pictures, which was directed by the late Mauritz Stiller.

That the film adds anything at all to the history of motion pictures is questionable. For its day, it was no doubt the supreme effort of Swedish production. But today its harrowing two-hour length smacks strongly of inadequate equipment, knowledge and technique. Four or five stories are intertwined in the general confusion of the main theme. To separate each and follow them all is the audience's task, and quite a task, for one jumps into the other, then back again with a facility which strains logic. In the sequence of events imagination is imposed upon. There are times when winters and summers are passed over casually, what happens therein being left to personal invention.

Performances grade to a standard of a past era. Sincerity sits upon them all, often preventing situations and actions from being merely ludicrous. The acting belongs to the classical period when the bigger and better emotions were supposed to be expressed through physical convulsions and the broader the sweeping gesture, the greater the actor.

Lars Hanson, who is still remembered by his American public, plays the difficult role of the outcast Goesta Berling with a verve and spirit which carry one along despite the fact that what he does often seems incredulous. His is the principal story, his excommunication from the ministry, his gradual degradation, then his final redemption through a true love.

The two interesting points which this picture offers are the portrait it gives of Swedish society after the Napoleonic wars and—Greta Garbo.

A great deal of the drama centers around an estate, Eksby, ruled by a Viking queen and peopled by the aristocracy and by a wild band of pensioners. The destruction of this house for social as well as moral reasons builds the climax of the combined subplots.

The real attraction is, of course, Garbo. What a change a few Hollywood years have wrought. Through the first scenes she wanders unrecognized. The sullen splendor that is the Garbo of the present is only momentarily suggested. In its place, is a lively, plump maiden with a pile of tousled, dark hair and an ever-ready smile. There is none of that repressed fire which is now the Garbo magnetism. She is frank in place of mysterious. Where she is now the epitome of art and personality, she was then just an actress in the embryo, unsophisticated and very beautiful. Even so, as it is now and ever shall be, her influence, direct and indirect, molds the destinies of all who surround her.

EMOTIONAL PORTRAYAL PROMISED

Norma Talmadge to Make Talking Screen Debut in "New York Nights"

The star of "Camille," "The Woman Disputed" and "Smilin' Through" will be seen and heard in her first talking picture when "New York Nights" starts today at the United Artists' Theater.

Norma Talmadge, whose popularity has steadily increased with each of her pictures, is said to bring to the talking screen a voice that lends further appeal to the emotional characterizations for which she is noted. Miss Talmadge is cast as the wife of a lovable but indolent song writer whose shiftliness almost destroys their happiness, despite her love and faith in him.

The star is surrounded by a cast of screen and stage favorites including Gilbert Roland, John Wray, Lilyan Tashman, Roscoe Karns and Mary Doran. Lewis Milestone directed.

Downtown Plans Midnight Show

Warner Brothers' Vitaphone revue, "Show of Shows," with its seventy-seven stars and 1000 show girls, will be shown at its first midnight matinee tonight at Warner Brothers' Downtown Theater. Despite the rainy weather of the past week, the regular showings have not been sufficient to accommodate the crowds that have flocked to see and hear this entertainment, it is said.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

HENRY DUFFY'S next attraction at El Capitan is going to be "Ladies of the Jury," in which Mrs. Fiske is now appearing in New York.

He hasn't decided yet who will play the leading role, although two of the supporting roles have been cast. Miss Hallie Manning, who was seen in "Burlesque" in London and once was a Ziegfeld Follies girl, will do the part of Mayme. George Farran, a New York actor, is going to have a prominent part.

Kolb and Dill to President

And speaking of Henry Duffy shows, the next billing at the President, following "The Cat and the Canary," will be "Give and Take," with those two hearties, Kolb and Dill. These gentlemen have been frolicking in San Francisco for Duffy and have been, as usual, well liked. Anne Cornwall, known from her motion-picture work, will be in the cast.

A Hollywood Play

Tay Garnett's play, "All That Glitters," which was written in collaboration with Zelda Sears, is scheduled for production. It will start out in San Francisco at the Curran Theater early next month, and will come here later, probably to the Belasco.

It is a comedy drama and has to do with life in Hollywood, according to reports. At one time, it was said this was written with Dorothy Burgess in mind.

Ralli in "Diamond Lil"

When the "Diamond Lil" company left here last week, it took, as a new member of the cast, Paul Ralli, who has been playing in motion pictures for the past few years. Paul was engaged for the role of the Frenchman, one of Mae West's ardent suitors. From here, the troupe traveled to Long Island, where it is booked for an engagement at the Johnson Heights Theater. Philadelphia is also on the schedule.

Holiday Interrupted

Mabel Gibson, rehearsing at the Music Box in Hollywood for the forthcoming Civic Repertory Theater production of "And So To Bed," believes she is one with a grievance. Four months ago, she embarked from Australia for a holiday, to embrace Honolulu, Hollywood, New York and London. She had had a strenuous season singing leads in "The Royal Vagabond." Two weeks ago she happened to meet Arthur Collins, English director, who has in hand the staging of "And So To Bed." Collins, having heard her sing the complete Gilbert and Sullivan repertoire in D'Oyly Carte's Australian opera company, was convinced she was the one for this play. Miss Gibson has already delayed her holiday for a Duffy appearance. Now, tickets in pocketbook, she is postponing it for several more weeks.

New Booking for Egan

Next at the Egan Theater will be "Playboy of the Western World," a three-act comedy by J. M. Synge, Irish playwright. This is booked for opening about February 6 and will be under the auspices of William Thornton, producer and actor.

Notes from New York

Eddie Cantor is leaving for the West in a very few weeks to turn "Whoopee" into a film . . . "Strike Up the Band" is the town's newest hit at the Times Square and may change places with "Wake Up and Dream" at the Selwyn . . . Preston Sturges's new play, "Recapture," is due at the Eltinge week after next. It has been tried and found satisfactory already in Atlantic City . . . Mrs. Patrick Campbell is about, viewing plays and visiting friends. She will make her American debut as a lecturer.

FIRE MENACES AVENUE FIELD

Dehydrator Plant of Shell Oil Company Destroyed

Sterling Freeman, Manager, One of Three Injured

Every Fire Department in County Answers Alarm

VENTURA, Jan. 17.—A fire which for an hour today threatened Shell Oil Company properties in the Ventura-avenue field, was extinguished after destroying the Shell dehydrator plant, consuming several hundred gallons of oil and burning three men slightly.

The men burned are Sterling Freeman, petroleum rectifying company plant manager, burned about the head and arms; Bert De La Guerra, Ventura city fireman, burned on the head, and an unidentified man, burned on the arm.

The blaze originated in the dehydrator plant when a spark from an electric motor ignited escaping gas. It spread rapidly through the whole plant and down a short incline into the Shell company tank farm, which occupies a half-acre below.

Prompt action by oil company officials in emptying five 2500-gallon tanks of the fifteen-tank farm probably kept the conflagration from sweeping across the farm upon the Shell office buildings and warehouses adjacent. As it was, only one of the larger tanks suffered much damage, being ignited before all of the oil could be drained by pipe line to a near-by reservoir.

All fire departments in the county answered the alarm. Ventura, Santa Paula, Oxnard and Ojai sent fighters to unite with crews of more than 200 men already placed in the line by the Shell, Associated and General Petroleum companies. The flames burned stubbornly for an hour until high-pressure hose lines carrying mud were turned upon them.

Anniversary of Prohibition for Nation Observed

ONTARIO, Jan. 17.—The tenth anniversary of prohibition in the United States was the inspiration for an all-day celebration at Bethel Congregational Church, here, by the W.C.T.U. organizations of Upland and Ontario, with several prominent Southern California temperance workers present as honored guests.

The meeting convened in the morning and continued until late in the evening, with a pot luck dinner served at noon.

Those directly responsible for the program included Rev. Lucy Wilhoit, Rev. W. T. Wright of Glendora, and Miss Alice Laidlaw of this city. Rev. Wilhoit commented at length on the establishing of prohibition in the United States; Rev. Wright urged a more effective enforcement of prohibition laws.

Miss Laidlaw, who has studied the prohibition problems in Australia, declared the Australians look with pride upon America's effort to stamp out the liquor evil.

A generous offering was given with which to carry on the work in the community.

Lad Befriended by Woman Shows His Ingratitude

HUNTINGTON PARK, Jan. 17.—A youth of her acquaintance whom she had befriended showed his appreciation by stealing a purse from Mrs. D. E. Naff, of Fifty-fifth street, is the story which the latter told Chief of Police Hultquist.

Mrs. Naff, learning that the youth had been arrested in Los Angeles, went there, and finally secured his release, bringing him to her home here, where he spent the night.

Next morning, Mrs. Naff took her purse from a dresser drawer and gave her children some small change. The lad whom she befriended, seeing the purse, snatched it and ran out of the door, making his escape. It contained $23. Police are making an effort to locate the youth.

FARM BUREAU PLANS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

VENTURA, Jan. 17.—The 1930 membership drive of the Ventura County Farm Bureau will be held on the 29th, 30th and 31st inst., it has been announced by James D. Culbertson, chairman of the membership committee of the bureau. On the night of the 28th inst., the evening before the three-day campaign begins, members of the drive committee and their assistants, representing every section of the county, are to gather for a dinner meeting here, where they will be given final instructions for signing up members for the bureau. A goal of 900 members has been set this year by the bureau. In 1929 it had 828 paid-up memberships.

Y.M.C.A. CAMPAIGN COMES IN FEBRUARY

ONTARIO, Jan. 17.—Annual drive for funds will be launched by the local Y.M.C.A. during the week of February 24, Elmer F. Coble, Y secretary, said today. Amount to be raised was not announced. Final plans for the drive will be made at the annual meeting of the directors and members February 18. Invitation has been extended to Judge Scott of Los Angeles Juvenile Court to be speaker. Boys' Hobby Week starts at the Y.M.C.A. the 24th inst., Coble said.

SLAIN FELINE IN BAD ODOR

Ventura Postoffice Employee Noted as Exterminator of Trespassing Cats, Acts Too Hastily in One Instance; Garments Buried With Animal

VENTURA, Jan. 17.—L. M. Willis arrived at the postoffice this morning attired in a slicker and overshoes. Willis is not a pessimist, and being quite regular in his habits is not accustomed to work an hour at the office and then mumble something about going home to clean up the mess.

Coworkers attributed these strange actions to Willis's dislike for cats. While there are no statistics available in the case, Willis rates high in the ranks of cat exterminators. For a long time he has been noted for the great havoc he has wrought in the feline world.

This morning Willis stepped out on his back porch and with that sureness of execution and quickness of hand for which he is noted, he laid low an animal trespasser. For once he acted too quickly, for his nose soon told him he had killed a skunk.

Burial of the animal took place this morning along with several of Willis's garments.

PRISON SITE CONSIDERED

Oxnard Chamber Told Large Tract in Simi Valley One of Three from Which State Will Choose

OXNARD, Jan. 17.—Information that a Ventura county tract may be selected as the site of the proposed Southern California penitentiary was laid last night before directors of the local Chamber of Commerce by J. L. Milligan, real estate man who has been working on the project with State officials for six months.

Some time ago a 1000-acre tract on the Rincon about ten miles west of Ventura was considered. It was dropped later because of the difficulties foreseen in developing a sufficient water supply.

The site, which has now been submitted to the surveyor-general, chief construction engineer and the Governor's purchasing committee comprises 5070 acres in the Simi Valley, known as the Charles McCoy Estate ranch.

The property is situated four miles from Triunfo, two and a half miles from the town of Simi and thirty-eight miles from Los Angeles. It immediately adjoins the Hacienda Sinaloa ranch, formerly a huge barley field, and now a highly productive ranch given to the production of citrus, grapes, tomatoes, peppers and other vegetables.

In his statements to the chamber Milligan said that out of seventy-five sites submitted to the State, which have been inspected by officials, all have been eliminated but three; one in Riverside county, another in San Bernardino county, and the third in Ventura county.

Upland Opposes Ontario's Plans in Euclid Avenue

UPLAND, Jan. 17.—Euclid avenue is fine just the way it is, in the opinion of the City Council and the "most beautiful avenue in the world" will probably not be made a one-way drive thoroughfare here, as has been asked by the Ontario City Council.

The Upland Council last night tabled indefinitely the proposition to make Euclid avenue's double driveway one-way thoroughfares from the Ontario south city limits to the mountains north of here. For several blocks in Ontario the avenue is a one-way drive.

Opponents of the Ontario plan told the Council last night that Southern California motorists use both sides of the avenue for pleasure driving, gaining different perspectives of the mountain and valley which they would not enjoy were they confined to driving in one stipulated direction.

JOINT INSTALLATIONS PLANNED BY LODGES

LA CRESCENTA, Jan. 17.—Joint installation of the officers of the Verdugo Hills Lodge of Odd Fellows and of the Rebekah Lodge will be held Saturday night. Daniel Hall, Deputy Grand Master of Glendale, will conduct the ceremonies for the Odd Fellows and Mrs. Bertha Wiley, District Deputy Grand President, will install for the Rebekahs. The ceremonies will be held in Odd Fellows' Hall at Verdugo City, and it is expected that R. Johnson, Grand Master of the order in California, will be among the guests.

H. Wright, undersheriff, as treasurer. It is planned to hold each monthly meeting in a different city of the county.

GLENDALE PLANS NEW RESERVOIR

Project for Container of Capacity of 10,500,000 Gallons Approved by City

GLENDALE, Jan. 17.—Plans for the construction of a reservoir, to be located in Brand Park and to have a capacity of 10,500,000 gallons, have been approved by the City Council, which has instructed City Clerk Glenn Chapman to call for bids. The reservoir is to be built in a canyon north of the L. C. Brand property, on a site somewhat removed from the main canyon.

The water that will be stored in the reservoir will be delivered to the area north of Kenneth Road and west of Central avenue and will replace the present reservoir that has been declared to be too small for present needs, besides being at an elevation that does not furnish sufficient pressure.

The plans for the reservoir have been approved by the State Engineering Department, which will have general supervision of the construction.

Oil Well Lessee Dies at His Work

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 17. John Tiel, 62-year-old operator of an oil well, was found dead at his post of duty on Wednesday morning. At 11 p.m. he had taken his place as watchman and in the morning, when the tour changed, he was discovered sitting in a chair with a magazine on his lap and his eyes closed in death. An inquest held by Coroner Brown determined that he died from a heart attack.

Tiel leaves a widow and two sons, residing near Garfield and Hampshire streets, at the outskirts of the city.

Tiel and his sons were the owners and operators of the lease on which the well is located. Services are to be conducted at the Dixon Mortuary Saturday afternoon with burial in Central Memorial Park.

GRAND JURORS INDICT NELSON

Former District Attorney of Orange County Named

Grand Theft Charge Made by Heir to Epson Estate

Vigorous Denial Issued by Accused Administrator

SANTA ANA, Jan. 17.—Alex P. Nelson, former District Attorney of Orange county, was indicted for asserted grand theft by the county grand jury today in a sensational move that followed investigation of complaints relating to his administration of an estate during the period that he was in the District Attorney's office.

Immediately upon receipt of the indictment Superior Judge James L. Allen issued a bench warrant for the arrest of Nelson and fixed bail at $5000.

Nelson was notified of the official action against him and announced that he would surrender himself and post bail. Testimony and evidence laid before the grand jury by John Epson of Brea charging that Nelson as executor of the estate of his father, Martin Epson, at Fresno, misappropriated approximately $13,000 of the Epson estate led to the indictment of the former prosecutor. It was understood the indictment specifies the sum of $950.

Nelson met the indictment with a vigorous denial of his guilt and the assertion that his administration of the Epson estate had been entirely regular and was stamped with official approval of the Fresno County Superior Court. The charge, he said, concerned funds that he borrowed from Martin Epson prior to his death and which John Epson, who is sole heir to the estate, asserts were borrowed from the estate after Epson's death and were not accounted for. Nelson asserts that the accusation is unfounded, that he administered the estate regularly, filed an inventory of assets and received the court's approval.

Nelson was District Attorney from 1921 to January 1, 1927. Since his retirement from office he has been practicing law here.

Horatio Alger Story Revealed in Santa Ana

SANTA ANA, Jan. 17.—Said to have come up from the streets of New York, an outcast waif, to a place as a prominent physician of the Middle West only to drift back again into poverty through dispensing charity to his patients, Dr. William Smith, 81 years of age, died at the Orange County Hospital last night. He came here three years ago and resided at 408 Garfield street.

Cast upon the world at an early age, he worked his way westward to St. Louis and obtained work as a janitor in a medical building. He showed such a natural talent for medicine that he was sent through school by friends and became one of the widely known physicians of Kansas City and St. Louis.

Dr. Smith leaves his widow, Mrs. Julia Smith. Funeral services were held today at the chapel of Smith & Tuthill, with Rev. W. S. Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating.

Market Robbed by Armed Bandit

GLENDALE, Jan. 17.—While W. W. Johnson, night attendant at the All-Night Market at 1101 South Central avenue, was taking 10 cents out of a quarter that had been tendered in payment for some apples the purchaser drew a pistol from his pocket and ordered Johnson to stand still and keep his hands down at his sides.

As Johnson obeyed, the bandit rifled the open cash register of $30 and walked out of the market, breaking into a run when he had gone a short distance and vanishing into the darkness of early morning.

LIVING CHRISTMAS TREE PLAN DELAYED

UPLAND, Jan. 17.—Plans fostered by local Boy Scouts and Scout Executive Lex R. Lucas, for planting a living Christmas tree at Foothill Boulevard and Euclid avenue, near the statue, "The Madonna of the Trail," tomorrow morning, have been abandoned, it was learned today. The City Council is of the opinion the splendid view now obtained of the statue will be impaired by a large evergreen tree. This tree was purchased by funds raised from popular subscription. It will probably be planted later at a more favored spot with impressive ceremony.

HARDISON LEAVES FOR WASHINGTON MEETING

SANTA PAULA, Jan. 17.—Three vital questions of importance to agriculture in California will soon be decided at Washington and A. C. Hardison, member of the State Agricultural Board and the agricultural service committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce, left here this afternoon in the interests of the farmers of the State. The questions are Mexican labor, quarantine, and the Mediterranean fruit fly.

RELATIONSHIP RINGS TRUE

Father and Son, in Liquor Case, Each Plead That They May "Take Rap" for the Other

ALHAMBRA, Jan. 17.—Judge W. M. Northrup, in justice court today, was confronted with a liquor case in which a father and his son each wanted to "take the rap" for the other. The customary formality of the court was brushed aside while the judge studied the human angles of the peculiar situation. W. H. Barton of Santa Fe Springs was arrested December 17, last, by Deputy Sheriff MacLachlan on charges of possession and sale of five gallons of whisky. Testimony at the hearing today indicated that although Burton was guilty, his son, Harry Burton, had arranged for getting the liquor and selling it to a friend.

The son, it was disclosed, left his father to carry out the delivery and receive the money while he, the son, went away. In the meantime an officer appeared and secured delivery of the liquor. The elder Burton was then arrested.

Harry Burton took the stand in his father's defense and verified the latter's account of the transaction. He pleaded that he be allowed to take the punishment for his parent. The judge was willing, but the elder Burton was not. He insisted on shouldering the blame because he "was an older man and the sentence wouldn't make so much difference to him."

Judge Northrup finally found the father guilty as charged and fixed Saturday as the time for sentence.

BUTTER AND EGG MEN IN HARD LUCK

San Diego Market Prices for Products Drop While Feed Costs Go Soaring

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 17.—Butter and egg markets here have taken tremendous drops in prices the past few weeks. While consumers are gleeful, the producers are not so hopeful. In fact, the dairy and poultry interests of the entire southern part of the State are so alarmed that meetings are being held daily to reach some means of stemming the downward trend. Butter producers seem to be suffering more than egg producers. During the holiday period in December housewives of San Diego paid as high as 68 cents per pound for butter. Today the same butter is retailing at 48 cents. Some grades are selling as low as 42 cents.

San Diego county poultry raisers declare that at present market prices for eggs many soon will be bankrupt. This, they assert, is due to the high price of chicken feed. The prices for this feed not only are high, they say, but feed is scarce.

Bankers Hear of Farm Board Aim From Organizer

REDLANDS, Jan. 17.—George E. Farrand, attorney, spoke to a great group of the bankers of San Bernardino county at their monthly dinner at the Contemporary clubhouse today. F. Karl Grassle of this city, the secretary of the association, reported it was one of the best-attended meetings ever held, with more than 200 present.

Many prominent orange growers here attended the meeting and were interested in hearing Farrand tell of the formation of the Federal Farm Board, in which he assisted at the invitation of President Hoover.

Farrand said that the Farm Board is designed to help the farmer and the farmer only, that the help must be in such a manner, however, as to make the farmer independent and yet give him the assistance he needs when he needs it.

Volney Kincaid, president of the association, presided at the meeting.

Seven-Year-Old Boy Plaintiff in Damage Suit

ONTARIO, Jan. 17.—The "love, society, protection and support" of a husband and father is worth $75,000, according to a suit on file in Superior Court today in which a 7-year-old Los Angeles boy asks that amount from Wilbur Adams of this city.

The suit is the outgrowth of a fatal automobile crash at Vine avenue and J street, here, November 20, last, in which Silas H. Ratcliffe, father of Donald L. Ratcliffe, juvenile plaintiff, was killed.

Ratcliffe's car and one driven by Adams crashed at the intersection. In the suit negligence and excessive speed are charged against Adams. The suit is filed in Donald L. Ratcliffe's name, through his mother.

The suit says the plaintiffs have been deprived of the "love, society, protection and support of the husband and father." This is worth $75,000, the suit says.

Plans for New Hospital Told

LONG BEACH, Jan. 17.—Plans for erecting a new $750,000 hospital building at St. Mary's Hospital were outlined at a meeting of Catholic clergymen, officials and laymen at the Breakers Hotel. The Sisters of Charity of the Incarnate Word, who have operated the hospital since it was purchased several years ago, will contribute $400,000 toward the new building and $350,000 will be raised by popular subscription.

Bishop John J. Cantwell addressed the campaign committee and outlined the aims of the organization which is sponsoring the new building.

OLD INHABITANT SAYS CLIMATE UNCHANGED

NEWHALL, Jan. 17.—Commenting on the snow which fell here during the recent storm, Charlie Moore, an old inhabitant, says there was a big snowfall in 1882 and another in 1893. Auguste Ferrier also recalls the snow of 1893. Roy Clint, who has spent all of his life in this section, says he can remember various snowfalls, and that he has often driven in a sled between here and San Fernando city. "There is always somebody saying the climate is changing," Clint said today. "This is not true. Weather conditions now are just about the same as when I was a boy."

Coroner's Jury Clears Autoist

EL MONTE, Jan. 17.—A Coroner's jury today exonerated Thomas Olley of 2157 West Washington street, Los Angeles, in connection with the traffic accident Tuesday night which caused the death of Fred H. Lathrop, 58-year-old truck repairman, of El Monte. Olley's coupe, it was brought out at the inquest, ran into the rear of a truck behind a tow car, pinning Lathrop, who was inspecting the lights on the tow car, between the two vehicles. The tow car and truck were parked without lights, it was declared by witnesses.

The accident happened in semi-darkness and in a drizzling rain. The inquest was held at the mortuary of Addleman & Klingerman. Deputy Coroner J. P. Kane was in charge.

Ex-service Man Reported Gone

INGLEWOOD, Jan. 17.—Search is being made for Ralph Tessmer of 1135 Sixty-sixth street, this city, who may be wandering around as a victim of amnesia. According to Mrs. Tessmer, the husband left home Saturday, the 4th inst., to secure his pay check from the firm by whom he was employed, and also to purchase groceries. He has not been heard from or seen since that time.

Mrs. Tessmer states that Mr. Tessmer has had similar attacks before, which are attributed to a blow on the head several years ago. Tessmer is an ex-service man. Besides his wife, he has a 2-year-old son.

REDLANDS BUILDING AND LOAN ENDS YEAR

REDLANDS, Jan. 17.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Redlands Building Loan Association was held today. Lyman M. King was elected president with A. E. Ball and O. D. Reed serving as first and second vice-presidents, respectively. Other officers chosen were: John W. Miller, secretary; A. E. Brock, field secretary; Miss M. E. Dague, assistant secretary; W. T. Bill, treasurer; Martin Levering, attorney, and Walter Hartzell, attorney. No changes were made in the board which served last year, the same group being re-elected. The board of the holding corporation of the association, which held its annual meeting yesterday, also re-elected its board for another year. The new officers of the corporation are: O. D. Reed, president; Martin Levering, vice-president; A. E. Brock, secretary, and L. G. Levering, assistant secretary. The report of the secretary showed a favorable gain in both finances and depositors. A net gain of over $42,000 was reported, and the undivided profits of the association totaled $108,723.96, after salaries, expenses and interest were paid. The report also showed that the volume of business conducted by the association this past year was $5,645,864.80, or an increase of almost 16 per cent over the previous year. The assets of the association at the close of the year were $4,509,385.36.

WINGED ANTS MAKE LANDING

HUNTINGTON PARK, Jan. 17. Small swarms of insects made their appearance in various sections of the city yesterday afternoon, which caused many inquiries throughout the community. The insects were said to be a variety of "winged ants," and that they occasionally make their appearance in Southern California a few hours after heavy rainfalls such as the Southland has experienced in the last ten days.

WOMAN PLEADS FAMILY REASON

Size Must be Kept Down Due to High Cost of Living, Her Light Protest

GLENDALE, Jan. 17.—New light was shed today on the modern tendency to limit the size of the American family, when Mrs. Helen E. Berry, 1323 Echo Park avenue, Los Angeles, appeared to protest to city officials against the cost of ornamental lights that it is proposed to erect on Norton and Highland avenues. Mrs. Berry owns a lot in the assessment district.

"Living costs are being raised to such a height, especially by the assessments that are being levied on property owners," she declared, "that families must be kept down, and the large-size family is steadily going out of fashion."

The City Council, however, went ahead and ordered the installation of the light standards despite the propects of a shortage of voters in the next generation.

AIRPLANE ORDINANCE CASE HEARD

First Prosecution Under San Gabriel Measure Gets Dismissal; Evidence Fails

SAN GABRIEL, Jan. 17.—Lack of evidence brought about the dismissal in Police Court here today of the first case prosecuted under the city ordinance prohibiting airplane pilots from taking up passengers for hire without a permit from the City Council.

The case was dismissed on motion of Stanley N. Barnes, Los Angeles attorney, representing Dean Banks of Van Nuys, the defendant pilot. The dismissal motion was concurred in by H. S. Farrell, City Attorney.

Banks was arrested recently by local police on the Gardiner tract, near Del Mar avenue and Mission Drive.

The defense claimed that no facts were stated in the complaint that would constitute a public nuisance, that the City Council had no jurisdiction to regulate aircraft under the provision of the California Air Navigation Act, and that there was nothing in the complaint to show that Banks had engaged in the business of carrying passengers for pay.

Police Judge J. H. Smith in dismissing the case expressed the belief that the city ordinance did not conflict with the State law, and stated his opinion that the pilot could be held under an amended complaint.

County's Funds Bring Interest

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 17.—County funds earned interest amounting to $324,510.57 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929, it was pointed out today by Victor J. O'Connor, accountant, who has completed and filed an annual audit report dealing with all county offices and departments. The special auditor says this speaks well for the administration of county funds.

"It will be recalled that only a few years ago the interest earned in a year by the treasurer was between $25,000 and $30,000 only," O'Connor commented. "An increase of earned interest from $25,000 to $125,000 in a few years is worthy of note and is one of the means to reduce taxes."

O'Connor pointed out that the increase was made possible through legislation suggested by him and sponsored by the County Board of Supervisors, requiring prompt deposit of funds received by other county officials, with the treasurer. The result, O'Connor concludes, "shows what co-operation of county officials may accomplish."

CITY HALL SITE BROACHED

Santa Ana Municipal Officials Consider Property of School System on North Main Street

SANTA ANA, Jan. 17.—Plans are being considered by city officials here for the acquisition of the Frances E. Willard Junior High School site on North Main street as a City Hall and Civic Center, it became known today.

Several plans have been suggested but it is not expected that anything definite will be worked out on the matter until it is seen whether a proposed bond issue for a new junior high school is carried.

The school property is said to be valued at about $100,000 and comprises a property a block wide and nearly two blocks long. The site has long been inadequate for the school and the school board proposes to sell it and purchase a new site.

City Councilmen declared that the proposition had been under consideration for the past five years, but that previously the site was unobtainable. They declared themselves as willing to call a bond election for the purchase of the property and the construction of a new City Hall if the public so desired.

MOTHER'S VOICE INDEX

When mothers get tired and cross, and, of course, mothers do, their voices begin to rise and sharpen. They become querulous. "Oh, how can you be such a naughty boy and make so much work for mother? Didn't I just put on your coat and leggings and mittens and get you all ready for outdoors, and now you want to come in again?"

"Paul Foster! Put that bowl down this very minute. Don't you know better than to touch the bowl!" When baby, terrified by the tone of mother's voice, literally throws the bowl at the table in his agitation to get it put down mother sees in this only an example of a mean disposition.

There isn't a child alive who isn't instantly responsive to tones and the irritation so well expressed in them. He may be too young to understand that mother's provocation is keen. He doesn't know that she cleaned the cupboard this morning and that her back is aching furiously, or that she sat up until late at night putting the last stitch in the rompers he is to wear tomorrow. He only knows that her voice goes shivering through him like a discordant string twanged by harsh fingers. It makes him want to cry, to run away, to throw things around.

CHILD'S CRYING MAKES SITUATION MORE UNBEARABLE

If he cries, matters becomes worse. His crying pulls the strings even tighter and his mother loses all control. It isn't only the voice that shows her emotion, but the rough hands. She pinches when she picks him up, handles him as if he were insensate and unfeeling. She has lost her own sensitiveness because she is angry, her emotions confused.

Baby feels this. His mother's voice disturbs him so that he chokes on his food, frets and cries, is unable to sleep.

Older children know no better what to expect—they just know the storm is brewing. Things are all wrong. Their world is dark.

Calm down. If you can't control yourself, what can you expect of the children? The keen-eyed mother sees that her baby is upset when she speaks in a quick, angry voice. Some mothers have a particular tone just for their children—a weary tone, a whiny tone, that expresses how much they think they are doing for their family and how little they are getting in return.

"Oh, why are you so lazy?" This type of mother says to her young son. "Everybody in this neighborhood must say how untidy we are because of those papers blowing all over the yard. Why can't you get out and pick them up?"

Does that make him want to get out and pick up papers? Mercy no. What child cares what the neighbors think? Given a pointed stick and a basket and told to imitate the man in the street and park who prods papers and stuffs them in his bag, the child goes out with an example to emulate—busy, and happy to be busy.

Listen to your own voice. How easily children are controlled by a tone that arouses confidence in their mother's love and gentleness and reasonableness!

He told Timmy how he had discovered a broken branch hanging down over the corncrib from a maple tree and how he had used this to get into the corncrib. He told him how he had discovered that that branch had been cut off, and again he blamed Farmer Brown's Boy.

"I don't think he knew I was using that branch," said Chatterer. "I think he just happened to cut it off because it was hanging there. But anyway he stopped me from getting into that corncrib."

"That's too bad," said Timmy. "That certainly is too bad. I can guess how you must feel. I wish I could help you, Cousin Chatterer. I do so. Well, it is time I was doing some hunting before it gets any darker. Pleasant dreams, Cousin Chatterer, pleasant dreams."

With this, Timmy leaped from the branch on which he was sitting and sailed smoothly and easily down through the dusk as if he were coasting on the air. He landed on the foot of another tree and scampered up. Chatterer lost sight of him then and went down into his warm nest to dream of Farmer Brown's corncrib and of some way of getting the corn.

Bert E. Allen, husband of Mrs. Allen, arrested on charges of possession of two pints of liquor, was fined $100 with the option of spending ten days in jail when he pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge Curtis.

Deputy City Prosecutor Wells told Judge Bullock that the girls were subdued only after a battle with Police Officer L. C. McKinley and Rev. W. W. PLEA AIMED AT CEMENT PLANT PLAN

Wilshire Chamber Appeals to Mayor Porter for Veto of Proposed Industry

Resolutions opposing establishment of the proposed Bell cement plant in the Santa Monica Mountains, and asking Mayor Porter, as a civic duty, to veto the ordinance granting Bell's application to build such a plant, were adopted and sent to the Mayor yesterday by the board of directors of the Wilshire District Chamber of Commerce, following an address to the chamber by Arthur A. Weber.

Speakers at the chamber luncheon pointed to the vital interest which the Wilshire district has in the proper development of the residential area of the west and called attention to the fact that any development which would be likely to interfere with residential growth, would disturb the Wilshire District.

Other speakers called attention to the duty of the city of Los Angeles to keep its zoning promises, emphasizing the fact that the application to establish the Bell plant is "a definite threat against the integrity and enforceability of zoning," and expressed the hope that the officials charged with the zoning of the city "will have the integrity steadfastly to maintain and accomplish their plans."

TWO FACING FRAUD TRIAL DISMISSED

Motion to Throw Out Case of Four Others Accused in Land Deal to be Heard

Grand-theft charges against two of six men and women accused by Mrs. Adelaide Fleckenstein, Michigan widow, were dismissed yesterday by Municipal Judge Ballard at the conclusion of the State's testimony in preliminary hearing. George W. Densley and Mrs. Grace Remington were ordered freed.

Judge Ballard will rule on the 21st inst., on a motion to dismiss the case against the remaining four defendants, Bruno Du Bain, his wife, Mrs. Elaine Du Bain, Dr. Maurice Zimmerman and Gerard Remington. The charges against Densley were dismissed at the request of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Cooper, who told the court the State has no evidence connecting him with the asserted land fraud and desires to use him as a witness at the trial.

Mrs. Fleckenstein, during the hearing, testified she paid approximately $14,000 to the defendants in return for a deed to Arizona land which they represented as valuable. She later learned, she declared, that the deeds were worthless.

Shooting Scrape Ends Card Game

Accused of shooting a friend during a card game last night, Kenneth Soper, 3900 South Main street, was booked by Detective Lieutenant Mesa of Georgia-street division on charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder.

Clarence Duncan, 315½ East Thirty-sixth street, was shot in the knee, and was taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. There, he asserted that Soper shot him during a card game argument at Soper's home.

CHAIN STORE MAN AND PEDESTRIAN HELD UP

A bandit armed with a revolver last night held up H. E. Johnson, clerk in charge of a Clarence Saunders store at 3857 South Western avenue, robbed him of $150 and escaped. Two men last night "strong-armed" E. W. Goodner of 1351 Myrtle avenue as he was approaching his home. They robbed him of $15.

LODGEMEN CELEBRATE DOUBLE ANNIVERSARY

The 111th anniversary of founding of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the birthday of its founder, Thomas F. Wiley, were celebrated last night in Odd Fellows' Temple. Several hundred members of the order attended the program, marked by addresses by lodge officers and civic leaders.

JEWISH WOMEN END SESSION

Officers Installed and Magazine Policy Discussed; Film Studio to be Visited Today

Closing a successful convention yesterday at the hour that marks the beginning of the Jewish Sabbath, the delegates of the National Council of Jewish Women were in attendance after sundown in the various synagogues of the city. This noon they will be guests of Mrs. Louis B. Mayer at the M.-G.-M. studios in Culver City where 300 will be entertained at luncheon. The making of sound motion pictures will be demonstrated for them.

The closing session was marked by a ceremony when officers were installed as follows: Mrs. Joseph E. Friend of New Orleans, president; Mrs. Alvin L. Bauman of St. Louis, Mrs. Arthur Brin of Minneapolis and Mrs. Sidney M. Cone of Baltimore as vice-presidents. Mrs. Elise Eisenmann of New Orleans was installed as treasurer; Mrs. I. K. E. Prager of Boston as secretary, and Mrs. S. M. Blumauer of Portland as honorary vice-president.

MAGAZINE TEST PLANNED

After a rather stormy discussion as to whether the official magazine The Jewish Woman, Mrs. Estelle Sternberger of New York, editor, should be permitted to finance itself by the sale of advertising space and sending copies free to each of the 52,000 members, it was decided to try the experiment for one year.

Much time was consumed at the final session by completing unfinished business of the council, a defect in convention procedure which it is hoped to remedy before another triennial convention, according to Mrs. Friend, who stated that the bylaws now require too great a majority of members to be present before any action may be taken.

TOURS TOMORROW

Tomorrow those delegates who remain in the Southland will be guests at luncheon in Altadena after enjoying a motor-car excursion through the suburbs of Los Angeles and along the foothill boulevards.

Both San Diego and San Francisco through their councils have invited delegates to a series of affairs to last throughout next week. San Francisco has planned for a special convention program Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It is anticipated that 300 eastern delegates will avail themselves of this opportunity to enjoy a postlude of the Los Angeles convention.

OPERA TODAY'S RADIO FEATURE

'Girl of Golden West' Will be Heard Over KFI

Third of Puccini Series on N.B.C. Schedule

KHJ to Broadcast Music by Army Band

The Times Forum, KHJ, 10:30 a.m. will present Peggy Hamilton, fashion authority, and Ethel Jenks, dramatic soprano.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Of particular interest to the California audience should be the presentation of "The Girl of the Golden West," which is to come from KFI at 4 p.m. today. This undoubtedly will prove a highlight program of the day's broadcast from a national standpoint.

It will be the third of the Puccini radio premieres to be sent over the system of the National Broadcasting Company. The opera was produced first in New York at the Metropolitan Operahouse in December, 1910. Pasquale Amato, baritone, will take the role of Sheriff Jack Rance, just as he did nineteen years ago. Mme. Frances Alda, soprano, who recently resigned from the Metropolitan Opera Company for the Puccini series, will sing the role of Minnie. Mario Chamlee, tenor, will be heard as Dick Johnson, the outlaw. Gennaro Papi is to direct the production with a fifty-piece orchestra and chorus. The operalogue, written by Robert A. Simon, will be read by Alois Havrilla.

It is regretted that, owing to the three hours' difference in time between New York and Los Angeles, many western radio devotees cannot be off duty to hear this production.

WHERE TO TURN

KHJ at 8 a.m. will bring from the War College in Washington an hour of martial music by the United States Army Band under the direction of William J. Stannard. At 6 o'clock this evening a C.B.S. program will bring Bradford Browne, Chief Nit Wit, and his capable cast of little nit wits in "In Old Kentucky," a story about race horses and "sports." In addition, there will be songs by Mocha De Polka, the "sweet singer of sour songs." At 6:30 tonight listeners-in will be invited to sit "Around the Samovar" and listen to romantic and interesting tales and music of old Russia. A splendid program of Russian songs and music will be heard. At 8 this evening, the Hallelujah Quartet, Hank Howe's Southern Californians, the KHJ mixed chorus and the Sierra Symphonists will entertain with thirty minutes of varied light stuff. The negro quartet will feature "Waiting at the End of the Road" and "Wake up Chil'un." A new revue replacing the KHJ Merry Makers and featuring what KHJ considers to be its hits of the preceding week will go on the air at 9 tonight.

VARIED OFFERINGS

KECA will feature "Tales Never Told" at 10:15 tonight.

New Trial Plea in Baby Slaying Meets Denial

Appeal of Mrs. Josephine Valenti for a new trial on a charge of having slain her baby was denied yesterday by the Appellate Court in a decision written by Justice Thompson and concurred in by Justices Craig and Burnell.

Mrs. Valenti, who was sentenced to life imprisonment for killing her child by setting fire to a carriage in which it was sleeping, contended the trial court erred in conducting the case and in admitting certain evidence. The trial was before Superior Judge McComb.

It was held by the Appellate Court that the contentions are without merit.

TEA WILL HONOR VISITOR

To honor Miss Marion McCandless, alumnae secretary here from St. Mary's at Notre Dame, Ind., a tea will be given from 4 to 6 p.m. today in the Town House by the St. Mary's-Notre Dame Club. All members of the organization are bidden to the affair.

Brothers Held After Return of Eyeglasses

Their return of stolen eyeglasses yesterday led to the arrest of Ralph and John Petentler, respectively 19 and 17 years of age, on a charge of suspicion of grand theft. Detective Lieutenants McCready, Cle and Williams of the bunko squad reported the youths broke down under questioning after their arrest and confessed to a dozen recent purse-snatchings.

Mrs. B. Motley of 616 South St. Paul street was jostled on New Year's Eve at Sixth and St. Paul streets by two youths, who snatched her purse and escaped. The purse contained a small amount of money and a $40 pair of glasses. Mrs. Motley advertised a reward for the return of the glasses.

The two Petentlers called yesterday at a downtown store, where Mrs. Motley is employed, and presented her glasses for reward. A store detective detained the youths and called in the officers, who questioned and then arrested the brothers.
